School Ambulance Appreciated

The Claffin School in Newtonville recently received a letter from the driver of one of the Field Ambulances which were presented to the Army through the purchasing of War Savings Stamps and Bonds during a campaign conducted last February. The school children and teachers purchased $3,574.40, the cost of two field ambulances, and each one carried a plaque on the inside bearing the name of the School and City from which it came. The following letter from the driver will be of interest:

Jan. 21, 1945.
S-Sgt. John Haran, 31237981
Co. "A" 375 Med. Bn.
A.P.O. 451, Care Postmaster,
N. Y., N. Y.

Headmaster
Claffin School
Newtonville, Mass., U.S.A.

Dear Sir:

I suppose you are wondering who I am and why you are receiving a letter from overseas, well here goes. Two men of this company have been driving an ambulance for this medical collecting co. here in Belgium, and on the side of it there is a plaque saying that the war savings of your pupils purchased it, and donated it to the government for field service. It is a wonderful feeling to know that some of the War Bonds and Savings are put into equipment to save men's lives instead of destroying them. We received this ambulance in the early part of the month. We crossed the Channel in a LST boat and landed in France. Then we traveled through France to Belgium. The ambulance is now under combat conditions. If it was an individual it would be entitled to the Purple Heart. You can well be proud of it. I wish I could tell you exactly where we are, but under military censor it makes it impossible. The ambulance has been running day and night for about a month caring for the wounded no matter what nation they are. I am enclosing the names of the driver and assistant driver. Perhaps some of the pupils in the school would like to write to the boys. One is from Missouri, the other is from Calif. Myself, I am from Everett, Mass., just ten miles from the school. It sure made me mighty proud to see that plaque on the side saying it had come from a school in Massachusetts. You will have to excuse the grammar.

The names of the men are: Pfc. Elmer Michel, 37607824, Pvt. Tony Orlando, 39042480, Co. "A" 375 Med. Bn., A.P.O. 451, care of Postmaster, N. Y., N. Y. Wishing you and the pupils a Happy New Year from the men of Company "A."

Rally Opens Red Cross Drive

Newton Chapter's Quota is $170,000

Over five hundred workers attended an inspiring War Fund rally at the High School on Tuesday evening, February 27, launching the 1945 Red Cross War Fund campaign in Newton. Determined to meet Newton's quota of $170,000 in record time, the enthusiastic volunteers were told some of the highlights of the coming drive by the War Fund chairman, Charles B. Floyd.

He especially emphasized calling on every prospect in the house-to-house solicitation since a complete coverage will mean Newton "over the top."

Brief messages of welcome were made by Mayor Paul M. Goddard and by Charles Raymond Cabot, chairman of the Newton Chapter, who introduced Captain Richard Rogers, just returned on leave after serving with the Personal Service Corps in the Pacific theatre of operations.

Principal speaker of the evening was Charles E. Bailey of Newton Centre who is in this country after two years in the Middle East where he was director of Red Cross activities in that area. In charge of a territory larger than the United States, and with over 200 Red Cross workers in his division, he was well equipped to tell just how the National organization functions for the good of the armed forces and the homeless refugees of war-torn Europe. "It is the Chapter that makes Red Cross work with the men thousands of miles away from home possible," said Mr. Bailey. "and it is because of the Chapters just like Newton's, all over the United States, that Red Cross was chosen by the army as the agency to go with the men wherever they are sent." After telling of many instances which illustrated this, he ended by saying the army and navy needs the Red Cross and looks to it—it is up to you people at home to make it possible for us to carry on our work with your boys and girls in the armed forces.

Nearly 2,500 at Y.M.C.A. During Holiday Week

Winter activities at the Newton YMCA reached their peak during the week of February 22nd when there was a total attendance of 2,378 at the various functions of the "Y." This represents the highest attendance during the war years.

Outstanding during the week were the Open House events on February 22nd and the Camp Frank A. Day Reunion on February 23rd. Over 500 spectators and participants were present at the Open House and 180 parents and campers attended the Reunion. Another feature of the week was an event by the Newton Tri-Hi Club who sponsored a bridge to help raise funds for a scholarship for a deserving girl at Newton High School. The Club is endeavoring to make available $100.00 for this scholarship. Eighty mothers and daughters attended the bridge. Also during the week the Tri-Hi Club of Watertown had an induction ceremony at which time 8 new members were taken into the Club.

In addition to these special features there was a wide range of activities from the trip of 14 boys to the Franklin Park Zoo to meetings of the various planning committees of the "Y."

Saturdays at the "Y" are a very busy time with Church Basketball League games being one of the most popular events. Practically each Saturday during January and February there has been a swimming meet with either the junior or senior swimming teams, or both, participating. In addition to special events the attendance by boys at the regular gymnasium and swimming pool classes amounted to 464 during the week and the men's attendance was 538.

All through the war the facilities of the "Y" have been made available to service men. Over 2,000 took advantage of these facilities last year.

The many activities at the "Y" are made possible through the help of an increasing number of volunteers on the Boards and Committees. At the present time the "Y" has more than 200 such people actively working in various parts of the program.

Mrs. P. J. Duncan was appointed Corresponding Secretary to take the place of Mrs. Albert Staller, whose enforced absence is much regretted.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay announced, that of the more than 100 filled ambulances that were supplied to the Army by The Women's Clubs and Schools throughout the City of Newton, twenty-five have carried a plaque with the name of the organization which sponsored the project. Six of the ambulances have been heard from, including one sponsored by the Newton Community Club, and one from the Newton Centre Women's Club. The Federation went on record. (Continued on Page 2)

Stephen Butts Killed in India

Word that their son, Pfc. Stephen Merrick Butts, 22, of the Army Air Force, had been killed in an airplane crash in India on February 20, was received from the War Department on Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. F. Marsena Butts of 308 Franklin street, Newton.

Pfc. Butts was a graduate of the Newton High school and the Loomis School and had completed his sophomore year at Amherst College when he entered the service in 1943. He had been overseas for more than a year.

Besides his parents he leaves a twin brother, Lt. M. Parker Butts, pilot of a bomber in the European Theatre, an older brother, Staff Sgt. Frederick H. Butts, 2nd, who is with the Combat Engineers in France, and a sister, Miss Nancy Butts at Mills College, Oakland, California.

Lt. F. N. Riley Missing in Action

Lt. F. Norman Riley, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Riley of 173 Jackson road, Newton has been reported by the War Department as missing in action since January 11 when his plane failed to return from a reconnaissance mission over Mindanao in the Philippine Islands.

Lt. Riley was the pilot of a B-24 Liberator which had gone out to photograph enemy installations, and carried a full crew. Mr. and Mrs. Riley have received a letter from his commanding officer, Major J. Davis in which he expressed high praise for Lt. Riley who he said had "endeared himself to all" he came in contact with by his friendly nature and kindly acts. Major Davis pledged every effort to locate the missing flyer.

The last letter received from Lt. Riley by his parents was dated January 9, two days before he was reported as missing. Mr. and Mrs. Riley have been in correspondence with relatives of other members of the crew reported as missing.

An Open Letter to Mr. John Haughey

Mr. John Haughey, Street Department,
Newton City Hall.
Dear Mr. Haughey:

I have been wondering how we as Newton citizens might have helped out in the recent icy streets emergency. We know the Street Department had problems plenty—many of us complained bitterly about them to you and to our neighbors, but how many of us actually did anything except fire off a verbal barrage?

A well-trained and still loyal A.R.P. organization ready at hand in Newton, why not make use of the wardens and their assistants to function in an emergency that effects every street, if not every household, in the entire city. Why not have a warden made custodian of a sizable sand dump or barrel in each A.R.P. area or neighborhood (many an attic may still produce that pallid but there three years ago for another possible emergency.) Surely wardens who would dash out with hose and head-gear for the air raid siren would have been willing to lend a hand for a few minutes with sand sifting on their neighborhood icy streets and walks. Many car owners and pedestrians, who never had the thrill of putting out an incendiary blaze, might have found this job less thrilling but quite as rewarding.

If we could rally to the emergency of simulated air attack, surely we could, as neighbors and citizens, give our own friends a helping hand in a peacetime winter emergency.

Cordially yours,
Madeline W. Cobb.

Mothers' Club Fetes
Miss Richards

The Mothers' Club of the Rebecca Pomroy House entertained Miss Catherine Richards at a going away party on Monday evening. Miss Richards has entered the Army Nurse Corps and is leaving for Camp Devens very shortly for her basic training. Games were played during the evening. Mrs. Carl Aiello and Mrs. Frank Larrabee served refreshments and Mrs. Bella Norton, president of the Club, presented Miss Richards with the good wishes of the group and a practical gift.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Jackson Day Dinner

Learning from the radio section of the paper that the Jackson Day Dinner was causing a blackout of one of my favorite radio programs last Saturday evening, I decided to listen in and learn all about Andrew Jackson from the Democrats. I would be surprised to know that Mr. Jackson received scant attention. Judging from reports the following day, Congressman Curley was the only speaker who went out of his way to eulogize the distinguished former President. He really went to town. Furthermore, there are those who insist that James Michael Curley stole the show, even tho' Gov. Tobin and Senator David I. Walsh were billed as top speakers.

Of course, the entire atmosphere of the gathering was exceedingly jovial. After all, the Democrats have been deprived of their pie for six long, dreary years and it was only natural that they should pull out all the stops in the political organ and let joy reign supreme. The mere fact that it cost anywhere from $25.00 to $1,000.00 to reserve a seat for this great party appeared to have no dampening effect. It was truly a peoples' party, organized in typical democratic manner.

Your columnist's interest began to wane after the chairman of the evening and the chairman of the Democratic State Committee had finally finished their rather ponderous orations, which were doubtless ghost-written. What I wanted especially to hear was the speech by our senior Senator from Clinton, also the home of Congressman Philbin. (Just remember that, in the years to come). Of course, Senator Walsh poses quite a problem for his party. He is really a sort of sore thumb on the administration's hand. He failed to appear on the same platform at the big Boston rally last fall, tho' the papers did say that he rode on the train for some little distance with the Chief Executive. His ideas on foreign policy are most certainly not in accord with those of the administration; neither does he care for bureaucracy. He said so very flatly in the course of his carefully prepared address, which he unquestionably wrote himself. He said one or two other things which may have caused a little embarrassment to some of the party big-wigs. However, he gave a ringing endorsement of Gov. Tobin and pledged his hearty support from start to finish. That made me wonder what will happen if the senior Senator decides NOT to run for re-election a year from this fall. If he remains loyal to Gov. Tobin, he will support his candidacy. That will make Mr. Gov. Bradford a push-over for the top spot in November, 1946. Otherwise, there will be a battle of gladiators between Messrs. Tobin and Bradford.

Bradford.

Boston's Mayor

It develops that Mayor Kerrigan of Boston is not taken too seriously by many of the political big-shots in Boston. At the moment, most of the speculation indulged in centers about the battle-scarred frame of Congressman James M. Curley. Can he be beaten or can't he? Who is best fitted to take him into camp? A very large number of people believe that he will be elected this fall regardless of the opposition. Others feel that a really big man who is not primarily a politician can turn the trick. The point is to find such a man and then to persuade him to run.

Here is an idea now being discussed, chiefly among Republican leaders. Despite the non-partisan status of the election, why not draft a really big man like Henry L. Shattuck and put the full weight of the G.O.P. machine behind him? Many Democrats who cannot stand Curley would go for him and there would be many independent voters also. He might be beaten handily; on the other hand, it is perfectly possible that he might win, especially if half a dozen Democrats go at each other's throats in the course of the campaign. There is nothing to be lost by doing this. Furthermore, it is not smart for the G.O.P. to always help to build up some high-type Democrat in the Boston election and then learn to its sorrow that this same Democrat has grown to such stature that he can and will knock off the next Republican candidate for Governor. It might be helpful to ask Horace T. Cahill for his views about this problem. It is obvious that Gov. Tobin would not have been so strong last fall if the G.O.P. had not played such a big part in electing him Mayor of Boston when he first ran for that office.

Women's Division Furnish Ambulances By Sale Of Bonds

The Women's Division of the Newton War Finance Committee conducted a campaign in the Schools and Women's Clubs to furnish the Army with Field Ambulances for D-Day, through the purchasing of War Savings Stamps and Bonds. Over a hundred ambulances were supplied and of this number twenty-five carried a plaque on the side bearing the name of the School and the City from which it came.

Five of the ambulances have been heard from. The Oak Hill School in Newton Centre has heard from both of theirs, one was in England and the other in France. Sgt. George A. Olds, writer of the letter from France to the Oak Hill School is a Newton Centre boy. The Claflin School has heard from their ambulance in Belgium. The All Newton Music School's ambulance has been in active duty for some time and is now in Germany. The Newton Centre Woman's Club is the only Woman's Club to date that has heard from their ambulance driver some where in Germany.

This campaign is one of the most worthwhile objectives yet attempted, not only from the humane aspect, but from the building up of morale of the boys that come in contact with the ambulances. "It is a wonderful feeling to know that some of the War Bonds and Savings are put into equipment to save Men's lives instead of destroying them."

Rotary Club

Friday, February 23rd marked the 40th Anniversary of the founding of Rotary International, and our Newton Club was particularly honored in having as its speaker the General Secretary of Rotary International, Philip Lovejoy. The great number of Rotarians and prominent guests who were present was a testimonial to the popularity of Phil Lovejoy as well as to the importance of this Anniversary Meeting. Phil illustrated to us by means of numerous fine stories the many duties that a secretary of Rotary International is expected to fulfill, and he spoke to us on the ideal of Rotary Service as applied to the war problems. He gave us many splendid inspirations, and I am sure every Rotarian left with a desire and determination to do his part to make a greater effort to live up to and practice the Rotary ideals.

Easter Monday Bridge

It is with great pleasure that the Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y.M.C.A. announce their Annual Desert Bridge will take place on Easter Monday, April 2, as usual in the Y Auditorium at 1:30. Mrs. Arnold Barker has charge of dessert. Mrs. Benjamin Fawcett, prizes; Mrs. William Cass, chances; Mrs. Norman Needy, candy; Mrs. Helen Irving, tickets. The proceeds from this affair will be used to help War Prisoners, and to provide free Y membership for deserving boys.

Federation

as approving the principals of the O.P.A.'s suggestion of checking ceiling prices, but felt that the checking should be done by the individual purchaser.

Mr. Clarence R. Mase, General Secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. explained the need of a recreation center for high school pupils and told about the new canteen and recreation center to be opened in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville. The Canteen will be operated by the pupils themselves, in co-operation with adult leadership and will be open from 2:30 to 5:00 every afternoon.

A letter was read, thanking the Federation for the work done in response to the "Share your home with the Child Campaign," revealing that between one hundred and twenty and one hundred and thirty homes have responded to the appeal, due in no small measure to the personal efforts of Miss Ball.

An appeal was made for books, coffee, and foodstuffs, and wooden coat hangers for convoy ships. These articles may be left at your local library or sent to thirteen (13) Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

Notice was given of the change in date of the next executive board meeting which will take place March 19th, instead of March 26, as listed in the Club Calendar.

Methodist Men's Club Observes Ladies' Night

At the Ladies night meeting of the Newton Methodist Church Men's Club last Friday evening, Leland S. Bickford, war correspondent recently returned from the Pacific Area, told the audience of his experiences in the invasion of Saipan, and numerous other islands. Bickford said "The Japs are tough fighters, they have excellent equipment, and we will have to use every strategy and device at our command if we are to conquer them."

Mrs. M. B. Strauss, publicity director of the Newton Red Cross, gave a brief talk on the services which that organization is rendering to survivors and war prisoners. She showed samples of articles which the Red Cross is sending overseas.

The meeting was conducted by Francis L. Buswell, club president. Miss Grace Strum sang several selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bertha Hartzell. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

rection of Mrs. D. Allen Smith, chairman of the Events Committee. Representatives of each of the Community Chest agencies, when introduced by Mr. Wood, displayed large cardboard red feathers with the names of their agencies inscribed. They were greeted with enthusiastic applause from the audience.

It was noted that the total amount raised in the November Campaign by the Newton Community Chest was $339,150, which came from 19,600 contributors, and that Newton had a total of 2600 workers. Tribute was paid to Chairman Tom Shirley and all of his campaign assistants for the splendid results attained.

A Resolution, expressing deep regret of the organization on the death on December 30, 1944 of Leon B. Rogers, first president of the Chest, was read by Robert A. Whidden and adopted. Frank L. Richardson, the first treasurer of the Chest and an ardent supporter and worker since, was elected an honorary director after a glowing tribute had been paid to him by Merrill Hutchinson.

Directors elected for three-year terms were Mrs. John F. Brown, C. Raymond Cabot, Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, Harold B. Gores, E. Prentiss Jones, Mrs. George H. Larsen, Benjamin Levin, William B. Plummer, Kenneth W. Rogers, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, Clifford H. Walker, James C. Walton, and Clark E. Woodward.

pening" everywhere. "Twas a particularly tough day of an exceptionally rugged winter and it seems reasonable to suppose that those of you gentle who worked for a living before the war will know it wasn't a day's pay that lured the workers out that morning. Not, incidentally, that the efforts of the Home Front is to be compared with the job you're doing all over the world. However, your people at home are doing everything in their power to toss in and assist, so's to hasten your return home, and the reason for the above is, simply, that we thought you'd like to know about it.

Pvt. Bob Dalton writes that he met Doug MacLean in Italy. "Twas like a touch of old Newton," adds Dalton. Bob wants to engage a taxi for a week when he returns, so's to catch up on a little night life. Looks like he'll have to wait until the war's over, unless War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes rescinds his order calling for a midnight curfew on places of amusement such as night clubs, cocktail lounges, etc.

The order went into effect last Monday night for the purpose of saving the sinews of war, fuel, manpower and transportation facilities. Things have been very quiet even in Boston where the closing hour previously was 1 a. m. New York, San Francisco, Chicago and other large cities where there was practically no closing hour, previously, has been hit hard. 30,000 people, they say, will lose their jobs because of the new midnight deadline.

Letters...
Sgt. Bob Fitzgerald writes from the South Pacific that he received an interesting letter from a Newton Boy Scout, Graydon Murphy of Myrtle avenue. The Newton Scouts have been writing to men overseas and according to Bob's letter, their messages are welcome touches of the home town.

B.M. LeJohnny Pesciolillo's letter from California contains a longing for Newton, its snow and all. Sam (S.A.) Galliguri, according to a recent letter, has recovered from his wounds and is on the go again. He said that his tank outfit "spent" Christmas trying to get in to Bastogne and New Year's in there, wishing we were out." The girls speak French and German, he adds, so he's using the sign language. Sgt. Charles Walker, who parachuted from the famous "Ghost Plans" over Belgium on Thanksgiving Day, is now on a speaking tour. He has addressed audiences in St. Louis, Mo., Des Moines, Ia., and Kansas City, Mo.

Signs of the Times...
The Corner Cops, Tim Riley, Henry McDonough and Mike Connolly are swinging picks so's to break up the thick ice in Newton Corner. McDonough is the best pick man although Riley does all right with a shovel, and it would be a good idea, maybe, if all cops were to swing a pick for a couple of hours a day. It would steamline 'em.

MRS. E. L. NOLTING ON PHILIPPINES 'LIBERATED' LIST

A fancy diving exhibition was presented by Louis Visco and Al Evans, while Lowell Depper demonstrated the use of swimming fins. Norman Millard assisted Mr. Abbott in officiating.

Badminton exhibition games, including men and women and mixed doubles, were played by Ralph Congdon, Stanley Bowker, John Shields, Miss Grace McKinnon, Mrs. Evelyn Clark, Mrs. Walter Stewart and Mrs. Patricia Brady. Capt. Jack Murphy's volleyball team defeated a team captained by Col. Durward Breakfield, 2 to 0. Others on the winning team were Milton Motland, Dr. Leslie Russell, Charles Prentice, Sam Wright and Fred Engel. The losing team also included Larry Emmons, James Butler, Harold Shapiro, George Boule and Lincoln Alvord. In handball, the double team of R. Leonard and George MacLean defeated E. Cohen and E. Wealy, 21 to 20, and twice defeated E. Cohen and E. Ford, 21-14, and 21-12. Al Rogan and Arthur Jacobs played an exhibition squash game. A Newton "Y" vs. Waterbury Arsenal basketball game wound up the program.

Newton Merry-Go-Round

By Paul Considine

It's still storming in the Best Country On Earth, conspicuously this New England corner of it anyway, and judging by the skies, plus the weatherman's gloomy report, the natives will still be traveling via sleigh when they touch off those victorious July 4th bonfires next summer. The tough going, however, has done little in slowing down the efforts of our Garden City friends and neighbors who toil in the defense plants here. They're really been bearing down this winter in spite of the blizzards, rains and continuous ice storms. The gals, bless 'em, are out pounding the pavements in the dark every morn, sliding and slipping and tumbling their way to the scene of their various labors—and they really are laboring this winter.

The business of working for a living ceased to be fun a long time ago for most of them. This department meets 'em, talks with 'em and they're all in these grinding it out with just one purpose in mind—these days—victory, the ending of the war and marriage with some gent who's now in uniform—or, in the case of the married gals, the business of picking up the disrupted threads of married life, in the near future, is the one all consuming hope and ambition.

Example...
One of them for example, a 22 year old youngster from Bridgeport, Conn., hobbled toward the Raytheon bus one recent morning at 6 by the clock, nursing a sprained ankle. The worst ice storm in years was in full swing at the moment, and she'd fallen several times on her way to the bus terminal. A freezing rain had fallen all night, the streets, covered with glare ice, were in such a condition that the Boston El had called in its buses and trackless trolleys shortly after midnight. Bet this youngster, pale with the pain of her injured ankle, insisted on continuing her way to work. Her husband was overseas and she hadn't missed a day at work since the war started, she said, "and wouldn't feel right if I did."

That gives an idea. The first aid rooms in Newton's defense plants have been busy every hour of the day, every day of this winter, patching the cuts and bruises of those who've made it a point to get to their machines on the production line, regardless of what Old Man Winter tossed in the way. Last week, groups of five and six would band together, so's to form a kind of mutual aid society as they traveled over the wet glare ice and when one would slip, they'd all go down. Automobiles were out of control most of the time and accidents were "happening."

Gray Ladies Corps Celebrates Birthday

Marine Hospital Gray Ladies Corps of Newton Chapter, Red Cross is celebrating its third birthday this month. Mrs. Fred G. Stritzinger, 3rd has been chairman of the Corps since its inception. Six women, Mrs. Lawrence Dettl, Mrs. George Winchester, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. L. P. Handley, Mrs. Maurice E. Peters and Mrs. John Hennessey, agreed to assist Mrs. Stritzinger in this new venture. In three years the duties have increased in proportion. The members include sitting at reception desks, library work, craft work, admitting, aiding nurses and attendants, and many other services. The membership has grown from the original seven to sixty-nine.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
This has been an old fashioned winter. Snow and ice have been on our streets and sidewalks for many weeks. Driving has been hazardous, and walking in Newton certainly has been extremely perilous. The writer has been a resident of Newton for more than 50 years and had ample opportunities this winter to contrast public services in this city with those which residents of Newton enjoyed in past years. And what a contrast.

When the writer came to Newton as a youth, in the horse and buggy days, the majority of its residents, the so called "middle class" as well as the working class, used "shanks mare." Sidewalks in Newton were well plowed following each snow storm. In fact they were plowed while the snow was falling. Employees of the Street Department would be out at 8 a. m. to clear the sidewalks so that persons walking to trains and electric cars, or to their work locally, and children walking to schools, would not have to plow through snow.

There was a city ordinance compelling residents to shovel the snow from the sidewalks abutting their homes within 24 hours following the end of a snowstorm. This ordinance was enforced.

Promptly in the city each gutter plows cleared the space outside curbs so that melting snow would run into catch basins, and folks would not have to wade through foot-deep slush at crosswalks. Until recent years sidewalks in Newton were promptly sanded as soon as they became icy, and were resanded daily if necessary. Our streets were also promptly and properly sanded.

Things have changed. Sidewalks are only partly plowed, or not plowed, and plowing gutters is a thing of the past. Some sidewalks eventually are sanded, others are not. And there is a decided scarcity of sand even on our principal streets, and a complete absence of sand on most of our side streets.

To make bad matters worse, not so many years ago a retrogressive Board of Aldermen revoked the 60 year old ordinance which compelled abutters to clear snow off sidewalks. The reason given for their action was "because the ordinance worked a hardship on some." Well, its revocation has worked a hardship on a much larger number, as those who have used Newton sidewalks in recent years can testify.

It is hazardous for persons in the prime of life to walk on Newton sidewalks this winter and for several winters past. In fact it is almost impossible to walk on many sidewalks in this city unless one wears crampons and carries an Alpine stick. Older persons like myself find Newton sidewalks in winter-time during recent years so perilous to life and limb that they are compelled to walk out on the highways, facing perhaps the greater danger of skidding automobiles on unsanded streets.

Newtonians used to boast about the superiority of the public services in this city and compare them with the much inferior services in adjoining places. Those who have been using Newton sidewalks this winter bluish (and cuss) when they observe how much better Watertown, for example, has been sanding its sidewalks. And Brookline still maintains the same excellent public services for which it has been noted for generations.

Watertown and Brookline are just as much affected by the war and labor scarcity as is Newton, but they do not use this as an alibi in discriminating against pedestrians by neglecting to properly sand sidewalks, and keep cross walks walkable.

It is not only since the war started that the neglect of Newton's sidewalks during the winter has been apparent. It was on the increase in those years preceding the war when labor was plentiful.

It is about time that residents of this city who were (and their number has increased since the war started) organize to demand that their right for safer conditions be recognized by city officials.

Very truly yours,
Joseph P. Dargone.

MAYOR GODDARD PROCLAIMS MARCH RED CROSS MONTH

Mayor Paul M. Goddard today proclaimed March as "Red Cross Month" in Newton and appealed for support of the annual campaign for funds. His proclamation follows:

"The month of March has been designated as Red Cross month, and will be so observed throughout the nation. This organization is constantly increasing its great humanitarian service, and stands, ever ready, beside our service men wherever they may be.

"The Red Cross ministers to our men on the battlefield, and cares for their loved ones at home. The Red Cross helps our fighting men in their hour of greatest need. This work will be increasingly necessary until the war is completely won, and our support must be freely given.

"Newton's quota is $170,000, of which $37,000 will be reserved for the work of the Local Chapter in this city. The balance will be our contribution to the various War Services of the National Red Cross. Hundreds of Newton Citizens have volunteered their services for the month of March. Let us all help them with our dollars, and in this way save the men who are sacrificing for us."

INTERNATIONAL ROTARY TALK

The 40th anniversary of Rotary International was noted at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club yesterday with a talk by International General Secretary Philip Lovejoy at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

A native of Portland, Me., Mr. Lovejoy served in ever division of Rotary Headquarters in Chicago and was assistant general secretary for 12 years. He made a four-week trip to Great Britain last fall with Richard H. Wells, International president.

Last Saturday, February 24th, at three o'clock at the Somerville "Y" pool, the Newton teams will compete with the Somerville "Y" and Charlestown "Y" teams in a triangular meet.

MAYOR SUBMITS 1945 BUDGET

Mayor Paul M. Goddard submitted to the Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night a total city budget of $5,623,221.69. This figure is more than $100,000 below the total requests of city department heads, and is $200,000 under last year's appropriation.

The mayor has recommended that uniforms for members of the police and fire departments be furnished by the city and asked for an appropriation of $6350 for police uniforms and $6500 for fire department uniforms. This was the first time the recommendations have been made for the city to furnish uniforms for these two departments.

Increases in salary for some city employees including some department heads were recommended in the budget among which was an increase of $100 in the salary of the chief of the Fire Department. The increase in the salary of the chief of the Fire Department was $100 for the inspector of animals, $200 for increases in salary of two associate assessors, as well as increases for some clerks and other employees.

A request from the Health Department that the salary of the health officer be increased from $4000 to $4500 and another from the Library Department for an increase in the salary of the city librarian from $4200 to $4600 were vetoed by the mayor.

The largest cut in the budget was that of the Street Department, the request for $1,038,778 being reduced by Mayor Goddard to $893,548.

An appropriation of $40,000 for snow and ice removal was made by the board on Monday night. This is in addition to the $110,000 already appropriated. An appropriation of $14,700 for new equipment was made, this amount to be used for the purchase of new steam rollers to replace those recently sold to Brazil.

For listing assessed polls the board appropriated the sum of $4500 for the City Clerk's Department. Chairman Lockwood of the Finance Committee explained that the cost of the work is heavier this year because the state census is being taken at the same time.

The board authorized the acceptance of offers for city owned land from Helen E. Edgar, $2000 for a lot on Winchester street, Newton Highlands, and $750 from John L. Foley for a lot on Parmentier terrace.

An application of Mobeco, Inc., transmitted to the board by the State Department of Public Works for a permit to erect a bill board at Lexington street and Rumford avenue, was disapproved by the board.

The board authorized the retirement of George P. Maxey from the Fire Department and John Corrigan from the Street Department. The reappointment of Edward F. Dalton, member of the recreation commission for three years;

Dr. Roland A. Lombard, a member of the Registrars of Voters, for three years, submitted by Mayor Goddard, and another to the board for confirmation at the next meeting.

NEWTON WAR MOTHERS TAKE ACTIVE PART IN RED CROSS DRIVE

A Star in the window means a Red Cross worker in the home. That has been the experience of Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, chairman of the Newton Upper Falls Residential Division for the 1945 Red Cross War Fund, in her request for volunteers to conduct the month of March.

One such worker is Mrs. Mary Wiley Arbuckle with five sons in the armed forces. Mrs. Arbuckle says that the least she can do for her boys is to keep the Red Cross, with all its varied services, at their side. In addition to volunteering for War Fund service, Mrs. Arbuckle sews one day each week at the Red Cross workroom, and works with a Canteen Unit at the Boston Blood Donor Center.

Mrs. Harold C. Vlass is also planning to solicit for the War Fund. She is the mother of two boys in service, the eldest of whom is a prisoner in a German camp. Ever since her son was reported "missing in action," Mrs. Vlass has turned to Newton Red Cross Home Service for information and advice. By taking an active part in the War Fund drive, she feels that she can show in part her gratitude for all that Red Cross is doing for our prisoners-of-war.

Sports in a Nutshell

By Bill Sullivan

Newton High has played great basketball, having won 11 and lost 0 to lead the Suburban League. Ed Ryan, their six-foot center, has held his own with all comers. Teschner and Weinstock are rated excellent as guards while Bob Scanlon and Bill Hansen have done everything for Newton. The team is well balanced and will give a very good account of themselves in the coming play off series. Scanlon, Ryan and Hansen are consistent scorers and the team has the speed and passing ability which keeps the opponents playing defensively, trying to avoid allowing Newton to get their three man jump on them.

Somerville with 10 wins and no defeats, leads the Greater Boston League, and when these teams meet basketball fans should see a game staged between two great teams.

Newton finished fifth in the Greater Boston League going down to defeat 4-1 Saturday, Feb. 17. Rindge scored one in the first period, one in the second, and two in the final period. Newton scored their only goal in the first period, one in the second, and one in the final period. Cambridge Latin shut out Belmont 6-0 and Tony Frasco scored five goals and had two assists to become individual high scorer with 29 points to Kelley's 28. Stoneham came through to defeat Medford 4-2 and win the Greater Boston League title. Stoneham scored 1 in the first and second periods and 2 in the final period. Medford scored in the first and last periods.

Greater Boston's first team defeated Eastern Mass. League and Goals were scored in the first and second periods. Greater Boston second team defeated Bay State 7-3 scoring 3 goals in the first period, 1 in the second and 3 in the final period. Greater Boston was too much for Bay State. Di Blasio of Newton scored a goal at the start of the third period.

St. Sebastian came through Saturday to defeat Malden 2-1 and go into a tie with them for the Catholic League title. This was the first defeat since the league opened last season. McQuaid put Malden in the lead by scoring in the first period. Barry tied the game up by scoring toward the end of the same period. The tie held through the second period when Bob Murphy Jr. won the game for the Newton team and by slipping one passed Roache for the winning goal. Both teams have won nine and lost one and will be co-champions of the Catholic Hockey League. St. Sebastian scored 67 goals with 12 against them. Malden Catholic scored 47 goals with 11 against them.

Boston Bruins defeated the New York Rangers 6-1 at the Garden Saturday night. Dill Clapper put in one of his great shots scoring 4 goals and an assist for the evening's work. Clapper split the defense men, slipped through and fired a 12-foot shot for the first goal. Moe of the Rangers scored a goal which tied it up. Clapper then took a pass from Mario and scored which gave Boston a 2-1 lead. Mario scored the third goal on a pass from Smith and Clapper scored again on a pass from Mario. Bill Jennings scored on assists from Cowley and Cain then Cain scored on assists by Clapper and Cowley.

Montreal defeated Toronto 4-3 for the first time this season on Toronto ice, and Richard, one of Montreal's leading scorers, got his first goal of the year in Toronto which set a new goal scoring league record of 44 goals. The Rangers came right back to lick the Bruins 2-1 in New York Sunday night. Jack Mann scored his first goal in big-time hockey and Phil Watson came through with what proved to be the winning goal. Gino Rossini scored one for the Bruins late in the third period to avoid a shut-out. Ken McAuley returned to the Ranger net and played a spectacular game making 32 saves. The Red Wings beat Toronto 6-1. Chicago played a scoreless tie with the league leading Montreal team.

The Pies clinched their second consecutive Eastern Amateur Hockey League title by defeating the Baltimore Blades 3-2 in the Garden Sunday night. McGill scored the first goal for Boston Olympics unassisted in the first period. Brennan scored the second goal on an assist from Fillbin. Neither team scored in the second period, Rittinger made it 3-0 with an unassisted goal in the third period. Lubek scored the first goal for the Blades and Carlson the second in the third period.

The Rangers played a 4-4 tie with Toronto Saturday night to keep close to the Boston Bruins for the playoffs. New York scored two goals in the third period to get a tie and keep within 1 point of the Bruins. Detroit continued their winning streak over Chicago by beating them 4-2.

The best Boston could do was a tie game 4-4 with New York Sunday night, the Rangers started right out scoring 2 goals in the first period by Dill and Goudup tied 2-0. Bill Cowley scored late in this period on a pass from Egan. Jack McGill scored the first of his two goals in the second period on a pass from Egan to tie the score. New York made it 3-2 before the period ended. Shot another one in to tie it 3-3. Gaudreault shot our fourth goal to give Boston the lead 4-3 only to have Goudup shoot one in to make it 4-4 where it stayed.

The Bruins play eight more games, two with Detroit March 4th and 13th, two with Montreal March 8 and 10, and two with Chicago March 11 and 15. The Rangers have seven games to play, Chicago March 1 and 7, Toronto March 4 and 18, Detroit March 8, and Montreal 10 and 11—this is some race as to who will make the playoffs, Rangers or Bruins.

F. B. I. AGENT FALLON KIWANIS SPEAKER

Stressing the fact that there is nothing mysterious about the Federal Bureau of Investigation or its agents, George W. Fallon, special agent of the F. B. I., told of the bureau's contribution to the war effort at last Wednesday's noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club at the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Fallon informed his audience that on the orders of the President, the F. B. I., in the interest of national security, began the regulation of employment and travel of aliens. This alien control had its beginning on September 6, 1939, resulting in the fingerprinting, etc., of all aliens and the investigation of suspicious aliens, some of whom were known to be definitely sympathetic to the Axis Powers. An Alien Hearing Board decided on the sentences, internment and the parole of all brought in via the F. B. I.'s nationwide dragnet, he added.

The first case of treason to be brought before the courts since the infamy of Benedict Arnold, Fallon said, occurred as the result of Nazi Lieutenant Hans Krug's escape from a Canadian Prisoner of War Camp on April 15, 1942. Shot down over the English Channel, Krug was brought to Canada from which point he made his escape to a member of a German American woman in Detroit. From there he was taken in hand by a saloonkeeper, Max Steffin, in whose back room members of the German Bund formerly practised goosestepping in their Fuehrer's honor.

Steffin gave Krug money and clothes, sending him on his way to the Mexican Border, where Krug was captured by the police and F. B. I. Fallon continued. Brought back, Krug's testimony convicted Steffin and the Detroit woman of treason. The woman was given a jail sentence, while Steffin, sentenced to hang, had his sentence commuted to life by President Roosevelt.

Jim Riggs reported the Sea Scouts, sponsored by Kiwanis, are building up a membership and their quarters in the Upper Falls is now heated. The attendance prize will be doubled next week. Pete Pettigill introduced a new song in honor of President Ben Lewis. The highly popular "closed meeting" for Kiwanis of the Newton Club will be held next Wednesday.

COURSE PLANNED FOR RED CROSS STAFF ASSISTANTS

Mrs. Leo E. Conannon, chairman staff assistance, Newton Chapter Red Cross, announces the completion of a training course for staff assistants.

The following have taken the examination and will become eligible for certificates: Mrs. Kenneth D. Amidon, Mrs. Alfred Bevan, Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, Mrs. Russell Burnett, Mrs. Abraham B. Casson, Mrs. Leroy P. Collins, Jr., Mrs. William T. Coveney, Mrs. Herbert Robbins, Mrs. P. L. Handy, Mrs. Louis Hunter, Mrs. John W. Kinnevan, Mrs. Arthur E. Marden, Mrs. Harry F. Morse, Mrs. John B. Dupont, Mrs. John I. Heibek and Mrs. Everett H. Potter.

RUBBISH, CARBAGE COLLECTION LISTING BRINGS COMPLAINTS

The disruption in rubbish and garbage collection resulting from the recent snowstorm has resulted in complaints from hundreds of residents and the complaints are still coming into City Hall despite the resumption of service this week.

Many residents were peeved because the schedule was resumed as if there had been no interruption in service. The disgruntled householders contended that this method was unfair because in many instances those who were skipped because of the storm had to wait until their turns came around again. In that way, they asserted, some residents had no interruption in service, while they had to wait twice the regular period. The rubbish collections in Newton under normal conditions are made at each home once every two weeks.

HIS JOB IS TO WIN THIS WAR... IT'S YOUR JOB TOO!

Are you giving it all you have? Are you putting in every possible minute that you can? And are you sticking to that war job of yours? If you are you can honestly say that you are doing what he expects you will do to help win eventual victory. The man in the field doesn't like his job. He doesn't like to spend long nights in fox holes in the heat and dust and filth of some south sea island. And he doesn't relish the idea of being a constant target for bombs, machine guns and hand grenades. Yet that is his job, and he's doing it!

★ On the other hand you have a job to do too. But in far different surroundings, with good working conditions, and no fear of being bombed or blasted from your job by enemy fire any minute of the day or night. That part of the Victory battle coincides with his end of the job, so remember you stick to your job and he'll stick to his.

WARTIME TRANSIT RIDERS' CREED

To the Public:

Buses and street cars are over-burdened as never before. A crisis is here. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads as more autos are scrapped. Only if YOU cooperate with your local transit company, will buses and cars be able to do the job. When you MUST travel locally, let this be your creed:—

1. DO NOT RIDE IN RUSH HOURS, except to and from your job.
2. HAVE YOUR EXACT FARE READY. It saves time and fuss.
3. MOVE BACK BEFORE THE DRIVER ASKS. It speeds your ride and helps your neighbor.
4. RIDE RAIL CARS INSTEAD OF BUSES when possible. It saves gas and tires.
5. REQUEST STAGGERING OF YOUR WORKING HOURS. Your buses and street cars can then make more trips for workers.
6. WALK if you possibly can—for the shorter distances.
7. KEEP YOUR AUTO WORKING. Form a ride-sharing group. It helps relieve the load on street cars and buses.

Finally, don't expect comfort or convenience. It just isn't possible. But this simple creed will work wonders. Let's help ourselves!

The above official statement from the Office of Defense Transportation is herewith called to the attention of the riding public in this critical area.

YOUR HOME

We depend upon the floor covering of the floor itself to give a foundation for the color scheme of the room.

If you have painted floors and think that dark colors are your only answer you owe it to yourself to try something strikingly different. Many a room is effectively completed by a colored floor.

Here are a few suggestions that may appeal to you or give you ideas of your own:

1. pale blue floor with beige colored rug.
2. salmon floor with white fur rug.
3. white floor with blue green rug.

In choosing the color for your floor try to be elegant and light-hearted.

Then most of us have the more popular hardwood floors. In this case we should try to avoid the natural color or just shellac and wax. The color in itself is disagreeable and conflicts with most color schemes. Have the floors stained a neutral brown not one that is tinged with red or with a greenish cast. Or you can choose the ultra modern style of having your floor bleached a creamy white.

Your stained floor would achieve a mellow decorative background for your furnishings.

THE YANKEE KITCHEN

with Ken and Carolyn

We start out a new week with two new sponsors. One of them is a joint pleasure—both Ken and Carolyn are delighted to have the chance to talk about coffee. Coffee is practically the American national beverage, symbolic of warmth of home and hospitality. And we feel it is only right that we all remember that our South American good neighbors came through lavishly with coffee for us when our East Indian supply was cut off.

The other new sponsor has Ken slightly on the ropes but it makes Carolyn jubilant. It's Lucien Le-long Face Powder which she adores for its fineness, softness, beautiful shades and beautiful crystal container. However, Ken accepts this feminine product manfully because he has to admit that it certainly flatters the ladies.

And Ken has to admit that he shops around too, checking up on our Yankee Kitchen products. He found Mrs. Parker selling Maggi's Bouillon Cubes with both hands when he visited the housewares department on the fourth floor at Jordan Marsh's annex, and advises everybody who gets tired while shopping, to drop up and see her and have a cup of that good bouillon which she makes for you on the spot. Of course, you'll be so sold on Maggi's Bouillon Cubes that you'll find yourself buying sticks of them to tuck in overseas packages and a good big jar of them to use at home. But we both think that's a good thing.

Many of our listeners have been interested in our fat-saving baked onion rings—even simpler than deep fried. Slice your onions about 1-4 inch thick and separate them into rings without breaking them. Mix a cup of fine dry crumbs with 1-2 teaspoon of salt, 1-4 teaspoon of poultry seasoning and a dash of cayenne. Add 4 tablespoons of Dixie Margarine or Swift's Bland Lard to the crumb mixture and mix well. Dip onion rings in the crumbs, arrange them on a cookie sheet, sprinkling left over crumbs over the rings. Bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes.

This simple little trick has the full approval of our guest, Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Chase, now of Boston and formerly of Newton. Mrs. Chase takes her job of home maker seriously and with pleasure. She has written a book of recipes called "Thoughts on Food" which she had printed in Newton and has sold copies of it all over the world. Mrs. Chase particularly delights in little tricks in cooking and brings up the old chef's trick for frying eggs. Add a little water to the frying pan, cover it and the steam will coat the eggs and cook the white gently.

Before we knew that the Eastern Dog Show was to be cancelled, we were all set to go and admire the dogs, meet old friends and even turn our hands to any help we might be able to give. We started getting ourselves in the mood by inviting Bert Turnquist of Topsfield, Mass., to be our guest the day before the show was to open. Bert is the man who set up the methods for training all war dogs for the Army, Coast Guard and Marines. He gave us some high lights on how these dogs are trained (kindness and understanding is his method) and we felt pleased when he told us that any dog who got homesick after a fair time as a G.I., got sent home where he wanted to be. And Bert surprised us when he told us that farm collies were among the finest of all war dogs, these heroic fighters who often have given their lives to save the lives of men. Another point of pride for all of us who love dogs.

Don Ameche admits without shame that he is a food fiend and gives us his recipe for shrimp which we join in recommending.

Melt 2 tablespoons of margarine in a frying pan and add half a grated onion. Now add half a cup of cooked rice and season to taste. Add 1-2 cup of cream and a tablespoon of tomato ketchup. Then add two pints of shrimps. Stir till very hot, simmer for five minutes and serve on toast. This would make a good dish and would fit in well to a buffet supper.

We feel pretty good that one of our friends has written a book because we talked him into it. The book is "Biography in Black" and is the story of a cat. This is not a child's book but a book for all who love independent and lovable cats and respect them. We hope you like Potters book—and it you don't get a lump in your throat when you read his prayer for Kitty at the end of the page, you're less sentimental than we are!

Twice this week, we have been visited by troops of Girl Scouts who came in to see a broad cast. First came a troop of Rockland Girl Scouts, the girls who have collected so many old spectacle frames for us to send to Eyes for the Needy. Bright-faced youngsters, quiet as mice and pretty as pictures. We discovered that they were all Paper Troopers and that many of them have collected large amounts of waste paper. Next day, some Rosindale Girl Scouts came to see us—another fine group of girls—who are also collecting and salvaging paper. These youngsters know how vital paper is to the war effort and are working like Trojans. They like our slogan, "It isn't waste paper unless you waste it!" and we wish every one of us grown-ups were as conscientious as these alert youngsters.

If you want to find somebody who can eat anything, any time, find a Marine. Recently returned from the Pacific like Bill Davis' son, Bill lets us in on a Marine's secret. Know how they get that knife-edge crease in their pants? Turn the trousers inside out, rub the inside of the crease with candle grease, then press the trousers as usual. A Marine's other occupation while on furlough, according to Bill, is shining his shoes. This all brings to mind a letter we received from a young Army wife who is living in New England. She writes that she is very lonely and the Yankee Kitchen is the only friend she has here. We are glad to be neighbors with her but we feel pretty sad that a girl has to depend on a radio broadcast for companionship. We appeal to all young wives and to older women too, to be neighborly with these girls who are living with us for a while. We mustn't get too busy to be neighborly.

People are so neighborly with us that it makes us feel guilty. You ask us about our children and we report at intervals on them because like everybody else, we like to talk about our own.

David, Carolyn's son, is nine years old and getting over whooping cough. He has brown hair, eyes and freckles and scratches and cuts all over his knees. He wants to be a Marine or a pirate, he collects bugs and is learning to be a good cook and he admires his Uncle Ken greatly. David loves babies but hates arithmetic and dislikes girls but he buys perfume for his mother and gives it to her with stars in his eyes.

Karen, Ken's daughter, is two and a half, firm and chubby, with silky brown hair and eloquent brown eyes. She feels frustrated when she isn't allowed to curvy decorations on the walls—Daddy paints pictures—why shouldn't she? Karen loves starched new dresses, babies, onion soup and Mummy's cosmetics and her latest escapade into Mommy's powder box and liberally dusting herself with nice smell. Now, Ken knows from experience that Lelong face powder clings and that you could smell "Karen's charm" all over the house.

Prisoners of War Praise Red Cross

"Forty-eight Newton men are known prisoners of war," said Miss Ethel M. Knight, Executive Secretary for Home Service, Newton Chapter Red Cross, "and many of them are in German prison camps and wounded. The Red Cross is at their side, lessening the pain of those who are ill, easing the mental anguish of each man, and supplementing the starvation diet with food parcels."

Letters have been received from these men in prison camps. They are filled with optimism and most all contain a word of gratitude to Red Cross.

1st-Sgt. Leroy Coleman, 48 Avon place, Newton, is a prisoner at Stalag 111C, Germany. He writes, "Here it is the day after Christmas and I am just fine. Almost every room had a party in it last night. We had music and stayed up most of the night. The Red Cross sent up parcels with turkey, plum pudding and everything that goes with it. They sure are a wonderful organization."

Lt. Santo F. Caruso, bombardier, 318 River street, West Newton, is a prisoner at Stalag Luft 111, Germany. Lt. Caruso is a graduate of Newton High School, the Bentley School of Accounting, and entered the service in February 1943. In the first letter from the prison camps he writes to his parents, "Before writing anything else I want to assure you that I am fine and I certainly hope that you too are in good health. When I bailed out of the plane my first thought was how you would feel in receiving that first telegram. By now you have received the second and my only desire is that you did not take it too hard. The food situation in camp is pretty good—thanks to the Red Cross. By contacting the Red Cross you may send parcels which will be greatly appreciated. See the Red Cross about sending personal parcels, they will be more than glad to be of help." Lt. Caruso writes in a later letter, "It is almost two months now since it happened, and I can still say that I am fine. We live mostly on Red Cross parcels and cook our own food. We have a library in camp, which is greatly appreciated. However, don't hesitate to send a parcel of books containing a few best sellers."

"Red Cross Home Service," continues Miss Knight, "is the link between service men and their families. The specially trained representatives are ready to handle all kinds of problems. Their job is to advise, to encourage and to aid the service man and his family."

One of the most important activities carried on at the Chapter House to benefit by the 1945 Red Cross War Fund is Home Service.

It's the waiting that gets you down. It's the long days, and the longer nights, when you lie there thinking... will you ever get home again?... why don't they write more often... did Dad ever get over that heart trouble... is your best girl still waiting... will you ever get a job again...

Sometimes, when the mail is slow, you get to imagining things. Black, terrible things that begin to seem real. And then, something saves you.

Like the day the Red Cross field man got a rush cable report from home, telling you your Dad was getting well.

And the time some Red Cross girls came up in a jeep, handing out doughnuts and coffee and million-dollar American smiles. And you all started to laugh and kid, the way you used to at home.

There was the time you wanted to forget it was Christmas. And the Red Cross girl at the club made you trim a palm leaf Christmas tree, and you all had presents and sang the old carols, out there in the hot tropic night.

Maybe it doesn't sound like much. The Red Cross does a lot of bigger things... such as collecting blood plasma for the wounded... sending food packages to prisoners of war... clothes for bombed-out kids.

But to us, home seems just a little nearer, because your Red Cross is with us.

Americans: To keep at the side of your fighting men, your Red Cross must have funds. Contributions from you are the only source of income. Millions of our men are still far from home. They need your Red Cross... they must have it.

USS. HANSON NAMED FOR LATE NEWTON MARINE LIEUTENANT

Stations for Russian War Relief Opened

A meeting and tea for the chairman of Russian War Relief committees from all the Newtons was held recently at the Massachusetts headquarters in Boston. Mrs. John Coffin, organizer of these committees, introduced the Rev. Ernest Morris, Newton chairman, who spoke on the intangible as well as practical benefit of the aid sent to the Russian civilian in this time of their great need.

Russian War Relief has opened the following stations where used clothing may be left in the Newtons:

Auburndale: Trinity Episcopal Church, 1097 Center street, Mrs. Alvah C. Cummings' home at 447 Center street.

West Newton: Second Congregational Church, 60 Highland street.

Waban: Fyfe Block, 276 Woodard street.

Newton Center: Temple Emanuel, Ward street.

All kinds of clothing in good condition are urgently needed and are shipped to Russia in Russian boats several times a month. High-quality foods such as cocoa, canned milk, raisins, etc., are also urgently needed and watches for the doctors and nurses for use in the hospitals.

Mr. Carter, president of Russian War Relief in the United States, reported after a recent trip through Russia that the need for our aid is limitless and that there is widespread gratitude for our understanding and assistance.

Lt.-Col. Kirk, Patient At Cushing Hospital

Honoring the late First Lieutenant Robert Murray Hanson, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, of Newtonville, the destroyer USS Hanson will be launched at 11:30 Sunday forenoon, March 11, at the Bath Iron Works Corporation, Bath, Maine.

Lieutenant Hanson was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor, highest American military decoration, for "gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty" when, as a fighter pilot, he attacked six enemy torpedo bombers on November 1, 1943, over Bougainville Island, and then he brought down four Japanese Zeros while fighting them alone on January 24, 1944, over New Britain Island. He was killed in action on February 3, 1944, when his plane crashed into the sea while on an escort mission over Rabaul, New Britain.

The son of the Reverend and Mrs. Harry A. Hanson, of 31 Brooks avenue, Newtonville, Lieutenant Hanson also was awarded the Navy Cross and the Air Medal for his daring exploits as a Marine Corps fighter plane pilot. His mother, who was present at the Medal of Honor at public ceremony on Boston Common last fall, will carry the destroyer which will carry her son's name back into battle.

Lieutenant Hanson was born in Lucknow, India, on February 4, 1920, when his parents were serving there as Methodist missionaries. At an early age Lieutenant Hanson came to the United States. After attending junior high school at Newtonville, he returned to India and subsequently became light-heavyweight and a heavy-weight wrestling champion of the United Provinces.

He was attending Hamline University at St. Paul, Minnesota, at the time of Pearl Harbor, and the following May he enlisted for navy flight training. He won his wings and a Marine Corps commission as Second Lieutenant at Corpus Christi, Texas, on February 19, 1943. In May, 1943, he went overseas, and in July, joined the First Marine Aircraft Wing. He was promoted to First Lieutenant on September 1, 1943.

Lieutenant Hanson was a member of the renowned Fighting Corsairs Squadron, is credited with bringing down twenty-five enemy Japanese planes—twenty of which he shot down in six consecutive flying days.

Your Blood Fights With Our Men

"For the month of February Blood Donor registration through the chapter total three hundred twenty-five," states Mrs. C. Terry Collins, chairman Blood Donor Committee, Newton Red Cross.

In addition we have had new callon club members, Mrs. Harry E. Moore, Mr. B. F. Louis, Mr. Winslow R. Howland and Mr. F. Payson LeBaron.

A letter from Pfc. Frederick Lindberg, Infantryman, Luzon, and the son of Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Newtonville, shows how important it is to keep up the work of the Centre. Your Newton boys may be the boys who need the blood. Pfc. Murphy writes to his mother—"You hadn't told me about giving a pint of blood every eight weeks. It's a great thing and I only hope people realize the importance of it back there. Without it we'd be lost. I've seen it save the life of many of the boys with me and know just how much it means."

Scouts to Hold Exhibition

Plans are underway for the Norumbega Scouting Exposition of 1945, to be held in the auditorium and gymnasium of the Newton Senior High School, 417 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 7, 1945, from 1:30 p. m. to 10:00 p. m.

The Exposition will be open to the public. Tickets are being sold throughout the community by Cub Scouts and Scouts.

The General Chairman of the 1945 Exposition Committee is William V. M. Fawcett. Other members of the expanding committee are:

Vice chairman, F. Brittain Kennedy; Vice chairman in charge of public relations, Arthur Wolf; Vice chairman in charge of Scout contacts, Samuel Allison; Promotion, Frank Dowgett; Scout assistants, Harold Amidon; Ticket offices where seals are sold and funds received have been established throughout the community by the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company in Newton Centre.

"The services are both direct and indirect," Mr. Trowbridge pointed out. "They may include medical advice and assistance. Every crippled person, regardless of age, sex, or creed may apply to the Society for assistance in meeting their particular problems."

"Although we plan to work directly with the individual we shall seek to cooperate with existing institutions and agencies," Mr. Trowbridge continued. "The program of correcting the physical defects of handicapped youth fits admirably well into the overall plans for improving America's physical fitness; we can all do our part to support his splendid movement by buying Easter seals and using them on our stationery."

When his mind wasn't on the mission he was flying from a bomber base in England, perhaps he was thinking of the hours he would spend with the lady of his choice, Marjorie Snow, 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Snow of Hinchey road, Waban.

However, the Lieutenant came home and found Marjorie quarantined with Scarlet Fever, so he is still doing his visiting by mail, and it looks as if his leave will add up to a total loss as far as Marjorie is concerned. As the French say "C'est la guerre."

Eight women have completed the new short Red Cross Home Nursing course "Six Lessons in the Care of the Sick," and received certificates—Mrs. Arthur S. Scipione, Mrs. Alan J. Young, Mrs. Frank P. Crowe, Miss Alice T. Smith, and Mrs. Daniel Marcus.

Mrs. Robert F. Cordingley, Mrs. Walter G. Garritt and Mrs. Harold G. Jenks.

Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, chairman, Home Nursing for Newton Red Cross, announces that this shortened course is given approximately every three weeks and registration may be made by calling LASell 6000.

Next Saturday, March 10th, the Newton YMCA Junior and Midsize swimming teams are taking part in the Massachusetts-Rhode Island YMCA Swimming Meet to be held at the Boston YMCA, 316 Huntington avenue. The meet is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m. and will include the usual swimming and diving events. The "Y" swimming coach, Mr. Abbott, reports that the twenty boys from Newton "Y" are entered in this important meet.

Norman J. Padelford, special consultant to the State Department and a former member of the American Staff at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference will speak on "Can Dumbarton Oaks Win the Peace?" on Friday, March 16, at 8 p. m. at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton under the co-sponsorship of the Newton League of Women Voters and the Church. The speaker has recently come to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as Professor of International Relations and his background of experience makes him well qualified to speak with authority on this vital subject.

Because of the unusual significance of the topic and Dr. Padelford's close association with recent negotiations, the League of Women Voters has decided to open the meeting to the public without charge as part of its campaign for a United Nations organization. The question period which follows the lecture should afford the opportunity to form an honest, intelligent opinion on this vital subject.

Mrs. H. C. Bronsdon of 42 Park street is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Ushers, under the direction of Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell, include Mrs. Charlotte Richards, Mrs. Alton Pope, Mrs. William K. Wells, Mrs. Douglas Francis, Mrs. Thomas Shirley, Mrs. Mark Lessee, Mrs. Willard Rice, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Miss Madeline Cobb, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. Stranbrough Fernald, Mrs. William R. Mattson and Mrs. J. Harold Kavanagh.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lester Moriarty of 316 River street, West Newton observed their 53rd wedding anniversary on Thursday, March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Moriarty, the former Jennie A. Quilty, were married in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton by the Rev. Lawrence J. O'Toole.

Mr. Moriarty retired in 1939 after 35 years of service in the Newton Forestry Department. He is legislative agent of the Newton City Employees Local No. 175, Federation of State, City and Town Employees, a former president of that organization, and served for 24 years as president of the Newton Local. He has been a member of the Newton License Commission since it was formed 12 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Moriarty have one daughter, Mrs. Etta Haverty of 114 Tolman street, West Newton, and four grandchildren, one of whom, Sgt. Joseph A. Haverty is with the U. S. Army Air Force, stationed in Canada, and another grandson, Staff Sgt. Robert L. Haverty, aerial gunner with the Army Air Forces, has been reported as missing in action in Italy on December 2.

NEWTON RED CROSS WAR FUND OFF TO GOOD START

Dalton Renamed To Recreation Commission

An additional sum of $2,500 as requested by Mayor Paul M. Goddard for "necessities in times of distress" was appropriated by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night. About a month ago the sum of $3,000 was appropriated by the board for this purpose.

The Newton Street Department under the direction of the Emergency Fuel Committee has purchased a large supply of coal which has been stored in city yards and from this supply emergency deliveries in amounts sufficient to tide them over are being made to residents whose supply has become exhausted during the current emergency and who have not been able to obtain deliveries from dealers. The additional funds appropriated by the board on Monday night are for financing delivery of this coal where such emergency may arise.

The Board also appropriated $210 as recommended by the Mayor for the purchase of an electrically operated tape adding machine for the Water Department.

The re-appointment of Edward F. Dalton as a member of the Recreation Commission for a term of three years from March 5 was confirmed by the board, also the reappointment of Dr. Roland A. Lombard as Inspector of Animals for a term of one year from April 1 and of William J. Doherty to the Board of Registrars of Voters for a term of three years from April 1.

Hearings were held on petitions of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company to condemn underground cables and conduits in various parts of the city.

To correct a slight clerical error in the budget figures submitted at the preceding meeting an appropriation was recommended by the Mayor of $2 for clerical assistance in the Accounting Department, thereby increasing the total recommendations from $5,623,221.60 to $5,623,223.60.

A special meeting will be held by the Board on Monday evening, March 12, for consideration of the budget.

Quarantine Mars Leave

Lt. Richard Buswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Buswell of Kendrick street, Newton, who arrived home on leave last week, probably now wishes that it had been postponed a month.

When his mind wasn't on the mission he was flying from a bomber base in England, perhaps he was thinking of the hours he would spend with the lady of his choice, Marjorie Snow, 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Snow of Hinchey road, Waban.

Home Nursing Certificates Given

Eight women have completed the new short Red Cross Home Nursing course "Six Lessons in the Care of the Sick," and received certificates—Mrs. Arthur S. Scipione, Mrs. Alan J. Young, Mrs. Frank P. Crowe, Miss Alice T. Smith, and Mrs. Daniel Marcus.

Mrs. Robert F. Cordingley, Mrs. Walter G. Garritt and Mrs. Harold G. Jenks.

Next Saturday, March 10th, the Newton YMCA Junior and Midsize swimming teams are taking part in the Massachusetts-Rhode Island YMCA Swimming Meet to be held at the Boston YMCA, 316 Huntington avenue. The meet is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m. and will include the usual swimming and diving events. The "Y" swimming coach, Mr. Abbott, reports that the twenty boys from Newton "Y" are entered in this important meet.

Norman J. Padelford, special consultant to the State Department and a former member of the American Staff at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference will speak on "Can Dumbarton Oaks Win the Peace?" on Friday, March 16, at 8 p. m. at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton under the co-sponsorship of the Newton League of Women Voters and the Church. The speaker has recently come to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as Professor of International Relations and his background of experience makes him well qualified to speak with authority on this vital subject.

Because of the unusual significance of the topic and Dr. Padelford's close association with recent negotiations, the League of Women Voters has decided to open the meeting to the public without charge as part of its campaign for a United Nations organization. The question period which follows the lecture should afford the opportunity to form an honest, intelligent opinion on this vital subject.

Mrs. H. C. Bronsdon of 42 Park street is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Ushers, under the direction of Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell, include Mrs. Charlotte Richards, Mrs. Alton Pope, Mrs. William K. Wells, Mrs. Douglas Francis, Mrs. Thomas Shirley, Mrs. Mark Lessee, Mrs. Willard Rice, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Miss Madeline Cobb, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. Stranbrough Fernald, Mrs. William R. Mattson and Mrs. J. Harold Kavanagh.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lester Moriarty of 316 River street, West Newton observed their 53rd wedding anniversary on Thursday, March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Moriarty, the former Jennie A. Quilty, were married in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton by the Rev. Lawrence J. O'Toole.

Mr. Moriarty retired in 1939 after 35 years of service in the Newton Forestry Department. He is legislative agent of the Newton City Employees Local No. 175, Federation of State, City and Town Employees, a former president of that organization, and served for 24 years as president of the Newton Local. He has been a member of the Newton License Commission since it was formed 12 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Moriarty have one daughter, Mrs. Etta Haverty of 114 Tolman street, West Newton, and four grandchildren, one of whom, Sgt. Joseph A. Haverty is with the U. S. Army Air Force, stationed in Canada, and another grandson, Staff Sgt. Robert L. Haverty, aerial gunner with the Army Air Forces, has been reported as missing in action in Italy on December 2.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

In reading last week's Graphic I looked over an article, "Politics With Color" by P.W.C. I noted with interest his statement that Lt. Gov. Bradford should be a push over for top spot in November, 1946.

Why Bradford for the top spot? What is the matter with Cahill? Does one have to be a Blue Blood to get by in the Republican party? Or do they object to a man because he happens to have come up the hard way?

If my memory serves me rightly Mr. Saltonstall was never in his first try. Why wasn't he bypassed?

Instead Mr. Cahill played ball and waited patiently for six years and now when he is defeated in his first try, his Republican friends promptly relegate him to the list of has-beens.

The Republican party of this state cannot win without the support of independent voters, but if they insist on boosting rich Blue bloods instead of poor but honest men they will surely lose this vote.

Again P.W.C. asks Mr. Cahill to solve the problem of a Mayor for the City of Boston. If Mr. Cahill is not too man who should he be the one to solve that problem? Evidently P.W.C. knows in his heart that Mr. Cahill is the top man, but does not like to admit it.

Why not be fair about this matter and treat all men the same whether they be rich or poor?

P.J.D.

To the Editor of the Graphic:
May I add a word of agreement with the letters of Joseph P. Dar-gon and Madeline W. Cobb in the Graphic of March 1st?

If the suggestion that the Air Raid Wardens act as deputies for the street department in sanding the dangerous highways seems to put an unreasonable burden on citizens who have already done a yeoman's work in volunteer service, why should not each household emulate the scouts in cleaning the ground around their own tents and put the air-raid sanding (often both arduous and expensive) in front of the citizen made such thrifty use of his incendiary bomb insurance, the harassed street department would be substantially relieved in its manpower shortage. Since the ground hog must have almost finished his nap, why not keep this suggestion in mind for another winter of blizzards?

Concerning the letter of Mr. Dargatzis—It does seem strange that Newton should be so far behind its neighbors in the care of its streets. Were it only in the last few years, one could easily give lack of man power as the reason. However those who have gone into Boston regularly even through the depression when the "Mayor's Committee" was searching for work for Newton's unemployed, well remember the glacial condition of the streets on the way to trains and the tardy opening of catch basins and approaches to fire hydrants.

Has not Newton as much public spirit as Brookline or Watertown?

Mary R. Stark.

The Editor of the Newton Graphic:
Dear Sir:

In the recent passing of Clarence W. Randall Newton has lost a fine citizen whose lifelong service to the community was of great and lasting benefit.

He was a great Fire Chief. He

All Newton Music School Notes

From the list of names sent in by students for the All Newton Music School Field Ambulance which is now with the Ninth Army in Germany, the following ones have been selected by the committee to be sent to the driver, Private Parfait for final choice: "The Music Box," submitted by Nancy Turner of the Violin Department; "Do Re Mi" by Carol Scipione of the Theory Class; "Symphony Express" by Roy Tinker of the Clarinet Department; and "Swinging Rhythm" by Nancy Daland of the Flute Department. The committee making the selection included Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Chairman, Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, and Frank A. Dav, Jr.

Sally Ann Haven, student in the piano department at the Music School played on Saturday afternoon, February 24, over WHDH on the "Spot Light on Youth" Program. Sally Ann played the "Whirling Dervish" by Engelmann and was selected to play in the finals which will take place later in the season on the same program. Her first teacher was Miss Virginia Kenway and for the past two years she has been studying with Miss Lillian West.

At the regular monthly Faculty Meeting held at the Clafin Headquarters on Monday morning, March 5, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, member of the Board of Trustees and an accomplished musician, spoke to the teachers and staff on "What Ace Music Lessons?" Mrs. Mather stressed the importance of the home and family life in early training of young children toward later study of music on a formal basis. She spoke of the value of rhythm as a basic need which may often be developed before the child even goes to an instrument. A round table discussion followed Mrs. Mather's interesting talk during which many splendid views were brought to light.

was known as one of the best in this commonwealth. He was appreciated as such in fire insurance circles, and the fire insurance business is a competent judge.

He was most skillful in his management of his department. He trained his men with great care, so that he had a model department. His leadership of them was based on inspiring them to do their best because he did his best—the wholesome power of personal example, that gave Newton a great fire department, and was a large factor in our low fire insurance rate, the lowest of any city in the commonwealth.

He was very careful of the large amount of expensive equipment in his department. Every piece was kept in A1 condition, ready to respond to an alarm at any time. Nothing was allowed to get out of order, and the city was thus saved a great deal of expense.

These facts about him were well known to me when I served on the Board of Aldermen and I had a chance to see what a fine loyal public servant he was. More than that, however, I appreciated him as a friend, just as has everyone else who ever came to know him. Men of his type leave behind them a grateful remembrance after they have passed on.

George E. Rawson.

NEWTON In The Past

Newton Graphic, February 28, 1890
George H. Ellis is receiving this week two thousand tons of ice from Lake Winnipegosee, via the Boston, Toronto, Montreal railroad, requiring about one hundred and fifty cars to move it; as much more will follow soon unless it can be obtained here from Crystal Lake. It is the first ice that has been moved at least this way, from same lake by same road in ten years, and the first ice of any amount ever brought into Newton.

It is very clear pure blue ice and twenty-one inches in thickness. Mr. Ellis puts up some twenty thousand tons of ice elsewhere.

All goods at wholesale prices at Eliot Market, Newton. Oysters 30 and 35 cents a quart, fresh cod and haddock 6 cents, yeast cake 1 cent, milk 5 cents a quart.

50 YEARS AGO
Newton Graphic, March 1, 1895
The Newton Free Library passed the one thousand mark last Saturday, for the first time 1068 books being given out.

The telephone men have been stringing new cables along Washington street this week, and their dizzy attitudes have attracted many spectators.

The vote in both precincts here (Newtonville) Tuesday was counted in short order, about ten minutes being required for the work. There were no incidents worth mentioning and the balloting furnished no excitement and awakened but little interest.

25 YEARS AGO
Newton Graphic, February 27, 1920
The city received a rare bargain in the purchase of the Eden avenue playground for the absurdly low price of $3500, or about five cents a foot.

In 1869 William H. Whipple of Salem developed from the members of two Sunday School classes, one of which he was a teacher, the organization of the first boys' branch of the Young Men's Christian Association. From this beginning work among boys has spread throughout the world. 168,656 now on this 50th anniversary make up the membership of the Boys' Division of North America, of which 12,346 are in the membership of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

William E. Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Bacon, 42 Hyde avenue, is on the honorable mention list in the ranking period ending March 3, 1945.

Planning for a Century of Peace

From the councils of Dumbarton Oaks to the family conclave of the folks who live next door to you—people great and small are planning for peace. Here at the Newton Savings Bank we're making plans, too... happy plans for a future that will include new homes—new businesses—new opportunities for the men and women of our privilege to serve.

A savings bank has a peculiarly intimate relationship with its clients. It shares their problems of the present and their dreams for the future. This bank takes enormous satisfaction, for instance, in the knowledge that more homes in this area have been financed by us than by any other institution. For over 115 years we have been safeguarding the savings of the people of this community, helping them finance educational programs for their children, businesses for themselves, homes for their families. Whatever your particular dreams may be for the postwar years, won't you let us help you start planning now to make them come true? Advice and counsel from one of our officers will put you under no obligation.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Post-War Planning

Some of us are wondering just why Newton has not gone in for post-war planning in a big way. In Brookline, for example, a strong committee, composed of Town officials and leading business and professional men has recently made a comprehensive report to the citizens of that town. This committee spent a year and a half studying all sorts of post-war projects, such as a new Town Hall, new fire and police stations, a war memorial, increased playground facilities, new streets, a municipal hospital and scores of other matters. The voters of Brookline were given an opportunity at a public hearing to present their ideas. These were seriously considered by the committee. It might be worthwhile for our own city government to obtain a copy of this intensely interesting report and consider the advisability of setting-up a similar committee here.

One more word. The Brookline committee included the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, the chairman of the Planning Board Commission, all ex-officio, together with Henry W. Minor, Jr., of the House of the Saltonstall administration, Samuel Pinanski, the theatre magnate, Paul F. Clark, recently elected president of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co., M.D.C. Commissioner Philip G. Bowker, a former Representative in the State Legislature. Undoubtedly, Newton could command the services of just as fine a group of citizens to make a similar survey in Newton. Think it over.

Although the complete detailed vote, tabulated by cities and towns, is not yet available, there is a document at hand giving the official total vote for the major offices last fall. It makes an interesting reading. For example, the vote for the "Big Seven" in each party was as follows: Saltonstall, 1,228,754; Cook, 1,072,267; Bradford, 975,537; Barnes, 930,078; Cahill, 897,708; Goodwin, 875,930; and Burrell, 805,591. (Note Cahill's poor showing for Governor.)

Have listed these men according to the size of their vote, regardless of the importance of the office. The offices are, of course, U. S. Senator, Secretary of State, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, Governor and Auditor, and Treasurer, in the order shown above.

The Democrats finished as follows: Tobin, for Governor, 1,048,284; Hurley, for Treasurer, 1,035,093; Buckley, for Auditor, 972,910; Kelly, for Attorney General, 916,072; Carr for Lt. Governor 893,487; Mrs. O'Riordan, for Secretary of State, 782,664; and Corcoran, for U. S. Senator, 667,081.

Note this, please. The G.O.P. candidate for U. S. Senator led the ticket, while the Democratic candidate was in last place. The G.O.P. Secretary of State finished with the second highest vote, whereas the Democratic lady was next to last. Their Governor ran No. 1; the G.O.P. entry was fifth out of seven major candidates. And so it goes. You may like to play with these figures. If you do, you may learn what may happen in the 1948 elections!

Roosevelt vs. Wilson

To many of us, the most striking feature of the President's recent report to Congress on the Yalta conference between the Big Three was his obvious effort to avoid as many as possible the errors of Wilson's mistakes in 1918-1919. Mr. Wilson antagonized Congress from start to finish and killed off all chance of getting the United States into the League of Nations. F.D.R., on the other hand, buttered up the Senators and Representatives and gave them the impression that THEY were the final arbiters. That was sound strategy and entirely legitimate. I do not call that playing politics in the unpleasant sense of the word. He went farther. He indicated that the opinions of the Republicans were just as important as those of the Democrats.

Radio Programs Recorded for P.O.W.

American prisoners of war in Germany will receive recordings of American radio programs, War Prisoners Aid of the Young Men's Christian Association announced today. Through special arrangements made with sponsors as well as with the American Federation of Musicians the American Federation of Radio Artists, the programs are to be recorded on twelve inch discs, with all commercials deleted. They will be shipped to German prison camps where Americans are interned, through War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A. (a participating agency of the National War Fund) whose function is to furnish educational, recreational and religious materials to prisoners of war.

Henriette K. Harrison, National Radio Director for the YMCA, who is supervising this service, says that many of the radio shows had to be automatically eliminated because of the use of servicemen and army personnel and material which would not pass the necessary censorship. But sponsors who have been approached have responded enthusiastically and are offering not only their stars and material but are also defraying the cost of the recordings.

Programs now in the process of preparation include: "The Hour of Charm" sponsored by General Electric.

"Calvacade of America," sponsored by duPont.

"The Eddie Cantor Show," and "Duffy's Tavern," sponsored by Bristol-Myers.

"The Frank Morgan Show," Dinah Shore, "The Aldrich Family," "The Fanny Brice Show," Kate Smith and "The Thin Man," all sponsored by General Foods. "Miss Hattie," sponsored by the Aluminum Company of America, and some of the Proctor and Gamble shows, also "Matinee Theatre," sponsored by Vicks' products.

Newton Centre

David M. Lesser, of 110 Greenlawn avenue, has arrived in Hawaii for further assignment in the Pacific Ocean Area as an American Red Cross assistant field director. Until his Red Cross appointment, Lesser was the Hires Laboratories, Inc., New York City. He is a graduate of Burdett College, Boston, Mass.

Lucy Jackson Chapter DAR

The March meeting of Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R., will be held on Monday, the twelfth, at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls. The program for the afternoon will be given by Mrs. Marion Tucker Rudkin, well known Book Reviewer.

Mrs. Edward J. Frost will be chairman of the committee on refreshments. His appointments to the San Francisco conference were made in accordance with that theory. Although he had acceptance from former Governor Stassen, Senator Vandenberg and Rep. Eaton of New Jersey. These men are all Republicans. Eaton is not as well known as the other two but he has a good record in the lower branch of Congress.

Henry Wallace

It is now obvious that the bulk of the bitter opposition to the appointment of former Vice President Henry A. Wallace as Secretary of Commerce was based on his power over the granting of loans, etc. When the passage of the George bill removed these powers from the office of Secretary of Commerce, the Senate promptly confirmed Wallace. What interested me particularly, however, was the vote of our own former Governor, Leverett Saltonstall. He was one of the relatively few Republicans to vote for Wallace. He gave his reasons to the press and they are understandable. What I dislike about the matter is the grapevine gossip to the effect that his vote was influenced, to a certain degree, by the quiet support given him by the CIO. Personally, I do not for a minute think that Leverett Saltonstall would be greatly influenced by the power of the CIO, even if he SHOULD be a dark-horse candidate for President in 1948.

Newtonville Women's Club

A fine talk on the cultural and historical foundations of China under the title "The Basis of a Just and Durable Peace in Asia" was given by Mr. Paul T. K. Lin, Chinese scholar, at the open meeting of the Newtonville Women's Club, Tuesday, March 6, at the clubhouse.

The meeting was opened by the singing of America with Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols at the piano.

Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea will be in charge of the club's table at the sale for the Blind to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on April 26.

Mrs. Philip E. Goodhue, art committee chairman, reminded the members of the "Exhibit of Craftwork" which included examples of rug hooking, wood carving, tray painting, sculpture, weaving, jewelry making and examples of stained glass which is to be on view all afternoon and until 9:30 p.m.

A demonstration of block printing and weaving was to be held on the stage. Mrs. Goodhue also thanked the Girl Scouts for their fine exhibit loaned to us.

Mrs. Harold W. McKusick spoke of the dessert bridge and fashion show which will be held on Tuesday, March 27, at 1 p.m. at the clubhouse. The fashion show will be put on by the Modern School of Fashion and Design in Boston and students will model clothes they have made themselves. Tickets may be secured by calling Mrs. Clifford B. Whiting at Big 1168 or Miss McKusick at Lns. 2917.

There will be only forty-five tables, so get your reservation early. If you don't play cards, come and bring your knitting.

Miss Marsh told the club members as the club representative, she had been given a pin as an award to the club for having come in second in the state in the amount of war bonds sold by club members. Miss Marsh then introduced Mrs. Edgar Pittal, chairman of the Women's Division of the War Finance Committee and representative of the U. S. Treasury, who thanked the club women for their work in selling war bonds and stamps in the banks and schools.

Mrs. Hay then awarded a citation to one of the club members, Mrs. Jessie W. Gilbert, for her sale of $59,000 worth of War Bonds.

Miss Marsh then spoke of Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, when some of the club members took over the "Coffee Hour" at the Cushing Hospital in Framingham.

Miss Marsh welcomed our guest of honor, Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood, 1st vice president, M.S.F. W.C., who spoke on some of the phases of the federation work.

The soloist for the afternoon was Dorothy Fairbanks who sang a group of delightful songs with Mrs. Ethel Keach Ferrin as accompanist.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, a past president of the club and now on the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co. introduced the speaker, Mr. Lin.

Tea was served in the social hall after the meeting by Mrs. John F. Driscoll and her committee with Mrs. Richard C. Aschendon, Mrs. Carl B. Horton, and Mrs. George W. Hinman acting as pourers.

Newtonville Junior Women's Club

On February 20th, the Newtonville Junior Women's Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Elizabeth Barrow, program chairman. After the meeting the club members and their guests were indeed fortunate in having Mrs. Raymond Green as their guest and speaker. Mrs. Green's subject was "Reminiscences of the King and Queen in Halifax." In these times of war weariness it was refreshing to look back on the gala incident of the English Royalty and their visit to Halifax. Mrs. Green was able to attend all the ceremonies and to take excellent colored films which told the story so vividly. A most enlightening evening was enjoyed by all Refreshments were served by our gracious hostesses, Mrs. Barrow and her daughter Elizabeth.

Jane: Oh, didn't I tell you? Dr. Morris gave a talk to our Mother's Club on "Child Health."

Bill: I do remember your mentioning the talk this morning. Was it worth going to?

Jane: It certainly was. I learned a number of practical things. For one thing he told us some points to look for in judging a child's general health. These signs particularly related to the child's state of nutrition.

Bill: Oh, you mean by watching their height and weight, don't you?

Jane: Not just those alone, there are some other signs to look for. Listen while I read you the notes I made. Here's the list: "Learn to appraise your child. A well-nourished boy or girl will have the following characteristics:—

Appetite and digestion—good.

Disposition—good natured; full of pep.

General health—vigorous; "low absentee" record at school.

Bill: Those are good signs for parents to recognize.

Jane: I think all we parents should realize that if we want our children to have these characteristics, we must make a conscientious effort to establish good eating habits besides planning well-balanced meals for the family.

Each day a child needs the following foods:

Milk—1½ pints to 1 quart.

Eggs—1 daily or at least 4-5 weekly.

Meat or fish—1 small serving.

Potato—1 serving, baked or boiled in skin.

Newton Junior Community Club

The entertainment presented at the meeting of the Newton Junior Community Club last Monday evening at the Newton Y.M.C.A. was under the direction of Mrs. Alvie Jorgensen, chairman of the Music and Drama Committee, and was in two parts. Mrs. Jorgensen, through Mrs. Gertrude H. Ranney, treasurer of the club, introduced Mrs. Paul L. Geiringer, known in the music world as Nana Krieger. Mrs. Geiringer, a resident of Newtonville, played several piano selections and in turn introduced a pupil, Mrs. James F. Johnson, also of Newtonville, who accompanied her in duet selections. Mrs. Geiringer, of Hungarian origin, at the age of six became a student of the Royal Academy of Music, Budapest, where she studied under the famous composer Ernst von Dohnanyi, then president of the Academy of Music in Vienna under Mr. Paul Weingarten. She has given many successful recitals both abroad and in this country and the more than seventy persons attending this meeting were enthusiastic in their praise.

A dress rehearsal of their contest play, which will be given on March 16 before judges, when the club will be hostess to two other clubs in the State Federation, the Malden and Arlington Junior Clubs, was presented. Members of the cast included the Misses Jane Mansfield, Marjorie S. Bassett, Gwen Ford, Mrs. Vivian O'Leary and Mrs. Walter F. ## Kiwanis Club

Mr. Ralph B. Emery of the Red Cross accompanied by Mrs. Fredrick Atherson of the Ambulance Corps, attended the Kiwanis Club's weekly luncheon at the YMCA Wednesday noon, where Mr. Emery told of Red Cross activities at home on the fighting fronts and among the American prisoners of war in Germany and Japan.

The task of getting medicines, food, clothing and various other necessities of life to war prisoners is usually a difficult one, according to Mr. Emery, due to the fact that Japan is not a member of the International Red Cross. The International Red Cross is usually the vital needed supplies to every man possible, he added.

A "capture parcel" containing pajamas, underwear, socks, sweater, shaving kit, gum, cigarettes, shoe polish and two cakes of soap is usually the first Red Cross package received by a prisoner of war. The soap, unobtainable in enemy territory, is a great bargaining agent, Mr. Emery said.

Some American prisoners having traded a couple of bars for freedom. In addition, a food kit of meat, cheese, corned beef, hash, powdered milk, (the powder providing one pint of milk per day), C rations and chocolate bars, received weekly, provide the necessary nutrition to keep the men in good health.

At home, the Newton Red Cross maintains telephone and canteen service for the fighting men and their families. Mr. Emery continued, is at all times provided for any local disaster and is still training nurse's aides for the local hospitals.

James P. Gallagher installed Dr. Ernest A. Marcoux Vice President of the Kiwanis Club. Dr. Marcoux was unanimously elected to the office at the February 28th meeting.

James B. Riggs reported the Kiwanis sponsored Sea Scouts quarters in Newton Upper Falls is now equipped with a mast, lights, flags and a heating unit. Mr. Riggs also conveyed the Arlington Kiwanis Club's invitation to attend their meeting of March 15th at which Gov. Tobin is speaker.

Wilfred Chaznon presented the Club a beautiful silk 5x9 state flag. Wednesday, April 18th, members of the Arlington Kiwanis Club will attend the Newton Kiwanis Club's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Leland Bickford will be the speaker on that date.

Rotary Club

Numerous new products and new processes, most of which work unheralded and unseen by the general public, today contribute importantly to the unprecedented war effort on all Allied fronts. L. F. Livingston, manager of the DuPont Agricultural Extension Division, told members of the Newton Rotary Club yesterday.

Added to the array of products developed by industrial research for peacetime uses and now contributing directly to the winning of the war are scores of new products and processes developed since Pearl Harbor, Mr. Livingston said. "The list of contributions of the chemical industry alone is much too long even to enumerate, and too many remain in that mysterious realm of military secrets," he explained. "However, according to a recent announcement, the DuPont Company alone has developed more than two score new products and processes, all of which are importantly aiding the United Nations in strategic battle stations all over the world."

Chemical developments since Pearl Harbor, mentioned by Mr. Livingston, include special military paints which, because of their diurnal X-ray film which reveals trucks, and planes; fine-grain industrial X-ray film which reveals surface-invisible flaws in metal welds and castings before time-consuming machining has been done, or lives lost through failure of military equipment such as a gun mounting; fabrics coated with a vinyl plastic, lighter than rubber and having equal durability, for raincoats, life jackets, food bags, and hospital sheeting; use of vitamin C for combating heat prostration; "Celastix" colloidal-treated fabric for speeding up military production in foundries by affording quick, easy repairs and alterations of patterns for metallic castings; saboteur-proof "acoustic fence" for protection of war plants.

The City of Newton has made its largest building available for the presentation of this 1945 Scouting Show. The gymnasium will be crammed with exhibits of Cubbing and Scouting activities giving the people of Newton and Wellesley an opportunity to get an inside view of the amazing accomplishments of local boys as members of the great Boy Scout Organization.

In the late afternoon and again in the evening, a colorful stage show will be presented in the auditorium.

The Norumbega Council Scouting Exposition is a tribute to the work of this grand organization, which as a "Red Feather Service" is providing every boy in the community a chance to develop as a real American Boy!

Newton Lions Club

Ralph Emery of the Red Cross was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Lions Club last Thursday. As he spoke, Mr. Emery pointed to exhibits of two kinds of boxes which the Red Cross brings to our men who join the Barbed Wire Prisoners of War. If everyone could see these exhibits and learn of their value in bringing comfort and heightening the morale of our own unfortunates, Newton's goal in the Red Cross drive would soon be over the top.

Ralph Sanguinetti spoke on Ways and Means of raising funds for the Club projects chief among which is the Sea Scouts Ship Number 13, of which the Club is very proud. Since the Club became interested in this worthwhile work, a new furnace has been installed at the Ship Headquarters, fire extinguishers have been provided and the interior of the "Ship" repainted. Asa Blakeslee, First Vice President of the Lions is Chairman of the Troop Committee which is helping the "Men" of the Troop accomplish these changes. The Lions sure are proud of their Troop.

Stephen Burke, Real Estate, was admitted to membership in the Club having been proposed by President Dick Fennelly. Steve was inducted into membership by Asa Blakeslee, and immediately "fined" a dime by the Tail-twister for not wearing his Lion's pin which was then presented to him.

Wilson; also three special guests: Mrs. Edwin Troland, president of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Adelaide B. Ball, president of the Newton Federation and Mrs. Richard H. ## THE YANKEE KITCHEN

with Ken and Carolyn

This week, we haven't seemed to be very concerned with food. Our appetites have been affected by approaching spring, perhaps, and we have had other, and perhaps more important, things on our minds.

A good many of our listeners have written us and asked us why we never discussed racial and religious understanding and problems. We feel strongly that every thoughtful person ought to ponder these things and try to form honest and just opinions. It is not for us to express our own opinions to you and we are ill equipped to discuss such important matters—we don't know enough about them.

But this we do feel strongly that since these are matters of humanity that we should approach our consideration of these problems in a tolerant spirit and we suggest humbly that we all pray reverently and earnestly for understanding and just hearts and that we read our Bible more. Then, perhaps, we can be better equipped to form proper opinions.

As wild and peculiar as Blackstone was, he did invite Winthrop and his company to come to settle in Boston as they found no drinking water and the sand beach in the moonlight—who brought the first apple trees to America.

It was this week that the great drive starts to raise money for the Red Cross and we feel that there is no need to ask for money for the Red Cross. Anybody who has the slightest idea of its great work and humanity will dig deep into his pocket and contribute.

Carolyn's mother, Dean of Staff of the Maine Sea Coast Mission, works closely with the Red Cross and does much personal home service work. She has brought lumps to our throats with some of the stories she has told of that work and she humbly begs us to give of our money to it since that is all we can give.

And as we sign off for the week, George Graves reminds us that seed catalogues make good reading and with that thought we wish everybody a happy week-end with a bright-colored seed catalogue and dreams of a garden where no drouth nor bugs come in to steal the crop.

So long, everybody.

humor. Ken especially chortles over the cartoon of two small scouts hauling a cart full of newspapers and explaining to his friend, "I deliver 'em in the morning and salvage 'em in the afternoon."

From reports, we suspect that boys and girls are doing more to salvage scrap paper than are grown-ups and we are grateful to them. Paper is urgently needed, more and more every day. We need thousands of tons of paper and that means much salvaging. We ask everybody to remember that it isn't waste paper unless we waste it.

We mentioned Charles street in Boston quite casually one day and Ken tore off on one of his favorite historical stories — of William Blackstone, the first settler in what was to become Boston. William Blackstone who loved rum and Indians and didn't like Puritans — he rode a great white bull up and down the sand beach in the moonlight—who brought the first apple trees to America.

As wild and peculiar as Blackstone was, he did invite Winthrop and his company to come to settle in Boston as they found no drinking water and the sand beach in the moonlight—who brought the first apple trees to America.

THE MAN WHO BUILDS A HOME ERECTS A TEMPLE

A HOME FOR THOSE WHO ARE NEAR AND DEAR TO HIM

It is worth fighting and dying for. When he comes marching home he and that youngster whom he has never seen will have so much to do together, so much lost time to make up for. These fathers who have never seen their babies may not even come home in time to wheel their carriages, for the months of war pass swiftly and little boys and girls now in arms may be walking and running long before their daddies come home. In each young mother's heart is the prayer that her husband may be spared. The days are long for her and the casualty lists are longer. You in war work have done your job and done it well. Keep going until victory is ours, and then a grateful world will sincerely say WE THANK YOU.

Arthur Fiedler, Boston's prominent Pops conductor and originator of the current Sunday concerts graciously consented to be guest speaker at the last meeting of Newton High School's Music Club, Thursday, February 15. Hardly had he slipped out of his overcoat when he was greeted with an enthusiastic ovation by eager pupils and teachers of both the high school and various Newton grammar schools.

Sans puerum, Mr. Fiedler admitted his perplexity in addressing a group such as this, and asked for questions. The audience immediately caught up his invitation and probed into all phases of the musical sphere with queries about conducting, composing, and recordings.

An inquisitive youngster among the guests of the club seriously asked why the violinists moved their fingers on the strings and Mr. Fiedler equally as seriously explained the intricacies of violin playing. Having studied violin himself, he was able to draw upon his own experience. At other times he has also played the cello, the piano, the violin, and the viola.

LT. COL. HICKEY COMMANDS CHINESE COMBAT GROUP

CHINESE COMBAT COMMAND, U. S. Army — Recent opening of the Indo-China (Stillwell) road provided great personal satisfaction to Lt. Col. Edward A. Hickey, 43, of Newtonville, Mass., who served as commanding officer of an American liaison group of the Chinese Combat Command attached to the Chinese Expeditionary Force, which helped clear southwestern Yunnan of Japanese, thereby making possible reopening of a land route to China from India.

Lt. Col. Hickey was employed as a police officer by the City of Newton, Mass., prior to entering active military duty in January, 1941. He was stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., Camp Edwards,

Dr. Fairfield Accepts Foreign Missions Post

BOSTON, Mass., March 13 — The American Board of Foreign Missions today accepted the resignation of Dr. Wynn C. Fairfield, its secretary for the Far East, to take effect on March 31, when he is to become secretary for general administration and chairman of the secretariat council of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, with headquarters at 156 Fifth avenue, New York City.

The Foreign Missions Conference of North America, to which Dr. Fairfield goes, is the general cooperative agency for 125 boards of foreign missions in the United States and Canada, with work around the world, which spend in excess of $17,000,000 yearly for their work overseas. By the unanimous action of the representative

Budget Reduced $11,750, Adopted By Aldermen

At a special meeting on Monday night the Newton Board of Aldermen by a vote of 18 to 1 adopted the general budget reducing by only $11,750 the aggregate of $5,667,618.32 recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

The Water Department budget which is derived from water revenue was passed with a unanimous vote, the amount being only $1,900 less than Mayor Goddard's recommendation of $338,999.03.

The actual appropriations passed on Monday night were $5,079,350.94 for the general budget and $314,154.53 as part of the amounts recommended by the mayor had already been appropriated this year.

Chairman Theodore R. Lockwood of the finance committee, announcing that the city's surplus is the highest in its history, said that the indications were that if the city is permitted to use $100,000 of the surplus funds to reduce the amount of the tax levy, the tax rate would remain the same. Otherwise, he said the rate would go up. At the end of last year, the general surplus was $1,525,673 and the Water Department surplus was $235,081, making a total of $1,760,754. Taking out sums to offset tax titles and other requirements, the net surplus is $1,611,831. If the city is allowed to use $100,000 to reduce the tax levy, he said, it would still leave a net surplus of "over a million and a half."

Vice president Albert P. Everts expressed high praise for the service performed by Chairman Lockwood in consideration of the budget and presentation of his committee's report. The other members of the finance committee are George A. Bacon, John E. Barwise, Vice President Everts, President Jameson, Kenneth D. McCutcheon and Robert A. Whidden. The public works items in the Street and Water Department budgets were reported by Alderman Fred C. Alexander, chairman of the public works committee. President Jameson declared the committee deserved a vote of thanks for their work on the budget.

CHESTNUT HILL FIRST TO GO OVER THE TOP

Newton Red Cross 1945 war fund has passed the half-way mark, it has been announced by the chairman, Mr. Charles B. Floyd.

"Specifically," says Mr. Floyd, "we have collected $106,458.37 to date."

Mr. Floyd goes on to say that the solicitors, however, have not covered their cards as quickly as it had been hoped, and they are being urged to make an all out effort to reach their prospects in Newton at the earliest possible moment.

"March 17 and 18 have been designated as Red Cross Sabbath and Sunday this year, and I hope that all of our volunteer workers will devote the whole day to an all out Red Cross effort," states Mr. Floyd. "Go to your church in the morning and then in the afternoon clear up all remaining cards."

The people who know best just what Red Cross means are the men in the service. Mr. Paul E. Crocker, Jr., a navigator on a Flying Fortress based in England. Lt. Crocker has been on "flak leave" in England and Scotland, and his travels have taken him to many lands in Europe and Asia. Wherever he went he found comfort and help through Red Cross. He writes: "I think what made us most at home and did most for our morale was not the surroundings but the real live American girls who were serving as hostesses for us. They were ABC but wore skirts and blouses just like home and played cards and games and just made us feel at home. It was all very fine there, but I had plans, so

ARLENE S. MACFARLANE

Newton H'lands Girl in Marianas

Though the war has moved on beyond the Marianas, the enemy still takes pot-shots at them now and then. Amidst spasmodic sniper fire and occasional air raids, nurses and American Red Cross girls, with sleeves rolled up, keep plugging to lighten and brighten the bed-ridden hours of hospital patients.

One of these Red Cross girls is Miss Arlene S. MacFarlane, daughter of Mrs. Edward G. Haskins, 83 Dickerman road, Newton Highlands, and assistant field director of Marianas Red Cross Hospital. Miss MacFarlane graduated from Smith College in 1942 and two years prior to her employment with Red Cross in September 1944, was a psychiatric social worker with the Barton Family Society.

Miss MacFarlane writes: "Construction of the hospital is only part way along which means that life is still definitely rough. The nurses' quarters are Quonset huts (corrugated tin), and there are two of us to a room (really just partitioned off). At this point our furniture consists of one army cot each. Now, of course, we're living out of our footlockers and taking as little out of them as possible because everything is so very dirty. Today we have had very heavy showers of and on so that there's unbelievable goosy, ankle-deep mud everywhere. Water is none too plentiful."

Do YOU Need Money for Emergencies?

Notwithstanding the wish of the Government that unnecessary spending be eliminated and that loans be curtailed to the greatest extent possible, emergencies calling for immediate substantial payments frequently confront us all.

It is for the care of such situations that our FAMILY LOAN DEPARTMENT is organized.

We urge all with problems of this nature, as well as those with an accumulation of troublesome debts, to confer with the Manager of any of our 9 offices.

We will try to be helpful. We will be content with monthly payments well within one's ability to pay, AND WE WILL NOT CHARGE EXCESSIVELY FOR THE SERVICE.

It was the desire to make our bank thus useful and helpful that actuated us in the formation of this Department and encourages us to expand it.

With the sincere co-operation of those requiring loans of this nature we can be of real service to them and to the community.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Junior—"There are more hens and chickens in Massachusetts than there are people." Gee, that's a funny thing to put in a paper! Who cares anyway?

Jane—"We all care, but didn't I tell you not to bring the paper to the table?"

Bill—"What makes you interested in the population of hens, Jane?"

Jane—"If you did the shopping, you'd be interested. Have you seen any pork chops or roasts of beef on this table lately?"

Bill—"Does that have anything to do with hens?"

Jane—"No, silly! But hens have something to do with eggs, and you said that the supper we had last night with Spanish omelet was one of the best we had had for a long time."

Bill—"It was swell. But I don't suppose eggs are as good as meat."

Jane—"Oh, yes they are! If anything they are better for you than meat; not that there is much difference."

Bill—"Well, I never knew that. There's a big sign in the window of the super market that says eggs are cheaper now."

Jane—"I noticed the Library had a lot of cookbooks on a special table today. They were all open to recipes about eggs. I took out one of the books."

Bill—"Yes, that's O.K., but if we have eggs for breakfast and eggs for dinner, we'll get too many."

Jane—"It wouldn't hurt you if you did have three or four eggs a day. There must be hundreds of ways of fixing eggs! I'll look up some new ones so that we can have something different."

Bill—"Guess we will have something to crow about!"

Jane—"Guess we will! Our community nutritionist told us that eggs are one of the best sources of iron in our diets."

live and the kind of famend, and their kids will welcome them home one of these days, as will the sweethearts so many of them left behind.

RED CROSS AT HOME

At home here, in Newton, the Red Cross Chapter House is located on Foster st., Newtonville, and it's probably the busiest beehive of activity in the city. The former family home of Mrs. William L. Young, now of Sharon, N. H., who donated the mansion to the Red Cross in 1942, it is staffed with volunteers who care for the needs of servicemen and women here, abroad and for their families at home.

Mr. Charles R. Cabot is the Chapter Chairman. Mr. Charles B. Floyd head the War Fund and Mrs. Young, who journeys in from New Hampshire twice each week, is Chairman of the Volunteer Services. Mrs. Maurice B. Strauss, Chairman of the Public Information Committee, told us of the various Chapter activities the other day and of the unpaid volunteers who carry on daily. We'd need a book to record them all.

There's the Home Service Department, for instance. Under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Knight and Mrs. John Chase, this department has forged an unbreakable link between the servicemen and the folks at home. Last year they aided 1,570 Newton families. Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr.'s nurses aides have been working around the clock in the Newton Hospital, Cushing General, in Framingham, and at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, Oak Hill. The Nurses Aides also assist the District Nursing Association, attending the ill in their homes throughout the city.

Two bands of Gray Ladies, one at the Marine Hospital with Mrs. Fred Stritzinger 3rd, Chairman, the other, Chairman Mrs. Earl M. Dempsey's group at the Newton Hospital, do just about everything that needs doing in both hospitals—plus providing cigarettes, writing paper, gum, magazines, etc., for the patients. Both the Nurses Aides and the Gray Ladies have been responsible for keeping open several wards in the Newton Hospital that would otherwise have been closed because of the lack of doctors and nurses. That's another kind of record, too, that will be duly recorded, and it's mentioned here for no other reason than to let those of you who've been worrying about the folks at home, know that that without any fanfare or desire for personal acclaim, these Red Cross people, your neighbors, are really hearing down in a friendly and efficient manner, so's to keep your folks healthy and happy.

CANT REPORT IT ALL

There's so much about the Newton Red Cross Chapter that could be, and should be, reported, that this account isn't even going to begin to scratch the surface. Time and space is rapidly writing finis to the Merry-Go-Round's spin this week. So, briefly, here's a couple of three more functions of your local Red Cross you probably haven't caught up with and may be happy to know.

The Canteen Corps, Mrs. Ernest McClure, Chairman, works with servic

Volume of Life Insurance Increased

Montague P. Ford, of 112 Institution street, Newton, president of the Boston Life Underwriters Association announced the largest volume of new insurance business since 1939. Mr. Ford said that the latest figures of the Research Bureau for November 1944 show that sales for the entire country were more than 34 per cent above the November average for the preceding five years. According to Best's reports a trend starting in March 1943, resulted in more life insurance being purchased in every month 1944 than in the corresponding month of the preceding years.

From the annual report of one of the largest companies, Mr. Ford was able to state: "That civilian health in general has been amazingly good; despite 422 war fatalities suffered by Mutual policy holders, the company's mortality experience did not increase beyond that of peace time years."

This trend toward fuller utilization of the social service offered by life insurance is further borne out by the annual report of another large company which reported a 34 per cent increase in sales in 1944 and moreover had the largest gain of insurance in force since 1930. Due to the present high level of employment, lapses and surrenders of policies were 25 per cent less than in 1943.

The Boston Life Underwriters Association, a pioneer organization founded in 1883, of which Mr. Ford is president, has a membership of approximately 1000. It is the trade organization of insurance men which maintains the high standards and principles of competitive practices and responsibility to the public, strives for improvements in standards for the selection and training of agents and wars against unfair practices and unsound legislation.

ROTARY CLUB

Numerous new products and new processes, most of which work unheralded and unseen by the general public, today contribute importantly to the unprecedented war effort on all Allied fronts. L. F. Livingston, manager of the DuPont Agricultural Extension Division, told members of the Newton Rotary Club March 2.

Added to the array of products developed by industrial research for peacetime uses and now contributing directly to the winning of the war are scores of new products and processes developed since Pearl Harbor. Mr. Livingston said, "The list of contributions of the chemical industry alone is much too long even to enumerate, and, too, many remain in that mysterious realm of military secrets," he explained.

"However," according to a recent announcement, the DuPont Company alone has developed more than two score new products and processes, all of which are importantly aiding the United Nations in strategic battle stations all over the world."

Chemical developments since Pearl Harbor, mentioned by Mr. Livingston, include special military paints which, because of their trucks, and planes; fine-grain industrial X-ray film which reveals surface-invisible flaws in metal welds and castings before time-consuming machining has been done, or lives lost through failure of military equipment such as a gun mounting; fabrics coated with a vinyl plastic, lighter than rubber and having equal durability; for raincoats, life jackets, food bags, and hospital sheeting; use of vitamin C for combating heat prostration; "Celestic" colloid-treated fabric for speeding up military production in foundries by affording quick, easy repairs and alterations of patterns for metal castings; sabotage-proof "acoustic fence" for protection of war plants.

ELK LODGE HOLD NOMINATION OF OFFICERS

In the late afternoon and again in the evening, a colorful stage show will be presented in the auditorium.

AVERAGE WAGE IN FACTORIES DECREASES

The opening of the year started a downward trend in employment and pay roll earnings in Newton manufacturing plants, the State Department of Labor and Industries reported today.

Seventeen plants in Newton reported a decrease of 3.2 per cent in the number of wage earners employed, a slump of 9.1 per cent in total wages paid, and a drop of 6.1 in average weekly earnings. The average weekly earnings dropped to $37.74.

The decrease in factory employment and wages in the state as a whole was not as extensive. The total number of wage earners employed in 2,107 representative manufacturing establishments covered by reports filed with the Department of Labor and Industries, in connection with its monthly survey of employment and earnings, was 489,311 for the week including or ending nearest the 15th of January—a decrease of 5,724 employees, or 1.2 per cent, when compared with 495,035 employed in these same establishments during the corresponding week in December, 1944. The amount of the weekly pay rolls for all manufacturing establishments reporting was $21,749,831 for the same week in January—a decrease of $555,664, or 2.5 per cent as compared with the amount for December, 1944 ($22,296,495).

DALTON RENAMED TO RECREATION COMMISSION

An additional sum of $2,500 as requested by Mayor Paul M. Goddard for "necessities in times of distress" was appropriated by the Newton Board of Aldermen on March 5. About a month ago the sum of $9,000 was appropriated by the board for this purpose.

The Newton Street Department under the direction of the Emergency Fuel Committee has purchased a large supply of coal which has been stored in city yards and from this supply emergency deliveries in amounts sufficient to tide them over are being made to residents whose supply has become exhausted during the current emergency and who have not been able to obtain deliveries from dealers. The additional funds appropriated by the board on Monday night are for financing delivery of this coal where such emergency may arise.

The re-appointment of Edward F. Dalton as a member of the Recreation Commission for a term of three years from March 5 was confirmed by the board, after the reappointment of Dr. Roland A. Lombard as Inspector of Animals for a term of one year from April 1 and F. William J. Dherty t the Board of Registrars of Voters for a term of three years from April 1.

Hearings were held on petitions of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company to construct underground cables and conduits in various parts of the city.

To correct a slight clerical error in the budget figures submitted at the preceding meeting an appropriation was recommended by the Mayor of $2 for clerical assistance in the Accounting Department, thereby increasing the total recommended from $5,623,221.60 to $5,623,223.60.

SEND-OFF GIVEN SELECTEES

On informal send-off was given at Newton City Hall on March 7, by the Citizens Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen, for 17 selectees who left for induction into the Armed Services.

Rev. William H. Hazen, retired missionary to India, was the principal speaker, and Mayor Paul M. Goddard bid the group farewell. Chairman Roy S. Edwards of the Citizens Committee was master of ceremonies. Traveling kits were presented to the selectees.

Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs and Mrs. Thomas Cleveland served refreshments from a Red Cross canteen.

"WHAT A LIFE"

Lt. Richard Buswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Buswell of Kenrick street, Newton, who arrived home on leave recently, probably looks a little less as if he had postponed a month.

When his mind wasn't on the missions he was flying from a bomber base in England, perhaps he was thinking of the hours he would spend with the lady of his choice, Marjorie Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Snow of Hinckley road, Waban.

However, the Lieutenant came home and found Marjorie quarantined with Scarlet Fever, so he is still doing his visiting by mail, and it looks as if his leave will add up to a total loss as if Marjorie is concerned. As the French say "C'est la guerre."

Sports in a Nutshell

By Bill Sullivan

The Red Wings kept up their streak over the Bruins by smacking Boston 10-4, it was Detroit's 15th straight win over the Bruins and the second time they scored seven goals in a game. Joe Carveth scored 3 goals, Brunette, Snackebush, Jackson and Howe each scored one. Jennings and Smith scored for Boston to make nine goals in this period. Herb Caldwell scored two goals in the final period on passes from Cowley.

Chicago scored four goals in the third period to beat Montreal 6-4 and jumped within two points of the Stanley Cup play-off. Toronto beat New York 6-3 which makes the Rangers chances of the play-offs pretty slim. The Boston Pies beat Washington 4-2 to make it two in a row in the play-off series. Marcel Filion scored 3 goals to give the Pies their second win.

To give the Bruins another drubbing 5-2. Toronto scored first, Davidson scoring in the first period. Kennedy and Metz scored in the second with Cain scoring for Boston in this period on a pass from Crawford. Bill Jennings scored in the final period, with Beards and Kennedy scoring for the Leafs. Montreal beat Boston Thursday night 3-2 with the Bruins trying their utmost to win this game.

Bill Cowley centered for the Bruins trying to keep Boston up there for a chance in the play-offs. Crawford received a wrist injury and Mario a fractured leg which will make it tough Saturday night in Toronto. Detroit defeated the Rangers 7-3. The Bruins, named for the five goals in the second period, four more in the third period to trounce the Bruins 9-2 and leave Boston tied with Chicago with only four games to play. Montreal clinched first place in the National Hockey League by setting the New York Rangers down 7-3.

Boston came to life Sunday night, broke a six-game losing streak and turned back the Chicago Black Hawks 7-2. Cowley slugged the first goal home on a pass from Egan. Jennings, Gaudreault scored with assists from Gladu and Rozzini. Cooper scored for Chicago and Cowley made it 3-1 on a pass from Cain. Gladu scored with help from Rozzini and Gaudreault, and Smith scored for Chicago, making it 4-2 in the second period. Egan scored unassisted in the third period, Cain following with another on a pass from Crawford. Pat Egan driving in the seventh goal of the evening on a pass from Bill Cowley. This was the game both of these teams wanted to win, with the Bruins showing the way in this one. They have another one to play with Chicago Thursday night which will decide which team will be in the play-offs.

Toronto beat Detroit 3-2 for the fourth time in the season over the Red Wings. Montreal beat New York 11-5.

The Red Wings came to town Tuesday night with every intention of knocking the Bruins out of the play-offs but Boston was ready and held Detroit to a tie, 2-2. The game was a 3-point matter, given over Chicago and it held will put the Bruins in the play-offs. Flash Hollett was the man who spoiled our night as he drove the puck into the net twice and was the only player to score for Detroit. Gladu scored the puck from Seibert, let it down to Gaudreault, who sent the rubber into the net for Boston's first goal. Hollett let go a 50-footer which went by Bennett for a Detroit goal on a pass from Cain which made it 2-1 for the Bruins at the end of the second period. Hollett again tied it up by scoring a goal and then, both teams kept right at it trying their best to shoot the puck in. The Bruins were right on their toes checking back all the way and the puck near the Bruins' net most of the time. Boston now has 2 games to play, one with Chicago and one with Montreal. If they win in Chicago Thursday night they will make the play-offs which they deserve for the fight they have put up to get in there. The play-offs start next Tuesday night with Montreal meeting Toronto and Detroit against Boston or Chicago.

The Red Sox start their training Wednesday at Pleasantville, New Jersey, where several new players will be given a tryout. The 1945 roster hardly resembles the old Red Sox who gave the Boston fans many a thrill in the past. Barrett, Bowman, Ryba, O'Neil, Terry, Woods, Cecil, Johnson, Dreisweider, Hausmann are the pitchers held over from last year. Keith Cawley, Wilson and Joe Wood Jr. as new talent this year. Two new catchers are William Holm and Fred Walters. Infielders are Bucher, Cronin, Lake, Newsome, Metkovich, Polly, Steiner, Tobin; outfielders, Christopher, Culbertson, Fox, Johnson, Lazor, McBride, Barath. Joe Cronin, Boston's great manager, will look them over and pick his starting lineup and everyone knows with Joe running the team we will all get a run for our money. Del Bakula and Larry Woodall are the coaches.

The Braves start their workouts March 19 at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. Bob Coleman will have a coking pitching staff. Andrews, Barrett, Javerty, Tobin, Cardoni, Tom Early, Hutchins, Hutchings, Wallace, Zozart and Petty. Catchers, Masel, Klutz, Hoffert, Poland and Brady. Infielders are Wietelmann, Drews, Culler, Mack, Geraghy, Nelson, Shiemo, and Shupe; outfielders, Holmes, Nieman, Workman, Wright, Gilchrist, Ramsey, Ulinsey and Wentzel. Tom Early and Jimmie Wallace have just received their honorable discharge from the Navy. Tom is a Boston boy whom many have seen pitch excellent ball for the Braves and Wallace was the kid who won the first game he pitched for Boston. Many of those listed as players for the Boston teams may be called to the colors, some may decide to stick to their defense jobs, but the good old game of baseball will start once more unless our government rules it otherwise. Here's hoping they start and we have a real race down to the finish line.

KIWANIS CLUB

Mr. Ralph B. Emery of the Red Cross sponsored by Mrs. Fredrick Atherton of the Ambulance Corps, attended the Kiwanis Club's weekly luncheon at the YMCA March 7, where Mr. Emery told of Red Cross activities at home and on the fighting fronts.

James P. Gallagher installed Dr. Ernest A. Marcoux Vice President of the Kiwanis Club. Dr. Marcoux was unanimously elected to the office at the February 28th

Letter from Lt.-Col. Richard H. Lee

The following letter was written by former Alderman Richard H. Lee to his family. Because of the interesting experience he describes, we publish it here.—Ed.

Somewhere in France January 27, 1945

I have just completed a trip, and it proved to be a cold time of year to go traveling. Most of the way I went in an open jeep. The road was icy and there was snow on the ground. I unrolled my sleeping bag and pulled it over me as far as my armpits and sat in it thus, and found the going more comfortable. We pulled into Paris one early evening. I went over to one of the officers' messes. Found one of my Fort Leavenworth instructors there and he told me about some others. One was wounded before St. Lo and another was just cited for his work in holding Bastogne.

After supper I decided to look up some people whose address Mrs. S. had written me. Dr. and Mrs. P. I took the metro to a station near the address. The subway was crowded with cheerful looking people as usual. Outside it was snowing, and with the blackout I found it impossible to read street signs, so I kept asking for directions. After a good deal of walking I came to a paved court yard that seemed to be in the center of an apartment block. The place was blacked out and appeared deserted. I finally found the concierge who directed me to one of the dark hallways and an upper floor.

As the door I was met by a woman with snowy white hair but otherwise young appearing. She was Mme. P., born in Springfield, Mass., and graduate of Boston City Hospital. She spoke English with a decided New England accent. She said they were just having dinner with some guests and invited me to have some. I declined to eat since I had just come from supper, but I went in and sat at the table. Dr. P. was a solid looking man with a van dyke beard, such as doctors are supposed to wear. The guests were two Dutch medical students. I sat beside one of them and Mrs. P. rushed to the kitchen to finish the dinner while the gas was on. They have gas for only one hour each evening, and you have to cook dinner then or eat it cold.

One Dutch student had escaped Germany by swimming across Lake Constance at night to the Swiss shore. I asked him what he did for clothes and he said he swam fully clothed because he knew he would need clothes once he got across. He contacted some people there who sent him to France. He said that Mme. P. had been one of the people who helped him to get back to England and freedom. The other guest chimed in to say that she was very brave and that the Gestapo had tried hard to find her. They had caught some fugitives and tortured them to find out where they stayed in Paris but they died without giving any clues evidently.

While we were talking about her she came in with a big dish of macaroni which seemed to be the main part of the meal. She claimed that she hadn't done much. She said there were many empty rooms in the building and she hid fugitives in some while the police were searching others. The Dr., her husband, said she had gone out in the country and smuggled in food, which was very difficult. She changed the conversation and wanted to know how Mary S. was. I could tell her little. I asked if she had received the letter Mary had written and she said she had not. She had only two letters from America in four years.

The Dr. and guests soon began to ask me what America would do when the war was won. They were afraid we would be nice to the Germans. They said we did not know the Germans as they

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton will hold a guest meeting on Wednesday morning, March 21. Mr. W. F. G. O. Reinders, treasurer of the Queen Wilhelmina Fund of Boston, will speak briefly of conditions in Holland and show moving pictures of the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines. Mrs. J. van der Groen, secretary of the Fund, will tell of her life in the Dutch East Indies. The hostesses will be Miss Bertha Field and Mrs. Newton A. Merritt.

They were systematically brutal, the Germans, and would consider gentleness a sign of weakness. They would make almost any promises to secure their freedom, but inwardly they would continue to prepare for the next war. They firmly believed that Germans were born to rule, and lesser peoples to be their slaves. The Dutch students said that they were thrown out of medical school when the Germans occupied Holland, because higher education was only for the master race. They had seen people beaten to death, and starved and terrorized, and now they feared the Americans would pardon the men who had done it, and turn them loose to walk the streets. Many people have said similar things to me. I couldn't tell them much except that we were setting up courts to try war criminals and our statesmen have promised that they would not let them escape.

The dining room was very chilly. The Dr. wore his overcoat and one of the guests kept a woolen muffler around his neck. They said that there was no heat at all except the gas stove for cooking. They pretended to make light of the lack of heat, but it is really serious. Many people have become seriously sick from the combination of unusually severe winter and lack of coal. While we were sitting there the electric lights went out. They quickly lighted candles. The lights going off is a common occurrence, they said.

After dinner the Dr. went to a closet and produced a bottle of champagne and poured glasses for all. Then he proposed a toast—"To Mary S. and the United States." We drank to that and felt a little warmer.

When I left, the metro was closed and I had a long walk through snowy streets. I enjoyed walking across Paris in September but this was no fun at all—icy blasts at intersections, and snow sifting down between my helmet and my coat collar. Finally the Arc de Triomphe loomed up in the silent square ahead of me. It is really a mammoth thing, larger than I had judged from pictures. Underneath its great span stood a lone gendarme with snow on his blue cape, and beside him was the torch that is kept burning at the grave of the Unknown Soldier. From there it was not far to my billet in a cold room, six flights up.

The next day we left by way of Versailles which looked like a University campus under its blanket of snow. Later on we went through the forest of Fontainebleau, and along the upper Seine which was frozen over except for spots of swift water here and there. Central France has long straight stretches of road with twin rows of trees on either hand. It was pretty, particularly with snow festooning the branches, but I was too cold to really enjoy it. Further on we struck hilly country, and some quaint walled villages where you still drive through a gate in the wall, and then out the other side.

Since my move I have received no mail at all. My last was written before Christmas. I hope that you are managing to keep warmer than we are.

With love,
Dick.

Increase of Phones On N. E. Farms

Evidence that telephone service has been made readily available to New England farmers is found in figures published by the United States Census Bureau as a result of the 1940 census, according to a statement by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

"In the New England States," the Company says, "nearly half of all farms had telephone service, a figure nearly equal to telephone use in urban areas ranging up to big-city size. And the United States leads all the world in scope and quality of its telephone service."

"While no later farm census figures are available the Company states the percentage of farms with telephone service have risen since 1940, although war restrictions on the extension of lines have retarded the Company's program for extension of rural service during the past three years. Even so, more than 350,000 farm telephones have been installed in the United States since 1940 and New England has had at least its share of this growth, perhaps more than its share.

"The growth might have been more rapid since 1940 except for the extensive rural sales campaign carried on in the late '30s, which brought service to many thousands of new people. At that time, we canvassed the area thoroughly, built hundreds of miles of new lines, and at various times developed new methods of construction and new equipment which allowed us to bring service to the outlying areas on the most economical basis.

"In keeping with our policy of liberalizing construction practices wherever practicable, we have filed with the Mass. Department of Public Utilities a new schedule which increases from a quarter mile to a half mile the length of line we will construct without charge on public highways for each customer—after the war of course—when materials become available.

"Even during this period when we cannot get the materials for building new lines, because of war demands, research has been carried on to design new long-span construction methods and other refinements which will allow us to do a still better job for New England farmers when materials are again available. All of these will be of standard Bell System quality, and we believe that dependability and quality of service which are inherent in the telephone industry should not be sacrificed in the interest of undue economy. Providing good telephone service for farmers at reasonable rates—and by reasonable means—rates which are below the value of the service but still provide some return on the capital invested—is high on our calendar, second only to doing our big war job in the 'best possible way'."

Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. to be followed by a Symposium led by Dr. Homer Anderson of Newton on "Home and School in the Post-War World." Mrs. Willard Rice is in charge of the Scholarship Fund.

Local members of the P.T.A. will assemble at Arlington High School next Tuesday, March 20, at 2 p.m. for the District 4 Conference.

Mrs. C. W. Richards has arranged the afternoon which includes a demonstration by young pupils; a debate by Senior High pupils on "Compulsory Military Training"; and a discussion led by Miss Marie Garin of Fitchburg Teachers College and her staff on "Problems Upon Which Parents and Teachers Should Work Together."

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK STAFF SELLS $500,000 IN BONDS

At the Newton Savings Bank 31 women volunteers recently celebrated the sale of a record-making total of $500,000 in War Bonds since the booth was first inaugurated in March, 1942. This half million of E-Bonds is the largest amount sold by any such volunteer group in this locality—and is believed to establish a record for the country as a whole. (This total is, of course, in addition to bank sales made by the bank itself.)

In addition, more than $21,500 in War Stamps have been sold. The Savings Bank War Bond booth is also the only one in this locality to be operated continuously since its inception, having stood at all times during banking hours throughout twelve months of the year.

Says Mr. Perry, President of the Newton Savings Bank, "Chief credit for the splendid record of these volunteers goes to Miss Florence C. Bacon, who organized the group and to Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, General Chairman of the Women's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee. The Newton Savings Bank is, of course, delighted to cooperate in any way with such vital work and it has been a great pleasure to have these ladies working regularly in our lobby."

Included in the group who have served faithfully at this booth are: Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Miss Florence C. Bacon, Miss Louise H. Dana, Mrs. Miriam Stearns, Miss Adelaide Ball, Miss Marion A. Bryant, Miss Grace Weston, Miss Miriam Drury, Miss Louise Roe, Mrs. Nelson R. Scott, Mrs. Kendall A. Woodruff, Mrs. Frederick G. Rowe, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. Wm. H. MacDonald, Mrs. F. G. Morse, Miss Jane D. Hobart, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Mrs. George E. Rawson, Mrs. Marguerite S. Hen, Mrs. Julius V. Kober, Mrs. Kendall A. Woodruff, Mrs. C. Leslie Hirtle, Miss Ida P. Harrington, Mrs. Frank E. Perkins, Mrs. Susan Tyler, Mrs. Ralph L. Angier, Mrs. Henry S. Moore, Mrs. Edward F. McAleer, Mrs. Henry R. Condon, Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland, and Mrs. Frances Fuller Holloway. These volunteer workers were drawn from the membership of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, these at the Newton Savings Bank being members of either the Newton or Social Science Club, or the Newton Community Club.

Two Wounded In Luxembourg

First Lt. James C. Gray, 26, husband of Mrs. Grace A. Gray of 17 Norman road, Newton Highlands, was wounded in action in Luxembourg on January 18. He received shrapnel wounds in his right arm, hand and foot and is now in a hospital.

Lt. Gray enlisted in the Army four years ago and went overseas in December 1943. He was employed in a bank at Pawtucket, Rhode Island, before entering the service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gray of Pawtucket. His brother, Cpl. Carl Gray is serving with the infantry forces in the Pacific.

His wife is at present making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ranow of 17 and Mrs. A. H. Ranow of 17 and Mrs. A. H. Ranow of 17.

Pfc. Johnson has served with the Infantry for five years and before being sent to Europe in October had served for nearly three years in Panama. He is a graduate of the Billerica High School and before entering the Army early in 1940 was employed by the Hood Rubber Company.

Another Newton service man, Cpl. Norman D. Jamason, Radar Technician, Air Corps, writes from European area as follows: "The Red Cross sent a truck out with coffee and doughnuts. She goes around the lines from plane to plane. On the freezing days, it that coffee sure hits the spot. It means a lot to stand and sip a hot drink and be able to chat with a clean and friendly American girl."

"N" Swimmers Two-State Champs

The Newton Y.M.C.A. midgits, boys 13 years old and under, last Saturday won the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y.M.C.A. Two-State Championships in this annual swimming meet, held this year in Boston.

Eight teams took part in this meet, the climax to the swimming season, representing associations from a wide area.

Outstanding for the Newton team were Robert Johnston, Robert Costello, and Bruno Visco, each with two first place wins, and John Millard, with first and third place points.

The "Y" Juniors placed Rand proper swimming fourth in the 100-yard back stroke, and the 150-yard medley relay team of Carl Fegzelgren, William Altieri, and Al Evans, taking second place.

Next Saturday the Newton teams meet Charleston Boys' Club and Roxbury Boys' Club teams in a triangular meet at the Newton "Y" pool. This affair is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Prisoner, Previously Reported Missing

Hum and Strum Join Staff of WCOP

Hum and Strum, old friends of Boston radio listeners, will open a new program on station WCOP on March 19th. The broadcast times will be 7:35 to 8:15 a.m. and 8:30 to 9:00 a.m. Monday through Saturday.

As Conductors of the Commuters Special, Hum and Strum will bring their talents, familiar to show business and radio for twenty years, to WCOP morning listeners. The duo is just back from a complete USO tour of the Mediterranean theater of operations where they entertained G.I.'s at gun emplacements, in infantry groups, in chow lines under gunfire, and in hospitals.

Max Zides and Tom Currier, both Boston boys, met one day when Tom, a taxi driver, wandered into a music store on Tremont street and heard Max, Boston Globe employee, singing to his own accompaniment on the ukelele. Tom could play a piano and sing. The two struck up a friendship which developed into partnership and a standard act in show business, playing in theatres across the country.

From vaudeville circuits, Hum and Strum were tempted to night clubs, playing supper rooms from coast to coast, and to radio. They have been featured on most Boston stations, and on March 19th will begin their new WCOP association.

Frank A. Day Junior High School

There was no assembly last week at the Frank A. Day Junior High School. This week we are to attend a ceremony at which Robert T. Miller, last year's Ninth Grade president, will present the first of a series of books bought by money left by last year's class in memory of Herbert McCormick. Gerald Quinn, new Student Council president, will accept the gift on behalf of the school. At this assembly we will have our superintendent, Dr. Anderson talk to us for the first time, as a student body.

This week is important to Ninth Graders because elective for Senior High will be carefully taken up in Social Studies classes. The decision each pupil makes is most important as it governs his school life, in a great degree, for three years. The division advisers this year are Miss Lougee, Mrs. Vuyandovich, Mr. Cowles, Mr. Tanner, Mr. Morse, Mr. Brent, and Mr. Read.

Other items of interest include the last week's total of $2,059.55 for bonds and stamps. The Ninth Grade is planning its spring dance and is looking for a small orchestra at a reasonable price, if such exist. Rooms 22, 30, and 29 won the boys basketball shields for the Ninth and Seventh Grades respectively. Ninth Grade pictures have returned. Most all boys and girls bought one. George Kunz, now in the Marine Corps, paid us a long visit last week. Rooms 8 and 9 had perfect records in February for punctuality.

Newton Rotary Club

The Club was privileged to have as their speaker on Friday, March 9, Dr. Raymond W. Miller—a walnut grower in California. Dr. Miller is a lawyer, a public relations consultant, President of the American Institute of Co-operation in Philadelphia, consultant on rural affairs. His subject was "Interdependence of City and Country."

Dr. Miller was introduced by Howard W. Selby, and he pointed out that the rural areas were the population feeders for urban districts and that it was the duty of people in urban areas to help rural communities to have a good economy so that their children can be educated and that there can be a friendly relationship between country and city. Dr. Miller urged Rotarians in the cities to take time to explore conditions in rural areas and then do something about it.

The visiting Rotarians included Walter Boright of Belmont; John Tufts, George Shutt, James O'Connell, and Joe Beaudette, all of Watertown; Robert Morse, H. B. Wyrick, both of Waltham. Other guests included Ned Anderson of Jamaica Plain, Clive Plantor of Ottawa, Canada, Melvin Fisher from Newton High School, and George Gunn of Boston.

Next Friday, March 16, our guest speaker will be Francis E. Berry, Jr., District Manager of the Research Institute of America, Inc. on "How to Reduce Your State Unemployment Contribution."

Newton High School

The Zimber String Quartet gave a second concert on Friday, March 9. Sophomores and members of the junior class who were not in attendance last week filled the auditorium. The concert was presented through the generosity of a friend of Newton High School. Members of the quartet are Emil Kornsand and Harry Dubbs, violin; Jean Cauhape, viola; and Joseph Zimber, cello. Mr. Rudolf Elie, music critic of the Boston Herald, was commentator.

The February issue of "Leisure Activity," Volume X, Number 3, of the school publication, listing what to read, where to go, and what to hear, has received much favorable comment. Under the heading, "For An Evening At Home," there are listed radio programs for each day of the week and books and magazines to read. A second section, "Perhaps You Would Rather Go Out," lists motion pictures and music events. The bulletins are edited by a committee of pupils and teachers headed by Mrs. Helen P. Johnston, chairman. Gillian Cutbush, class of 1945, participated in the Junior Town Meeting of the Air for Saturday, March 10. Gillian was one of four evacuees from England who discussed their experiences in American schools.

War Stamps sold on March 5 totalled $995.50. Bonds were sold to the extent of $450.00.

Rehearsals are now in progress for "Rotogravure," the remarkable show of art, music, and dance to be presented on March 23.

Pupils have been instructed to use the over-burdened buses and street cars as little as possible and to avoid the rush hours. Colonel Johnson of the O.L.T. asks all of us when we travel locally to observe the following creed:

1. Do not ride in rush hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have your exact fare ready. It saves time and fuss.
3. Move back before the driver asks it spreads your ride and helps your neighbor.
4. Ride rail cars instead of buses when possible. It saves gas and tires.
5. Request staggering of your working hours. Your buses and street cars can then make more trips for workers.
6. Keep your auto working. Form a ride-sharing group. It helps relieve the load on street cars and buses.
7. Finally, don't expect comfort or convenience. It just isn't possible. But this simple creed will work wonders. Let's help ourselves.

Lions Club

Speaking before the Newton Lions Club, Wesley T. Ambrose, of the Globe Indemnity Company, stressed the importance of Safety Education which is being carried on extensively throughout the country by the insurance carriers in cooperation with the operators of buses, truck fleets and taxicabs. Mr. Ambrose cited the large number of highway fatalities as convincing proof that safety education is vital in order to prevent the wholesale slaughter of thousands of useful citizens so vital to the war effort.

The speaker told of some of the many ways used to promote safety such as the granting of annual safety awards, "safe-driver" buttons, driver rating charts, and safety slogan posters, all of which have a positive influence on the men driving the highway transports on which so much of our war goods travel.

Mr. Ambrose also showed an educational movie short and gave each Lion a written quiz on safe-driving. The interesting evening on Automobile Traffic Engineering, as outlined by Mr. Ambrose should be a must for any large operator of commercial vehicles in the interest of public safety.

Lion Ed Harper introduced his guest, Fritz Borgman, by presenting him with a large placard reading "Fritz Borgman, Educator, not cracker and not cracked."

King Lion Fennelly presided and the speaker was introduced by Vice President Asa Blakeslee who also asked all Lions to attend the Bridge of Honor of the Boy Scouts which is to be held at the Weeks Junior High School on March 16th. As sponsors of Sea Scout Ship 13 all Lions are asked to be on deck.

The button they sewed on Tom's shirt 9 times

YOU know Tom, although perhaps you call him by another name. A shy, quiet boy who has suddenly become a man in the midst of war. Until he went into the Army Tom had never been away from home. But now he's three thousand miles from Mom and Dad...and a boy can become mighty lonely, even in an army of millions.

But here in the jungle, as though by some miracle, a Red Cross club has been established. And inside are girls...smiling, wholesome American girls who speak your language and are so much like sis...or the girl next door.

Tom knows that among a score of heart-warming jobs these Red Cross girls perform is the simple, homey act of helping a GI sew on buttons. So Tom has torn a button from his shirt and a Red Cross girl is sewing it on. And a little later Tom will tear off that same button again. In all (and this is an actual case), that button was sewed on a total of nine times!

The girls know, and smile indulgently. A little thing, yes, but such little, friendly services can give a big lift to the spirits of a lonely service man far away from home.

This is the only appeal the Red Cross will make to you this year. How much pain and suffering and loneliness the Red Cross will alleviate depends on you. For the Red Cross is entirely dependent upon your contributions. The task is greater today than ever. Won't you give as much as you can in this great humanitarian cause?

THE YANKEE KITCHEN

with Ken and Carolyn

As our armies move more surely and inexorably into Germany itself, The Yankee Kitchens and Carolyn keep bedevilling Ken to tell us more about the places where they are as Ken spent a summer in Germany in 1933.

Monday, he talked about Dusseldorf, an ancient city that started in 1159 as a fishing village. Later the Dukes and Electors moved in and Dusseldorf became a center of art and science. Later, the Germans have tried to impress us that Dusseldorf is still a center of the arts but Ken says their chief claim to artistic fame is the possession of two of Rubens' poorer canvases and the fact that Heine was born there though he moved to Paris to write his lyrical poetry. However, Ken says that the Saint Andrew's Church is admirable as are the Museum of Industrial Art and the famous Renaissance Kunst Hall. There is a State Theater in Dusseldorf too—or was, if it has been destroyed, which is probable.

The mention of a theater starts Carolyn off on a tide of reminiscence. We enjoy so much hearing from old friends and we had just received a letter from an old friend whom Carolyn had known when she was a little girl. At Hancock Point in Maine, Carolyn with the other children used to have plays written and produced by themselves. And she still feels herself remembering the play in which she bobbed and capered through a "ballet" as a petal of the Flower of Purity and tossed rose petals out over the audience. In those rose petals were one ambitious green inch-worm who landed on the polished head of dignified Judge Emery and disrupted the hopeful grace and poise of the ballet.

We both love children and always feel a little thrill when we hear about the children in the Yankee Kitchen and we naturally compare them with our own. Ken is delighted when he hears of a little Karen whom he can compare with his own daughter and Carolyn is excited when she hears of a David to compare with her son. Reports of Karen and David come pouring in, in the mail and we are tabulating them. So far the Davids are in the lead by a wide margin.

Monday evening, we joined a Round Table discussion of the work of the Red Cross. Louise Moran symbolizes the work of the Red Cross as the helping hand of a WOMAN—and she brings lumps to our throats with her moving appeal. Cedric Foster tells the story of two valiant twins who met on the battlefield—one, an Army officer—the other, a Red Cross doughnut girl. And he reminds us that the Red Cross gives everything from blood to doughnuts—a slogan which we think tells the great story. Ken and Carolyn are impressed especially with the work the Red Cross does through Home Service and feel humble in the face of such unselfish service.

Tuesday was a great day in the Yankee Kitchen. As we went on the air, our army was on the fringes of Cologne and Ken was discussing Cologne—its ancient beauty—its great Cathedral of mystery and legend. We knew that Cologne was being battered terribly and hope with all our hearts that the Nazis will soon admit their defeat and admit that democracy and respect for human rights have vanquished the dark old beliefs of might and slavery. In the midst of our discussion the news came in that Cologne had fallen and we were the first radio program in New England to give the news. We were so deeply touched that the broadcast wobbled badly but we knew that people understood.

It was hard to get back to our job, but with the help of Old Trooper Allen Wood, we did. Allen answered many questions people had sent in about their plants and season of tomatoes may depend greatly on the way they are pruned.

We are glad to see our modern housewives taking so cheerfully to the ancient art of using herbs. Rosemary is a sweet herb to consider—and to use. Rosemary for remembrance—one of the most fragrant of herbs, used by the Italians to flavor lamb—we use it to flavor our spinach and rice and fluffy little biscuits. There is a legend that the rosemary flower was once white; but on her flight into Egypt, the Virgin Mary hung her linen on a rosemary bush to dry, and the flowers have been blue ever since in her memory.

Izaak Walton advised anglers to dress their trout with "a handful of sliced horseradish root and a handsome fagot of rosemary" and we know that in some European countries some people use rosemary to stuff aromatic pillows.

Old legends like this fascinate us—and so do the old, traditional foods. We love chowders—and this week, we found a place to eat good fish chowders and the plumpiest oysters ever opened. The Chowder Bowl on Cerber street is a new place to eat—but it's in an ancient building, the old Cerber House, once a theatrical boarding house in the days of hoop skirts and patches. Cerber Street is an ancient cobbled street, almost forgotten now—a little, dim corner of old Boston. At evening, you almost expect the town crier to come along with his bell and call, "Nine o'clock—all's abed and all's well!" It's high time we considered food. When meat rationing first started, Ken and Carolyn pitched right in to describe the various good ways one could cook the famous variety meats. Nobody liked it and loud were the wails of distaste. Times have changed—and our mail is full of questions now—HOW to cook variety meats? We oblige with a couple of good recipes.

Ken suggests lamb hearts, carefully washed and then the hearts are rolled in flour and browned in hot fat. Bacon fat is most savory but if that is unavailable, use drippings or lard. Then the browned hearts go in a roasting pan with sliced onions over them. Add a cup of tomatoes, half a cup of water and cook slowly and covered on top of the stove until the hearts are tender—two or three hours. After the first hour's cooking, add a cup of sliced carrots and a little more water as it cooks away. Season it and make gravy to serve over the hearts.

Carolyn suggests the Pennsylvania Dutch trick with kidneys. Slice them fine and sprinkle them with powdered cloves and grated lemon peel. Then slice onion fine and brown them lightly, add the sliced kidneys and simmer them until the juice stops flowing. Then sprinkle lightly with flour, add a little herb vinegar, some broth or bouillon, season to taste and cook till tender.

As the season for spring house cleaning approaches, George Graves is alarmed by the urge to clean gardens. He warns against raking the leaves out from under hedges and he is totally against bonfires. Compost is the love of his heart and it means easier week-ends for us all.

So long, everybody!

Camping and Canoeing Program On Charles River

Starting in the early Spring a camping-canoeing program will be inaugurated for older boys on the upper Charles River at the Spring Street Bridge in West Roxbury.

This is headed up by Albert West, newly appointed by Mayor John E. Kerrigan as Coordinator of Recreation for the City of Boston. Associated with West is Warren F. McDonald of the Jeffries Point, East Boston, Boys' Club.

West and McDonald have been long time associates on the upper River and this project comes as the result of a long study and careful survey. McDonald was one time director of the famed Camp Karlstein in the Needham-Dedham vicinity.

The program will be started in a vacant boat house which will be taken over and stocked with canoes and camping equipment, and made available to boys who could otherwise not know the joys and fellowship of canoeing.

In this connection canoes are badly needed and the trustees are willing to pay highest cash prices although many public spirited citizens are donating canoes and camping equipment for which they have no further use in an effort to make the great outdoors available to as many youngsters as possible.

Persons wishing to donate or sell a canoe or camping equipment may contact Mr. West at Capitol 274 or by writing to his law office at 11 Beacon street, Boston 8.

Dr. Friedman Interviewed on Radio

Rev. Dr. Kalman Friedman, 101 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, was interviewed by Priscilla Fortescue on her "Good Morning Ladies" program Wednesday, March 14 at 9:00 a. m. over WEEI.

Dr. Friedman was formerly professor of Ancient History at the University of Florence. Priscilla Fortescue decided that radio was her favorite medium after working both in the legitimate theatre and in motion pictures.

She has two radio programs daily Her afternoon broadcast of "Hollywood Snapshots" brings intimate glimpses of the stars. Each week she visits the movie capital to renew her many friendships there.

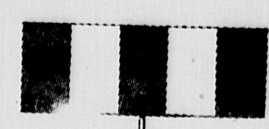

Miss Constance Cleveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland of Newtonville, played Beethoven's Sonata in C Minor at the second Creative Vesper program of the year held recently at Hose in the Pines, Norton, Mass. Miss Cleveland is at present home visiting with her parents.

Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts of Newton will join with other Scouts and Leaders throughout the United States in an effort to collect 150,000 tons of waste paper during March and April.

Recognizing that waste paper continues to be one of the nation's critical shortages, the War Production Board, through its chairman, J. A. Krug, called upon the Boy Scouts of America to collect wastebasket scraps, brown bags, wrapping paper, corrugated and cardboard boxes and cartons, magazines, books and newspapers.

The campaign is sponsored by General Dwight D. Eisenhower because he knows personally of the great need for waste paper in the war effort.

A General Eisenhower - Boy Scout Waste Paper Campaign Medal will be given to each Cub Scout or Boy Scout who collects 1,000 pounds of waste paper during the two months. The medal, suspended from a red and white ribbon, bears a likeness of General Eisenhower with the inscription "War Service 1945" and "Boy Scout - General Eisenhower Waste Paper Campaign." On the reverse of the medal is the inscription, "Awarded for extraordinary patriotic achievement in the Boy Scout Gen. Eisenhower Campaign, March - April, 1945."

A genuine shell case that carried a 75mm. shell or larger and that has been returned from a European battlefield after use will be awarded to each Cub Pack, Boy Scout Troop or Senior Scout Unit which has collected waste paper equivalent to 1,000 pounds per boy member. Each will bear a printed citation by General Eisenhower.

These shell containers have been specially processed it cannot be used again.

Widowed Mother Praises Red Cross

March 18th has been designated as Red Cross Sunday in the churches and Mrs. Margaret E. O'Connell of Newton Highlands, a widow, will attend her church with gratitude in her heart for Red Cross Home Service. Her son, Lt. Robert P. O'Connell, a paratrooper of the 101st Airborne Division, was wounded in France after ten days in action. Having another son, Cpl. John, somewhere in England, Red Cross was able to contact him and arrange for a furlough so that he might spend two days with his wounded brother. The morale of Lt. Robert O'Connell received a tremendous boost and he is now well on the road to recovery.

In a letter to the Newton Red Cross, Mrs. O'Connell says: "As I knew he had been wounded by a grenade, I was intensely worried. Having now received such satisfactory information from John relative to Robert's condition, my stress of mind has been relieved. This mother's heart is deeply grateful to the Red Cross and to you for your kind efforts. In appreciation I enclose my check for $5.00 to enable the Red Cross to be helpful and kind to others in time of like urgency, as you have been to my only sons and their widowed mother."

Amazing Record

"Better than 99% for safety!" That is the record of the Mutual Savings Banks of Massachusetts according to the most recent official report of the Commissioner of Banks to the Massachusetts Legislature. As a vivid illustration of the security of deposits in these mutual savings banks, he stated that every forty days (or more than 9 times during 1943 alone) these banks have paid out to their depositors an interest on deposits an amount equivalent to the total losses sustained in a century and a quarter.

The record of the Newton Savings Bank is even better for, in its 115 years' history, its depositors have sustained no withdrawal losses. This bank has safeguarded more savings and financed more homes and more educational programs than any other bank in its area. It is today one of the soundest as well as one of the oldest banks in the country.

Come right to headquarters if you are interested in planning a budget, saving systematically or occasionally; saving money on your life insurance premiums, obtaining a temporary loan with either collateral or endorser's, or buying, repaying or re-financing a home. (This bank can write any form of mortgage desired.)

You need no introduction—you incur no expense or obligation. A sound bank—a friendly bank—welcomes you.

Highland Glee Club Concert Attracts Large Audience

The Spring Concert of the Highland Glee Club was held Tuesday evening, March 13, at the Newton High School Auditorium before a large and enthusiastic audience. The Club was assisted by Mr. Ralph Talley, baritone, and the guest artist was George Fior, distinguished Boston pianist. In addition, the Club was very much honored by having Richard Donovan, Professor of Music at Yale School of Music and Conductor of the New Haven Symphony Orchestra, come up from New Haven to conduct his own composition.

Under the leadership of their Conductor, D. Ralph Maclean, the Club opened the concert with two groups of songs and it was evident that, despite the war conditions and the loss of some thirty men in the Service, the high standards of the Club had been maintained, in the artistry of their singing, and beauty of tone.

Mr. Fior, who has appeared with the Club before, played two groups of piano solos and it was evident that, despite the war conditions, he must have been very gratifying. Mr. Fior is a very sensitive artist, and while his technique is flawless, it is the beauty of tone and artistic interpretation of his playing, combined with his flair as a program builder, that stamps him as an outstanding artist.

As an innovation, the second half of the concert, Mr. Maclean presented some of the numbers sung by Fred Waring's matchless Glee Club, including "This Is My Country," and three war chantes, "The Erie Canal," "A Railroad Chant," and "Hail Away Joe."

Ralph Talley, noted Boston baritone, assisted the Club in these numbers, and his work added greatly to their effectiveness. Paul W. Thayer, tenor soloist in the Club, was also heard to good advantage in the "Railroad Chant."

The concert concluded with the ever beautiful "Lord's Prayer" and the Navy hymn "Eternal Father, Strong to Save." These two impressive songs were in keeping with the spirit of the times and left the audience in a restful and spiritual mood.

Musically and dramatically the high spot of the evening was Richard Donovan's "Fantasy on American Folk Songs." A brilliant four-hand arrangement of the orchestra score was played by the Conductor of the Highland Glee Club, D. Ralph Maclean, and the regular accompanist, James Gray. The work consists of two quiet folk songs and two rollicking ballads. Mr. Ralph Talley sang the solo parts.

S. Sgt. Dillaway Killed in Britain

S. Sgt. William Dillaway of 25 Endicott, Newton Highlands, was killed recently in England, according to final word received by his mother, Mrs. Helen G. Dillaway. A member of the 9th AAF Sgt. Dillaway was in the service 2 1/2 years, most of which time was spent overseas. He took part in the African Campaign, Sicily, and the European theatre. He was holder of the Presidential Citation and Air Medal.

Sgt. Dillaway has a long honorable record as a Scout and Scout Leader of the Scouting Council of Newton Highlands and held every office in that Troop, until he finally received the highest rank in Scouting—Eagle Scout. He served in Europe for the last seven of his Newton Troops and spent much of the time at the Nobscot Reservation. He was a member of Leif Erickson Rover Crew and attended the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Birkenhead, England.

He carried his enthusiasm for the Movement wherever he traveled. While in Hartford, Conn., he was active in Scouting and during his military career, he found time to work with boys and demonstrate American Boy Scouting in Africa, Italy, and Europe.

Sgt. Dillaway was beloved by all boys who received his enthusiasm—a striking testimony of this was evident last Christmas when he received 60 packages during the holiday season—sent to him in Europe by Scouts and Scout families in Newton.

In addition to his mother, Sgt. Dillaway is survived by his sister, Clara, and a twin brother, Sgt. C. W. Dillaway, a former professional executive in Scouting.

Masons Hear Casady on Insurance

Speaking on "The IF in Thrift" at a meeting today of Norumbega Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Newtonville, March 12, 1945, Clyde S. Casady, executive secretary of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, discussed probable post-war trends in life insurance, with particular reference to the huge total of U. S. Government Insurance now held by members of the armed forces, the sizable amount of group insurance issued to workers in war industries, and the development of Social Security benefits.

Mr. Casady expressed the hope that returning servicemen would convert at least part of their present Government insurance to the permanent National Life Insurance policies. He stated that the cost of Government insurance is low, benefits are liberal, and the policies contain several valuable provisions not obtainable from private companies.

The speaker predicted a substantial replacement demand for new insurance from those who may be forced to drop present protection as a result of unemployment or sharply reduced income during the period of readjustment to peace time industrial operation. The probable termination of many group insurance policies during this period will bring home to many workers that this type of protection is not a sound substitute for permanent forms of protection. He feels that Social Security payments to insure numbers of people who reach retirement age, and to widows and children, will tend to increase the popularity among other persons of both annuities and life insurance.

policies providing income to supplement such benefits.

Mr. Casady also emphasized the fact that insurance needs change as a person grows older. A young man with a growing family requires the greatest principal amount of protection, whereas when the children become self-supporting, the emphasis shifts toward provision of income for support at retirement age.

"There will be a great expansion of private insurance after the war," the speaker predicted. "Through government insurance and Social Security, millions of people have been educated in the importance of providing adequate protection for their families on a monthly income basis. Where people used to think in terms of one or two thousand dollars of principal, they now think of the income installments that their policies will produce. This creates a wider demand for more protection."

"With the increasing public understanding about life insurance, the future emphasis in the life insurance field is bound to be less on salesmanship and more on broader service by qualified personnel," said Mr. Casady. "In the continued growth of our own Savings Bank Life Insurance system, where policies are issued over the counter at lower cost to people who are in evidence of this growing trend toward greater emphasis on service and less need for salesmanship. When inflated war wages decline, and restrictions on consumer goods are removed, many wage earners once again will feel the pinch. Then they will become price conscious again, and savings in the cost of their insurance will become more important."

Announcement has been made by the Public Relations Section, ETO United States Army, of the promotion from Private First Class to Corporal of Margaret E. Crowley of 151 Tremont street, Newton. Corp. Crowley is with the Supply Division in Paris, France.

Newton Missionary Released from Jap Internment Camp

Mrs. Lucille J. Downs of 144 Hancock street, Auburndale, has just received, through the American Red Cross, her first letter from her husband, Rev. Darley Downs, recently released from Los Banos internment camp in the Philippine Islands. Both Mr. and Mrs. Downs are Congregational missionaries of the American Board of Foreign Missions, and at present Mrs. Downs is serving in the Foreign Department national headquarters, 14 Beacon street, Boston.

Mr. Downs reports that he sat with tears running down his cheeks as he read the letters from home which reached him through the Red Cross. His weight, he reported, was down to 118. His normal weight, says Mrs. Downs, is around 165.

"The food here will soon make a difference. I had just the regular meal all day, but parts of two cans of corned beef and two cans of spam made up with a few handfuls of rice," adds Mr. Downs. He pays great tribute to the work of the Army and the Red Cross in managing the large number of refugees with only a few days of preparation and with hostility still in progress. "They are doing a grand job," he writes.

Although Mrs. Downs has received no official notice from Washington of her husband's release, all other Congregational missionaries in Los Banos have been reported, and prior to the personal letter which reached her in Boston today she had heard indirectly through a correspondent of the Chicago TRIBUNE. This newspaper man on duty in the Philippines had relayed to his paper a message from Mr. Downs to Mr. C. F. Jarrard of Berwyn, Illinois, brother of Mrs. Downs, stating: "Safe Well Happy. Am Unbelievably Grateful To Uncle Sam And His Son."

Mrs. Downs has been separated from her husband since March 1941 at which date American missionaries with children were requested by the U. S. State Department to leave Japan. Mr. Downs remained in Japan until August 1941 when he went to Davao, Philippine Islands for temporary service on Mindanao with the American Board Mission there. Following Pearl Harbor he was interned first in Davao, then in Manila, then at Los Banos.

Mr. Downs was a teacher, Mission Secretary and Director of the School of Japanese Language and Culture in Tokyo. For a time he was instructor at Kobe College. He was born and educated in Colorado and is a graduate of Denver University (class of 1917).

Mr. Downs has a son, Lt. A. J. Downs, in the U. S. Marine Corps, now in active service in the Pacific; a daughter, Portia A. Downs, freshman at Northwestern University; and a second son, Ray Downs 12 years old, a pupil in the Warren Junior High School of West Newton. His mother is Mrs. A. O. Downs of 718 Exchange street, Emporia, Kansas.

Eyestrain Picks its Victims

YOUNG!

One school child in five, on the average, has defective vision. Four college students in ten are victims of eye troubles. Accustomed for many centuries to outdoor living, mankind has never fully succeeded in adjusting eyesight to ordinary indoor lighting.

Fortunately, science is bringing sunlight indoors. And the science of seeing is teaching us how to use indoor light with the least danger of eyestrain.

Here are four simple rules for eyesight conservation. It will pay every family to follow them:

REMEMBER THESE FOUR SIMPLE RULES

1. Do all reading, studying, sewing, game-playing close to a good reading lamp.

2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.

4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

"Whereas Newton enjoyed under his direction an enviable record as a community where safety and a sense of security from the hazards of fire were predominant, and

"Whereas Clarence Randlett was respected and admired not only by his subordinates but by all who knew him, we, the Board of Aldermen, hereby "Resolve: that the City of Newton has been greatly benefited by the long, faithful and able services of Clarence Randlett, and that his memory and accomplishments will remain as a monument to those who follow him.

"Be it further Resolved: that this Resolution be spread upon the records of the city and a copy be sent to his family."

Wave Officer Joins Newton Post, A.I.

At the meeting of Newton Post, American Legion held in the War Memorial Building, Newton Centre, on last Thursday night, fifteen new members were admitted, including Mrs. Mary Allen Breakall, the first WAVE officer to be enrolled in the Post and Miss Elizabeth Mullen, former member of the W.A.C. A total of 725 paid-up members was reported toward the goal of 1,000.

Guests included Commander Thomas F. Dowd, a member of the Post and Lt. William Healy Jr., a submarine officer on leave. Past Commander Charles Raymond Cabot was the principal speaker. A Red Cross film was shown and Brother Peter of the Working Boys' Home showed moving pictures of the 1942 Boston College-Fordham football game.

The Post voted to recommend to the Newton Veterans' Council that a small flag be retained at each grave of the Soldiers' Lot in the Newton Cemetery. Instead of one large flag as suggested, Edmund T. Duggan, chairman of the nominating committee, requested the names of men who desire to serve as officers or delegates next year.

A Post Blood Donor Team was again organized with Ralph B. Heald as chairman. Requests were made for blood to replace amounts used by a World War II nurse and a son of one of the members. Prospective donors may notify Chairman Heald or Commander J. Edward Theriault at the Newton City Hall.

Welfare Officer John B. Foley reported that Raymond Taffe is ill with buritis. Adjust Lyman B. Whitcomb is confined with the grippe and Frank Cook has been sent home from St. Luke's Hospital in New York. John Vandewoude was present after being confined at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea for several weeks.

Awarded Citation For Bond Sales

Mrs. Gilmore Powell was awarded a U. S. Treasury Citation for selling bonds amounting to more than $12,000 during the 6th War Loan Drive at the Newton Trust Co. in Newton Highlands. Mrs. Edgar F. Hay, chairman of the War Service Committee for Newton, made the presentation at the March 14th meeting of the Newton Falls Woman's Club. Mrs. Powell is the recording secretary of the club, also the delegate to the state and city federation.

High School Departments Present "Rotogravure"

Newton Wins Safety Honors

According to the bulletin received by the Newton Police Traffic Bureau, Newton now stands in first place in the intercommunity contest conducted by the Massachusetts Safety Council among the eight cities in the state with a population of between 50,000 and 100,000, for the year 1944.

A statuette which has been awarded to the city is on display in the office of the Traffic Bureau. The bureau has cooperated with the Mass. Safety Council in carrying on a continuous campaign to reduce highway accidents not only by prosecuting offending motorists but also has conducted an educational program to enlist the aid of the public in accident prevention.

The accident record in Newton last year included one fatality, 307 persons injured and 220 collisions as compared with two fatalities, 276 injured and 209 collisions in 1943, when Newton won second place in the contest.

Parents Receive Purple Heart

Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Foley of 56 Rockland place have received the Purple Heart which was awarded posthumously to their son, Pfc. James Edward Foley, who was killed in action in France on January 5.

The boy was 18 years old and a member of the senior class of the Newton High Trade School at enlistment in the USA Infantry. He was assigned to overseas service, leaving on December 14, 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley received letters of sympathy from Secretary Henry L. Stimson and Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Washington, D. C. This is the third generation to receive a Purple Heart in their family. Mr. Albert R. Foley, the father, received his for wounds received in World War I at Alsace Lorraine, France where his son was killed, and Mrs. Foley's father received his medal for wounds received in the Civil War.

THE NEWTON GIRL SCOUTS celebrated the 33rd birthday of Girl Scouting in this country on March 12 by presenting their pennies to Mrs. H. F. Lafayette, chairman of the Juliette Low International Friendship Fund. Jean Sims, Troop 3, Newton Centre; Adrienne Knight, Troop 32, Newton; and Gail Smith, Troop 103, Newton Centre look with pride at the decorated birthday cake which was later taken to the ladies of the Stone Institute.

ALDERMEN ACT TO CLARIFY ZONING ORDINANCE

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night which was one of the shortest meetings held in several years, it was voted to hold a hearing on the recommendation of Mayor Paul M. Goddard that the dwelling house and shed at 25 White avenue be adjudged as dangerous and that disposition, alteration or regulation of these buildings be prescribed. These buildings are considered a fire menace by city officials.

The Board referred to the Street Traffic Committee a petition received from Harold DeWolf asking that Summer street, Newton Centre be made a two way street from Willow street to Beacon Street and that parking be prohibited on the east side of Summer street.

A claim for damage to property at 372 Parker street, Newton Centre from Henry J. Linn, was referred to the claims and rules committee.

Action was deferred on a recommendation from Mayor Goddard that the recreation commissioner be authorized to sell a Peeler's Roller for $400.

The mayor's recommendation that an ordinance amendment be adopted permitting the construction of warehouses in business districts and clarifying the definitions of "apartment house" and "dwelling" in the Zoning Ordinance was referred by the Board to the claims and rules department.

A communication from the Department of Public Works transmitting an application of Mobeco, Inc. for a permit for a billboard on the wall of the store at 967 Washington street, Newtonville was referred to the Franchises and Licenses committee.

Newton District Nursing Association

Miss Agnes McKinnon, head of the Guidance Counselling of the Newton Public Schools, was the speaker at the March meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association, held in the Claffin school, Newtonville. Covering briefly the department, Miss McKinnon gave interesting case histories and highlights of her work, pointing out the strong influence that health history has in helping a psychiatrist analyzing a child.

A new list of the Board of Directors of this distinguished Association was presented each member and it includes: Mrs. Louis W. Arnold; Mrs. Maurice B. Biscoe; Miss Gretchen Clifford; Mrs. Willis B. Clough; Mrs. David C. Dittmore; Miss Marion H. Dorr; Mrs. Irving J. Fisher; Mrs. William T. Glidden, Jr.; Mrs. Edgar M. Holmes; Mrs. Robert G. Hoskins; Mrs. Winslow R. Howland; Mrs. Albert S. ## Score, Lyrics, Effects, Costumes Produced by Pupils and Faculty

On Friday, March 23, at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 8:15 in the evening, the Arts Department of the Newton High School under the direction of Miss F. Eleanor Elliott, Director of Art Education, will present "Rotogravure," a stellar production combining art, dance, music and drama with a cast of 120.

"Rotogravure" is in six episodes. They are Primitive Man, Early Egyptian, Medieval Period, Eighteenth Century France, Gay Nineties, and Contemporary America, with a glimpse of a bright tomorrow. These were written, designed and staged by pupils and teachers of Newton High School. Settings, costumes, and lighting effects are by pupils and teachers, and original music was composed by pupils and teachers of the school.

As an added attraction there will be, during intermission, an exhibition of all the designs for the beautiful hand-painted costumes and stage sets in the first floor corridors and in the Social Room on the second floor of building three. The difficult musical scores and effects were written by Mr. Remley, Mr. Lasker, and other members of the Music Department, including students; the orchestra, which will play at both performances, has been busy rehearsing the strange new melodies that are to play a most important part in the program; the magnificent costumes, designed by art students, were made (created) by the Home Economics Department; the Modern Dance Group of the Girls' Physical Education Department will compose and execute dances throughout the program; the Industrial Arts and art classes are working on the six different sets necessary for Rotogravure; the Stage Crew is hard at work on the complicated lighting effects and scenery; and lastly, volunteer pupils and teachers are going up free afternoons to aid in whatever way possible to make Rotogravure a magnificent success.

Man will always be man. Outwardly he may don many and varied forms and shapes, but inside there is a great and overwhelming pattern to which he has been cut by his Creator. Let him live in a cave, or a castle, or a cottage; let him dress in animal skins, or silks, or fine tweeds; let him earn a dollar a year or a million. Yet

Rabies Clinic for Dogs This Spring

Plans have been made by city officials to hold a clinic this Spring for the immunization of dogs against rabies, for which a sum has been set aside in the budget. Last year the clinic was not held and the sum of $1,370 which had been appropriated for the purpose was returned to the city treasury.

The clinic will be conducted in the drill shed of the Newton High School by Dr. Roland Lombard, city veterinarian. The date will be announced later.

War Fund $10,985 To Go In Last Days of Campaign

"Newton is on the last pull for War Fund, and over the weekend we went past the 75% mark," says Mr. Charles B. Flood, 1945 Chairman. "To date the fund totals $159,015.

Three divisions have reached their goal—the Banking Division with Mr. Joseph E. Perry as Chairman; Oak Hill Special Gifts with Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard as Chairman; and Waban Residential, Mrs. Benjamin Miller, Chairman.

"We urge all workers to clean up their cards," continues Mr. Flood. "Maybe the last donation YOU collect will be the one to put Newton over the top."

Mrs. Richard Dort, wife of Sgt. Richard Dort, formerly of West Newton, now "somewhere in France," has received many letters from her husband telling just what the Red Cross means to him. Mrs. Dort, visiting in Waban, was so impressed she wrote a very sizeable check for the Newton War Fund. The most recent letter from Sgt. Dort discussed a Red Cross Rest Home—"This is a Rest Camp that I am in now and believe me it is just that. Here G. I. Joe is king. We are fed like the prod-gal son and don't even have to clean our own plates. The beds are real and made clean up the rooms daily. We get clean clothes from the skin out for the asking. It is really a tiny bit of G. I. Heaven in this hell-on-earth, and a privilege to come here."

The children of the community do not limit their efforts to Junior Red Cross, but do their bit to put the War Fund over the top. When one of our solicitors visited a home in Newton for the War Fund contribution, the child of the family—Barbara Dow—aged 8, said that she would like to give something too. So she ran upstairs, picked flying and eyes sparkling, and returned with her glass bank. From this she chose all her silver—four dimes and one quarter, and handed the money over with her sweetest smile. She was given a receipt, a window sticker for her very own room, and a label tab "To wear on Sundays," said Barbara, "because my everyday coat has a zipper."

Robert M. P. Kennard, Jr., of Dudley road, Newton Centre, has just given $20.06 to the Red Cross king. We are fed like the prod-

AMMUNITION FOR PEACE

Most of us have come to know the usual pattern of military victory in the war against the Axis—how first the bombers and the heavy guns prepare the way, then the engineers clear the obstacles and the mines, and finally the infantry drives forward to gain and hold another mile or many miles of what had been enemy territory.

With these things accomplished, the operation, militarily, is pronounced a complete success.

But, with a view to the immediate future and the peace that is to come, is the triumph really complete?

Each such operation frees from Axis oppression and horror, hundreds or thousands of war-ravaged innocents—the men, women and children who, during the five or more years of Axis aggression, have been stripped of all they possess and whose homes are broken and ruined. Many of them are sick and starving. Some of them are naked. Virtually all of them are without sufficient clothing, shoes and bedding—the lack of which already has cost and still is costing unnumbered human lives.

Is any victory complete which does not also achieve, in some degree, the restoration of those who are to be our partners in the peace which final victory will bring?

If their ruined homes are to be rebuilt, and their ruined towns and cities—if they are to resume lives of self-supporting usefulness—if they are to be enabled to help themselves and also help us in shaping a better and more livable world—they, at least should have sufficient clothing to cover their bodies and protect or restore their health.

Such clothing is available here in America. We do not have to strip ourselves to provide it. We merely have to visit our attics or other storage places used for our SPARE outgrown, outmoded and forgotten suits, dresses, shoes, underwear and bedding; gather up these unneeded but still serviceable things, and contribute them to the United National Clothing Collection which opens on April 1 and continues throughout that month.

Let's follow the G. I. Joes with our discarded clothes—and so make each military victory truly complete.

Collection depots will be set up all over Newton during the month of April. Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy is the local chairman of the collection drive.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

Dr. Jerome Davis

To Speak on Russia

Dr. Jerome Davis will speak on "Russia in the War and Post War World" on Monday evening, April 2, at the Newton Centre Women's Club House at 8 p.m.

Dr. Davis has recently returned to the United States via India after eighteen months in Russia. Having been in Russia for a year during the war, and also at the time of the Revolution, he knows the contrasting situations. From the summer of 1943 until January 1945 he has traveled some 10,000 miles by air over European Russia, having been twice to Leningrad, the Finnish front, Poland, Warsaw, Moscow and Riga.

With his wealth of background Dr. Davis is a forceful dynamic speaker who plans to give a picture of all sides of Russia at the present, both the dark and light shadows.

This lecture by Dr. Davis which is of particular interest at this time and which promises to be an outstanding one of the year will close the series of 1944-45. Dinner 6:45 will precede the lecture. Both are open to the public. Mrs. Sylvester McGinn is chairman of the International Relations committee which together with the Newton League of Women Voters and the Newton Council for Better World Order sponsors the lectures.

Tickets for the lecture and reservations for the dinner may be obtained from Mrs. James A. Noon, Bigelow 1820.

'Y' Swimming Teams Conclude Season

The Newton Y.M.C.A. Junior and Midget swimming teams closed the competitive season last Saturday afternoon at the local Association's pool with a dual meet against the Roxbury Boys Club teams. The honors were divided, Newton 'Y' winning the Midget affair 22 to 17, and the visitors taking the Junior meet, 29 to 18. Approximately 45 boys ranging from 11 to 16 years of age took part.

High point swimmers on the Newton team were Albert Evans and Wm. Altieri. Other point winners included Carl Fogelgren, Louis Visco, Carl Aiello, Robert Parker and William Miller.

High scorers for the 'Y' Midget group were Robert Costello, Lowell Depper and Donald Patterson. Others swimming on the winning team were John Millard, Robert Johnston, Donald Magaw and Bruno Visco.

The two 'Y' teams, coached by Wade Abbott, aquatic director at the local association, had a very successful season. The Midgets won every meet entered, including the Two-State Championships of all Mass. and Rhode Island 'Y's, garnering a total of 175 points through the season to 68 for their opponents. The Juniors, who started out the season last Fall with a win over the present Two-State Junior Champions, although later handicapped by the loss of three star swimmers to the Services, won two of their six meets, and gained a total of 137 points to 150 for their opponents.

A special dinner is being planned for all members of the 'Y' teams, to take place within the next few days, at which time Letters will be awarded.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The next meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club, is to be held Tuesday evening, the 27th of March at eight o'clock in The Workshop. This is to be an "Open Meeting" and promises to be of interest to the community for the subject "Mosquito Control for Newton" is of real importance. This is being discussed by Mr. George Stratton, State Entomologist from the State Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Leonard Jenney and Mrs. Allison Bedgell will be hostesses for the evening.

The Friendship Guild Of Second Church

The next meeting of the Friendship Guild of the Second Church in Newton will be held on March 27.

Dr. Ralph H. Rodgers of the Auburndale Church, Congregational, will speak on "Lenten Thoughts."

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policy of this newspaper—Editor's Note.)

In order that I may not be accused of writing a typical hot-weather column, let me say at the outset that this is the first in a series of carefully planned steps to remind the voters of Newton that we have a city election coming up this fall. Furthermore, present indications are that this election will not be a peaceful routine affair. Two years ago, on November 2, we had a pathetic turnout of only 5,500 voters, which was 16.4 per cent of the registered vote of 35,867. In 1941 we had 62 per cent voting and in 1939 we had 59 per cent. One reason, of course, for this sharp decline was the absence of a contest for the Mayoralty. Mayor Goddard was given a third term without opposition, whereas previously he had been obliged to turn back the threatening candidacy of our perennial Mayor, Edwin O. Childs.

Let us now glance ahead a bit. No formal statements have as yet been issued. However, the political grapevine assures me that there will be at least three candidates in the race for Mayor. Mayor Goddard has not committed himself to date. Many well-informed people think it more than likely that he will run for a fourth term; others, equally well-informed, have a hunch that he will retire in favor of some man of equal strength and prestige. One possible reason for voluntary retirement would be the fact that no Mayor in our history save Mayor Childs has been elected for MORE than three terms. Former U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks served three consecutive terms, ending Jan. 1, 1936. At that point he ran for the U. S. Senate against Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Now, who are some of the likely candidates to succeed our Mayor in the event that he should step down? Looking over the roster of the Board of Aldermen—a most natural procedure—we find the names of President Joseph B. Jamieson of Ward 6 and Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood of Ward 7. I have it on excellent authority that the President of the Board could have had the somewhat dubious honor of fighting former Mayor Childs in 1939 if his business interests at that time had permitted. Nobody knows what would have happened if Jamieson rather than Goddard had been the opposition candidate. Opinions vary, partly because the men in question are of different types. Both are conservatives and both have been outstanding public servants. Both men would draw the bulk of their support from the same elements in the city.

Jamieson is stronger today than he would have been in 1939, chiefly because he is far better known by the voters as a whole. He makes a fine presiding officer of the Board and he is universally liked. Alderman Lockwood is a political comrade. He is one of the veterans on the Board and he is also a World War I veteran. He has many and varied connections which would be a great political asset. He, too, is very well liked by the average citizen. His post as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board has given him a keen insight into the problems of the city and his work in behalf of the world war veterans has brought out the more human side of the man. The above is predicated on the theory that Mayor Goddard will not run for a fourth term. If he decides to go back it is a very safe bet that neither Alderman Jamieson nor Alderman Lockwood will oppose him.

So much for the more conservative side of the picture next fall. Regardless of what any of the above-named gentlemen may do the chances are very good that there will be at least two other candidates who will stake out their claims on the basis of greater liberalism in the field of politics.

The best-known at the moment, is Alderman Dennis M. Cronin of Auburndale, who served quite a stretch in the Board of Aldermen and then made a strong attempt to land the Democratic nomination for Congress. Since that time Cronin has apparently been playing possum. However, I know this hard-hitting gentleman very well indeed and I would be the last man to deprecate his chance of success especially in a wide-open field. He plays all the angles and knows many of the answers. Let those who frequently disagree with him on the Board well know his chances. Remember that he is a good organizer and that his appeal will be made to more than one group.

This brings me to the other possible candidate of the so-called liberals, Hugh Boyd, a former assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County and the occupant of the office adjoining former Mayor Childs in Newton Corner. Here we have another very capable and resourceful worker in the political vineyard. At the moment he holds a responsible position in organized labor and seems to be doing very nicely, thank you. My recollection is that in the olden days Cronin was known as a good organizer and Boyd as a keen strategist. Boyd will bear watching.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, March 21, 1890
Ten young gentlemen of '92 with ladies, enjoyed a very pleasant sleigh ride Friday evening. The route was towards Brookline and home by the way of Watertown. The class cheer was water many times on the road, (from Newton High School notes.)

It is said that a suspicious looking box was dropped in Thompsonville on Wednesday and that within an hour there were three fights and a half dozen bipeds unable to walk straight. Beer does not seem to agree with hens.

The average circulation of books at the Newton Free Library is now 500 a day.

Good citizens are notified of ye Hall crossing deestrick schools, which will take place by candle light in ye town hall, West Newton, March 25. The money received will be used in building ye new Central meeting house at Hull's crossing.

A shorthand class will be formed at the "Y" immediately under the instruction of Prof. Gregg of Boston.

Houghton & Dutton, Boston, are opening a boot and shoe store in Central Block, West Newton.

There seems to be no end to the different makes and names of bicycles, as about every store window in town has a different wheel with the name of a local agent. From the indications, it promises to be a great bicycle year.

March is keeping up its reputation as a very windy and disagreeable month, and although the snow has hardly disappeared there are clouds of dust on all the main streets.

Newton Graphic, March 19, 1920
The action of the Newtonville Women's Club in holding a symposium on "Know Your City" ought to be followed in every village of Newton. Too little is known of what our public officials are doing or are supposed to do. When things go wrong, there are many to complain, but few take the trouble to inform themselves about the real facts of the matter in question. Information never hurt anyone. Let there be plenty of opportunities to obtain it.

$4000 for printing 200 copies of the report of the Planning Board is quite a sizeable item. Let us hope that the report is worth the money.

Pvt. Pellegrini Loses Life On Christmas Day

Word that his son, Pvt. Victor Pellegrini, 19, lost his life on Christmas Day in the sinking of a transport in the English Channel, has been received from the War Department by Pasquale Pellegrini of 13 Lincoln road, Newton.

Pvt. Pellegrini had previously been reported as missing somewhere in the European theater of war. In a letter written on November 20 he stated that he expected to spend Christmas in England.

He attended the Newton High and Trade Schools and entered the Army in May, 1944. He arrived in England in November. Surviving him are his parents and three sisters, Mary, Dorothy and Antoinette Pellegrini.

A pro-burial mass in honor of Pvt. Pellegrini will be celebrated at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, March 24, in the Church of Our Lady, Newton.

Letter to the Editor

The Administration and the people of the United States wish to make every effort to aid in the adjustment of G. I. Joe from army to civilian life, to aid him in finding a suitable job, and to get him and millions of his buddies back on a peace-time basis. Already many service men have been discharged and are back in civilian life. Millions more will be discharged in the months or years immediately ahead. Many of these service men have become married since they entered the service and many more have already acquired a family. As they go into civilian life and start to work on their new jobs, they require housing of some sort.

The so-called G. I. Bill, making it possible for service men to finance the purchase of a home with no down payment, is of no help to the vast majority of these returning service men. Real estate prices are too high, and their earnings as they start on their new jobs are too low in the majority of cases to make it possible or advisable. At least, this is true here in this part of the country. In most cases their earnings require a modest apartment in the $35.00 a month, or less, level. Today the returning service men, back in civilian life and starting to work, are finding it extremely difficult to obtain such housing, and there is every indication that it will grow more difficult in the days ahead.

If present conditions continue, these boys, most of them strung taut from their experiences, are going to become mighty resentful at our lack of foresight. They have given months and years of their lives under all sorts of hardships and dangers, only to come back home and find it well nigh impossible to locate decent quarters for themselves and their families.

We have been talking about what we are going to do to aid returning service men, and here is a fundamental factor that will go far to determine how satisfactory his adjustment back into civilian life becomes: yet, as far as I know, no attempt is being made to meet this problem. Time is getting short! We should take steps to study this problem, devise plans to meet this problem. Time is getting short.

This is a Federal, State, and local problem. What can we do about it? Surely if there is justification for the subsidizing of housing, this obligation of ours to the returning service man would seem to me to call for it. Many communities today are discussing war memorials. To what better purpose could a war memorial be dedicated? Each city and town in the United States should determine as nearly as possible how many of its service men will return and require housing. The Federal Government should release whatever materials are necessary to construct new buildings, or remodel existing buildings, to supply small apartments at moderate rentals to these boys. They can begin to build their civilian jobs, secure in the knowledge that their families have homes, and they can begin to build their lives into normal living again. But time is short.

I believe some thinking on this subject will show it is of paramount importance in aiding the soldier to make a satisfactory adjustment to civilian life.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas V. Cl...

Dining With Jane and Bill

Bill: Hello, Sam. Thought I'd look over our garden plot. It won't be long before it will be time to plant.

Sam: Bill, you had a good garden last year; about all we got out of ours were radishes. How about some expert advice? In the first place, how do I know when it's time to plant?

Bill: My tried and true method of testing the soil is the "garden-er's squeeze." Take up a handful of soil, squeeze it, then open the fingers. If the soil has packed and the imprint of the fingers remains, it is too wet to work. If it crumbles, get out your spade, brother, the date for digging has arrived.

Sam: After all the canning you and Jane did last year and the good vegetables you had all winter, Peg had decided to can this summer. Canned vegetables are getting scarce on the store shelves. What kind of vegetables should we plant?

Bill: That depends upon the kinds of vegetables you like. You want to plant varieties as well as kinds of vegetables that will take to canning. I'd suggest that you write to the Waltham Experiment Station about varieties for our locality. If you send them a sample of your soil, they would also help you to determine the kind and amount of fertilizer your soil needs. Hi Jane. Sam, here, is getting interested in a vegetable garden.

Sam: That's right, Jane. Peg and I were green with envy over your garden last year. Peg said if we didn't have a good garden this year with plenty of greens and other vegetables, she'd move in with you folks.

Jane: We did have a good garden last year, and the greens were especially nice. If Peg wants to do any canning, she can borrow my pressure cooker. She'll want tomatoes for sure. They are easily and safely canned in a boiling-water-bath canner. Besides canned tomatoes store up vitamins A and C for the winter, and you know Bill, how many ways we have been using them.

Sam: How do you know how much space to allow for each vegetable?

Bill: Oh, I look it up in the bulletin they sent me from the Waltham Experiment Station.

Sam: Well, thanks Bill for the advice. I'll be around again. I'm off to write for that information.

To My Husband

En Route Overseas
God grant you've safely landed somewhere now.

The zigzag voyage through tempestuous seas
I follow in my heart—feel the cold breeze

Of Arctic wind that blows across the bow
Of some small ship, whose name, unknown to me,

Nor sailing time, nor flag, nor ports of call.
The oceans loom so big and ships so small

On maps and globes I stare at wondrously
Surely today will bring some message brief

To break the awful silence of the sea.
To know you're safe will be such sweet relief.

Then I can face the loneliness bravely.
These weeks of tension are the worst to bear:

'Tis if our world had vanished in thin air.

Imagine the added horror of this war without the Red Cross!

Suppose the Red Cross had never been created

THERE would now be no Army of Mercy to save and comfort the millions of lives wrecked or dislocated—all over the world—by earth's most destructive war.

No millions of pints of blood would have been collected for life-saving plasma.

No millions of heartening, sustaining food packages would be packed and delivered to despondent Allied war prisoners.

No emergency messages from loved ones would reach our worried fighters at the front.

No giant hand of compassion would be forever outstretched to help the victims of pestilence, flood, famine and hurricane.

Only unthinkable chaos would be left in the wake of battle and catastrophe—if the RED CROSS' hand of helpful mercy were withdrawn!

It is up to you to give—in gratitude that your RED CROSS was created—and grew to keep pace with the world's anguished need.

Give your dollars now—give more than ever before!

Thousands of War Prisoners would be forgotten. That they have not been abandoned to their fate in this war is the achievement of your Red Cross, which has constantly reached them, even in Japan, with morale-building parcels of food, extra clothes, medicines, cigarettes and other comforts. More and more of your dollars are urgently needed to keep our men in life, health and hope until they can be brought safely home!

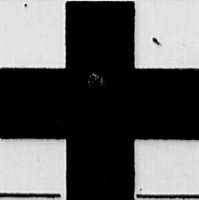

Thousands at the front would be tormented by home worries. Millions of fighters bless the Red Cross for relief from anxiety about their loved ones' welfare. Every week thousands of two-way messages are exchanged between Red Cross Field Directors with the troops and Home Service workers in their home towns—emergency questions about wives, children, sweethearts or parents. Your dollars will speed victory by bolstering fighting spirit.

Thousands would die from loss of blood where they fell. This is the first war in which the folks at home actually saved lives at the front. Surgeons General of the Army and Navy say blood plasma has been the foremost life-saver in this war. The Red Cross, through your blood donations and money, has collected and distributed millions of pints to the medical services. Your dollars will enlarge this indispensable death-defeating service.

he cannot escape from himself, cannot run from those human emotions which compose his eternal soul.
Whatever his garb, wherever his dwelling, his heart will answer to the calls of sorrow and joy, longing and love, despair and hope. And the story of man is the story of the interplay of these emotions.

There is, however, more to this story than dates and names, lined up like tin soldiers on the pages of history books. As old as man is the story of fashion and art. They too are a part of his progress. Man will always respond to beauty, wherever he finds it; he will feel the urge to create it, to express the havoc of emotion within him.
Little wonder, then, that history, fashion, and art are inseparable.
They are all a record of his journey upon earth. History expresses the times; art reveals both.

EPISODE I—Primitive Man
This is the beginning.
There is no hope, no dream, no promise of tomorrow.
This is not life. This is existence.
This is the starting point of the story of man.

Thompson; Man, Donald Cox; Painter, Douglas Johnson.
EPISODE II—Early Egyptian Kingdoms have risen and waned, have emerged during the centuries from stone caves and grass huts.
Now we stand revealed in the grandeur of the pyramids, and the beauty of gleaming temples richly adorned in scarlet, yellow, green, and indigo.

Decoted to our gods we often pay reverence to A-ten, the sun god, giver of life, light, love, and truth.

Dancers: Queen, Ann Harter;
King, Frances Murren; Fan Bearers, Patricia Noel, Pauline Noel; Attendants, Mary Caswell, Irene
Conant; Side Characters, Bettine
Brown, Ann Patterson, Musician, Sally Plisbury, Rosemary Mac-Mahon.

Solo dancer: Ina Aronson.
EPISODE III—Medieval Period
The artisans, the guild workers, they are the ones who are responsible for all that we have of artistic merit around us; they create the magnificent cathedrals, they fashion its carvings, weave its tapestries, mold its facade, design the brilliant stained-glass windows.

We are the players. It is our business to travel to all parts of this region and offer to the people such entertainment as we can.

Since so much of the life of the community centers about the church, the stories of our plays are religious ones. In the midst of darkness we strive to hold high the light of a new awakening.

Characters: Miracle players—

liam Joyce; Ham, Robert Frank;

othy Knox; Boy, Alice Vincent;

Nash; Men, 1, Robert Crosby, 2, quist, Herbert Everett, Barbara Henderson, Richard Lombardi,

Intermission—20 Minutes EPISODE IV—Eighteenth Century, France
Scientific progress is being made.
Painting, literature and music are flourishing, and a gentleman can devote all his time to being a gentleman.

Characters: Lass, Ina Aronson; Lover, Clifford Crowther.
Dancers: Ladies, Patricia Helms,
Barbara Raitto, Marcia Taylor, Genevieve Tocci; Men, Diane Carner, Georgianna Turin, Georgia

EPISODE V—Gay Nineties, America.
Mother made him buy that full-sized model of Venus de Milo and put it beside the Chippendale settee and the new hairbrush sofa.
It surely makes our parlor unique in town.

We've all sorts of machines, fancy fashions, and now all we need is a good workable bicycle.

ler; Mixed Quartet, Virginia Cousens, June Schirmer, Robert Hoskins, Clifford Crowther.

EPISODE VI—Contemporary, America.
You might say that this is the scientific age, what with machines taking the place of men, and transportation so speeded that it's just a matter of hours from coast to coast. Everything and everybody has to have its place; a man has to be a specialist to get along—and even a suit of clothes has to be streamlined to keep up with the times.

Characters:
I. Four o'clock shift—Florabelle, the gum chucker, Marcella Shelman; Light-hearted Harry, Rob-

Mesquita; 3, Patricia Dunham;

tary, Shirley Crosby; Another Secretary, Barbara Hammond; Salesman, Alan Finberg; Lady Executive, Louise Williams.

Tocci, Fred DeAngelis.
V. Headlines—Arthur Aronson,
Richard Dudley.
VI. Theatre-Bound—Andree
Chartrand, Kenneth Keyes, Shari
Meltzer, John Miles, Peter Sholley, Nancy Wiggins.
VII. Retrospective—Future,
Marilyn Welch.
Man will never answer all the questions, nor will he see beyond the horizon. Each generation will solve one problem and pose another. It is for the great men of each age to lead us on—the men of vision, who know that progress is endless, that man's hope is his faith in the future.

Gordon of $1,000 for a lot of land at the corner of Beacon street and Fenncroft road, Waban containing 13,504 square feet was rejected by the board as insufficient. On an offer by Riley W. Uhlman of $1,200 for a lot at Central avenue and Prescott street, Newtonville the Board voted to accept if the offer is raised to $2,000. The offer of Judge Donald E. Maryberry in behalf of Eugene Capasso to pay $1,000 for a lot on Rangleway road,

Safety Honors--
its part in bringing the honor to the city. The letter reads:—

"I welcome the opportunity to congratulate, each and every member of the Newton Police for a splendid enforcement job which has been rewarded by Newton again winning first place in the Massachusetts Safety Council Inter-Community Traffic Contest.

"Seriously, this is a real accomplishment when one considers the terrific handicaps of wartime enforcement. Reduced personnel, over-worked and in-many instances suffering from inexperience is doing a great job in all of our communities, but Newton stands out once more as the king city in its class. You should be proud, as I know you are.

"Of course, it's only fair to tell you that we at the Council thought well enough of your program to send a letter of congratulations to His Honor, Mayor Goddard."

Traffic Bureau Receives Top Honors In Safety Contest

By Paul Considine
EDITORS NOTE: It seems appropriate at this time, when the announcement has just been made that Newton was the winner in the 8-city Safety Contest, that recognition be given to the Newton Traffic Bureau, for the excellent work it is and has been doing, in saving life and limb on our highways. This is the first of a series of stories which the Graphic will publish, with the cooperation of the Police Department, in an effort to bring home to the public the necessity of careful observance of traffic regulations.

The Massachusetts Safety Council recently declared Newton the first place winner in a safety contest between eight cities of the Acting Chief, Nicholas Veduccio

Officer Quinn's motorcycle, wrecked after hitting tree. Parts of motorcycle are scattered near by.

Commonwealth with populations between 50,000 and 100,000, a remarkable achievement for the volume of automobile and pedestrian travel on Newton's highways.

Acting Police Chief Nicholas Veduccio commenting on the city's newly won honors gives credit to the Traffic Bureau, motorcycle and cruiser patrols and to the police who guard crossings, especially to the guardians of school children, for Newton's present standing in the safety records.

"Every man in the Department has done his part in winning this distinction for Newton," the Chief added "and the record will improve as time goes on."

Newton's low accident rate is due to a policy of constant vigilance rather than a series of so-called "drives," according to Sergeant William H. Dowling, who heads the Traffic Bureau. The apprehension of the careless or thoughtless automobile driver is not always a court matter either, according to the records up there.
The majority of lesser traffic violators escape with a warning and that's the end of their troubles unless they are caught offside

Sergeant Dowling, a veteran of twenty five years traffic experience, with Inspectors Thom McEneaney and Edward W. Chadwick, is now issuing warnings to the motoring public that with more cars on the highways, increased vigilance and care will be necessary. Driving conditions are hazardous because of uncertain road surfaces and the mechanical difficulties that will be experienced by drivers of aging automobiles.

At the Traffic Bureau, the highway's greatest menace, it may be driving a stolen car, escaping after a hot-up or just a plain nut. He can be one of a great many things.
The job of the police is to find out just what the idea is, and if he doesn't stop on signal, it's their job to help him out on the brakes.
That's when the chase starts and the picture on this page shows where it sometimes ends.

Back in the evening of September 14 1944 Officer Owen Quinn, riding that motorcycle along Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, signaled the driver of a speeding car to stop whereupon the driver put on an additional burst of speed, heading directly for Quinn. It was close, but Quinn managed to get out of the way and then to pursuit of the fleeing car.

We had a bad storm the day before the street lights were still out of order and limbs torn from the trees by the high winds. Littered commonwealth avenue. The speeding car hurled one of them and Quinn, just behind, tried to avoid doing the same thing and skidded head-on into the tree you can see in the picture.

The driver of the speeding car escaped... Owen Quinn is now learning to use crutches.

Next week the GRAPHIC will feature a picture taken by Sergeant Dowling, showing what happens when two automobiles meet head-on.

War Fund--

War Fund drive in Newton. This is the money he earned a few months ago by selling Christmas candles. Young Bob collected all the old candle-ends he could lay his hands on, melted them down, and re-made candles in his mother's Christmas jelly moulds. It is not surprising that Bob thinks of Red Cross whenever he earns extra pennies, for his mother is an active member of the New Motor Corps, and is chairman of the Oak Hill Advanced Gifts Division for the 1945 War Fund.

Our experience in Europe has shown that liberation is not enough. Freedom from enemy oppression and aggression does not automatically cover one's nakedness.
That condition afflicts countless innocent war victims who are in dire need of your contributions to the United National Clothing Collection, April 1-30.

LETTERS

from SERVICEMEN To Their Families

Mrs. Fisher Receives Letter From Son

I think we all enjoy hearing or reading about how different situations, experiences and people in other countries, affect or impress our boys overseas.

An excerpt from a letter from my son, who is a pharmacist's mate, reads, "I've been thinking again, about when I first got over here—I remember giving a few cents to a beggar, or a poor cripple, and often, too. Then there was the fellow who trusted me enough to let me open up his thumb and fix it so it would heal properly. All these tiny things, that mean so much to the individual, also the happiness it brought to me. Then time passed, and my mind developed a sort of schizophrenia, or two personalities—one was me all the way down, deep, too, and then the other was a face—a face put on by the hardness of cold fact. Like in one place, you could do a bit for say twelve or twenty people; then in another that is hard hit, people don't come in dozens, but literally thousands. Here, for instance, a woman, worn and haggard, carrying a little square card, badly beaten with age—My husband is dead, the American bombs killed him and my two sons, and baby, I would be glad for donation. Thank you so kindly."

This is very typical—I have one of those cards in my souvenir book. Another comes to you, holds on to you, maybe she has a tiny baby, half naked, with the snow and sleet tearing into its tender flesh.

You give her a donation, and there are hundreds, same character, same principle involved and they hold onto you, as you try to get away, and they go on crying in an odd, squeaky way.

It's just downright pitiful, that's all, and you refuse to give out—that's the outer self. You would be poor in fifteen minutes, if you had an unprotected other self.

Then there are the kids, all sizes and ages, who want to sell you things, rings, pins, anything, to get some American "green" money.

Then again they will buy anything from peanuts to cigarette butts, or tangerines.

The American money is stable, and fine le guerre, it will be good, where, no doubt, their money may be worthless.

Cigarettes sell as high as $20 a carton; yes, there is a shortage here, as well as back home. Still dreaming of you and home, and hoping that it won't be too long before I see you all again."

All my love, Your son "Clip."

Dearest Family: I know you'll be glad to get this letter after waiting so long. It's the first chance we've had in quite some time.

As you probably know the Fifth Marine Division landed on the island Iwo Jima in the Volcanos around the 19th of this month.

The going was pretty rough for a while but now we "have the situation well in hand. The place was in the Rock of "Gibraltar" to crack but the "fellas" have done a wonderful job.

We landed about five hours after the assault wave and it's the first time in history that the artillery has come in on D-Day. The gun sections have done a wonderful piece of work, time and again breaking up Jap counterattacks with their timely and accurate firing. Our "forward observers" have also been excellent right at the front lines. They say our battery's in for a decoration. I hope so cause they sure have earned it. I'm sure glad I'm in this division as even the Fourth Division General said the Fifth was the fightingest outfit he'd ever seen.

I've had it O.K. save for the first few days which kept me in my hole. Another fellow and I have been living in this foxhole (about our 15th) for seven days now, and we have all the modern conveniences of an up-to-date home save for running water. We get half a helmet full every once in a while to take a sponge bath. That's the only thing I mind—keeping clean. I have an 18-day old mustache now—ya oughta see it. Have plenty to eat and the rations are very good. I feel fine so don't worry about me. I'm lucky compared to many poor boys.

I've done a little souvenir hunting and picked up a few things. Lots of these pill boxes still have Japs in them. We usually toss a few grenades in first.

It's too dark to see now, so goodnight—I'm writing in Jap ink. Love, Robert.

Pfc. R. G. Mellor, Newton High '43, 19 yrs. (A Marine at Iwo Jima)

THE YANKEE KITCHEN

with Ken and Carolyn

The first official activity of Spring has come and gone—the annual Spring flower show at Horticultural Hall in Boston. This year, it showed signs at last that there is a war, for the displays were not quite as grand and extravagant as in former years. But it was beautiful if you could forget your feet. The orchids were, uncharacteristically, usual. The mimosa room was like walking into a bath of golden sunshine. We could have enjoyed seeing more lilacs and azaleas but we were delighted with the large display of cacti, the clowns of the plant world. One was tall and spiky and wore a red ping-pong ball on its side. Allen Wood tells us that the ping-pong effect was a fruit.

And Ken and Jessie had guests this week-end who taught them the mysteries of a new game called Check Pinchle. Ken is recommending it to everybody who enjoys bridge though Carolyn fails to see the connection. Ken says it is a game where the women can talk about hats all they want to and still get along all right.

Carolyn is sailing more or less out of this world and into a savage, cannibal world with a knife in her teeth and wild yells erupting from her throat. It is the result of seeing the Don Cossacks for the first time and Ken is highly amused. They compare notes on these magnificent singers and actors and both agree that seeing them is as important as hearing them. The Don Cossacks please us by singing tender love songs with the same punch and gusto

Although we do not discuss our political opinions in our broadcasts, we do feel that things should keep abreast of the great and strange things happening in the world. We are much interested in the new stories coming out of China—stories that are finally being released. We have read and recommend two books to everybody: "Report on Red China," by Harrison Forman, and "People on Our Side," by that great and exact reporter, Edgar Snow. These books deal with communism—central and northern China and we ought to know about it.

But as interested as we get about larger world affairs, which after all, are somewhat out of our immediate orbit, things still move here at home and the gardens are beginning to become important again. George Graves discusses roses and pruning them. It all sounds very interesting but we cannot report on it as we are ranked amateurs. Therefore, we suggest that those of you who want scientific guidance in this thorny matter, write George Graves in care of us and we shall gladly and promptly turn all such communications over to him.

We received a joke this week on a very valued friend of ours—a man whom we admire greatly. Carol Grimshaw's very young son, Butch, is an ardent radio fan and is enamored of a certain "Cigarette broadcast." His mother could not place the program so she pined for him. Butch's answer was classic. "You know the cigarette man that belongs with the Yankee Kitchen and who does all the fighting? Cigarette Foster!" We feel very honored that Butch regards Mr. Foster as belonging with the Yankee Kitchen.

Holy Week is approaching—a week of fasting and prayer and a week of a favorite delicacy to the children—and all of us. We delight in the history of Hot Cross Buns, originally to have been invented by Cuthbert, the mythical founder of Attica. Cuthbert offered these cakes to various divinities and even then, they were adorned with a stylized cross perhaps to signify the four phases of the moon.

The Egyptians offered these cakes to their moon goddess, Isis, and those cakes were adorned with horns, symbolic of the moon. Jeremiah made one of his famous jeremiads knead their dough "cakes to the queen of Heaven!"

The Romans offered these cakes to their moon goddess, Minerva, and those cakes were adorned with a stylized cross perhaps to signify the four phases of the moon. Jeremiah made one of his famous jeremiads knead their dough "cakes to the queen of Heaven!"

So Hot Cross Buns have always been associated with religious ceremonies though today they are the great Lenten delicacy and a fruitily delight to the children.

CAPT. HARRIET C. STOUT of the Women's Army Corps confers with Mayor Paul M. Goddard on need for hospital technicians.

Mayor Appeals for Wac Technicians

To the Citizens of Newton: General Marshall has asked the Governors of our forty-eight States to give their full support to the Women's Army Corps drive for hospital technicians, and Governor Tobin, in response to the General's plea, has set the Massachusetts quota at 650.

Newton's share of this quota is twelve, and it should not be very difficult to recruit this number to serve in our Army hospitals. Already 335 women from this City have entered the Service, out of an approximate total of 8100.

WAC hospital technicians need not be skilled workers. Any woman of average intelligence, average strength, and a sincere desire to be useful, can learn to care for our wounded men. The Army gives six weeks of supplementary hospital training, very much the same as Nurses' Aide training, to women who have had no hospital experience. These women are urgently needed.

If you are eligible for enlistment in the Women's Army Corps, if you can help to save the life of a single American boy—don't hesitate, but come forward now.

Please write, visit or phone WAC Recruiting, 276 Boylston street, Boston, telephone—Kenmore 3600.

PAUL M. GODDARD,
Mayor.

Several Newton citizens will figure prominently in the fall campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund for 1946 needs which will be conducted in 53 metropolitan communities, Oct. 1 to 17, Michael T. the solidarity of the people of Greater Boston. Within the next few months thousands will volunteer throughout the metropolitan area to carry on this campaign for Red Feather and wartime services.

Responsible for a large share of this recruitment will be Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale who is already hard at work as chairman of the Metropolitan Division. A master in campaign organization and fund-raising, he has long since proved his capabilities, as chairman of the local Red Cross drives the past four years.

Mr. Floyd is on the boards of directors of the Newton Community Chest and the Newton Community Chest campaign in 1943, and as chairman of the local Red Cross drives the past four years.

Others from Newton holding responsible positions in the 1946 United War Fund campaign are: Vice-chairmen, Charles E. Spencer, Jr., president, First National Bank of Boston, and James V. Toner, president, Boston Edison Company, chairman of audit, J. Arthur Noon of Ernst and Ernst; chairman of reports, Norman H. E. Vincent of Robert Douglas & Company.

Former U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks will head the Campaign Council which includes S. Bruce Black, president, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company; Brig. Gen. Calvin DeWitt, Jr.; Arthur W. drive for home front and war-related needs. Mr. Kelleher lauded the Greater Boston spirit which has made possible the completion of the entire top personnel a full six months in advance of the actual launching of the campaign.

"Their willingness to assume leadership in this great cause for community and country reflects the seriousness of the needs for 1946, which according to present indications will be greater than ever before," Mr. Kelleher declared. "It is a superb example of

Red Cross War Fund Soars Over the Top

Newton Red Cross War Fund went over the top on Monday, March 26, with $192,254 collected so far. This was announced by Charles B. Floyd, Chairman of the 1945 War Fund at the Round-Up dinner for the Greater Boston Allied Chapters, on Monday evening, March 26, at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

"There never was any question but what Newton would make its goal during the month of March," said Mr. Floyd, "but the fact that we reached our quota by March 26th is a reflection on the unusually fine co-operation our committee received this year from the fifteen hundred volunteer workers who solicited for the Fund, and from the loyal people of Newton who responded so magnificently."

One of the donations made to the fund was sent by Mrs. Samuel

B. Paul of Halcyn road, Newton Centre, with the following letter: "Please accept this additional contribution. Having read of the prisoner of war who gave his accumulated Army pay, I believe that the least I can do is to give more than I had planned. I hope that it will help in some small way to further the magnificent work of the Red Cross."

Another grateful donor was Louis Volpe of Newton Centre, whose son was injured in Germany and wrote to his parents from a hospital on American Red Cross letterhead, that he was lying flat on his back so he had to dictate his first note to a Red Cross hospital worker. Mr. Volpe knows that wherever his son goes with the armed forces, the Red Cross will be at his side.

Representing the Newton Chapter at the Round-Up Dinner were: Charles Raymond Cabot, Chapter Chairman; Charles B. Floyd, Chairman of 1945 War Fund; George S. Fuller, Chapter Treasurer; Mrs. Maurice B. Strauss, Chairman of Public Relations; Mrs. Henry T. Patch and Mrs. Walter Webbling, War Fund Secretaries, and the following key Chairmen for the campaign: Miss Elizabeth W. Bartlett, Mrs. Robert P. Bolster, Mrs. Edgar C. Burkhardt, Mrs. C. Axel Collins, Mrs. John C. Campbell, Henry T. Dunker, Charles E. Gibson, Theodore R. Lockwood, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Mrs. E. K. Mestzer, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Robert Pearson, Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce, Albert A. Schneider, Miss Lillian Swartz, William V. Tripp, Jr., and John S. Whittemore.

H. S. Canteen Open April 2

A high school canteen, planned and operated by the students, will be a reality on April 2nd when one hundred and fifty-three of the Newton High School students will have completed work on putting the building at 15 Highland Avenue, Newtonville, into shape and ready for operation. It will be an afternoon spot where youngsters can stop on their way from school, chat a bit, have a soda, dance to the music of a juke box, and be on their way.

For some time there has been a crying need for an afternoon recreation spot near the center as high school students are dismissed. The students themselves have taken a whole building, renovated it, painted it, cleaned it up, and found the equipment and put it in order.

Under the leadership of Richard Melick of 112 Clark Street, Newton Centre, the students of the high school have seen the project through from start to finish. The Student Committee has been assisted by an Community Adult Committee headed by James R. Bryant of 46 Greylock Road, Newtonville. Mr. Bryant has been assisted by members from various civic and church organizations in the community.

The project had its inception last fall when members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi, high school organizations of the Y. M. C. A., took the initiative and suggested that a canteen be made available. (Continued on Page 5)

Newton's Quota 170 Tons

125,000,000 persons in the liberated countries of Europe are in desperate need of clothing, shoes, and bedding. When the Nazis invaded their homes, these millions were robbed of everything except the clothes they were wearing. New supplies were cut off when the invaders commandeered their textile mills. Consequently, garments have worn thinner and thinner and have been patched and re-patched; shoes are without soles; and bedding has largely disappeared.

The National Clothing Collection is a united effort on the part of UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) and various voluntary war relief agencies of the United States. The purpose of the collection is to secure the maximum quantity of good used clothing for free distribution to needy and destitute men, women, and children in war devastated countries.

150,000,000 pounds of good substantial used clothing for both winter and summer wear is needed. Clothing need not be in perfect repair but it must be useful to the people who will receive it. Underclothing of all types or cotton garments should be washed but not necessarily ironed. Shoes, bedding, remnants, piece goods, and all types of infants', boys', men's, girls' and women's garments are needed. Newton's quota is 5 pounds per person.

The collection will be held throughout the country during the entire month of April. Beginning April 9, residents of Newton are asked to deliver to fire stations, schools, churches, and possibly other centers their donations to the collection. School (Continued on Page 5)

THE LETTER

YOU DIDN'T WRITE!

It ain't the heat, nor the blistered feet,
Nor the meals of Spam in place of meat,
Nor the butter like lard, nor our turn at guard,
None of these is one half as hard
As the jolt we get, after all the sweat,
And a cheery voice says, "No mail yet."

And it ain't the breeze, like a dragon's sneeze,
That peels the hide and weakens the knees,
Nor the dirt in your gun, nor the broiling sun,
These are forgotten when day is done;
But our voices fail and our faces pale
If we draw a blank when it's time for mail.

We stand the flies and the sand in our eyes,
The orders, the rumors, the truth and the lies,
The mosquitoes swarm and the water warm,
And the wards that reek of chloroform,
What takes our fight and makes throats tight
Are the letters somebody didn't write.

Gregorian To Speak At Kiwanis Meeting

Arthur T. Gregorian, of Newton Lower Falls will speak at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, next Wednesday noon at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Gregorian's topic will be "Oriental Rugs, and the People Who Make Them."

Rotary Club

The guest speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday was Professor Paul E. Johnson of the Boston University School of Theology, who spoke on "Universal Military Training." He listed and explained in detail a great many arguments in favor of this plan, such as Better Preparedness to meet wars, Reduction of Casualties in War, Presenting a more determined front to the world, Elimination of the danger of a professional army, Educational and Health values, Better Citizenship and less Unemployment. As against these, the direct threat to World peace by a large standing army, the defeat of unity among the United Nations, the importation of a European institution—which never has prevented wars in Europe but always has led to bigger and better wars, the Un-American idea of conscription, enslaving the free conscience of the individual to the State, Higher taxation, Fostering of imperialism and stimulation of an invisible government of bureaucracy. All in all, Professor Johnson felt that no heavy decision should be made now and that the 12 million men and women in the service should have an opportunity to express their views on the subject. The lively discussion which followed, was proof of the interest in Professor Johnson's talk.

The Bushnell Report

The long-awaited report of Robert T. Bushnell, until recently Attorney General of Massachusetts, made its appearance not long ago and received far less comment from the press than it deserved. To be sure, the political writer who appears to be closest to the state administration did refer to it and quote several large chunks of material. However, very little was said to indicate whether or not the report was good, bad or indifferent.

I propose to be more specific. In fact, it might be helpful to the general public if I should take the time and the space to quote and comment on a good many paragraphs in this most illuminating document. This week I shall merely give my readers a brief synopsis of the contents.

There are two main headings, as follows: "Criminal Law" and "Civil Law." Under the first heading we find a discussion of the job-selling racket as applied to the Police Department and to the schools. Next, the Coconut Grove prosecutions and the illegal gambling rackets. Here we have some important material about the change of location of some of the chief gamblers immediately after the Coconut Grove fire. Then comes the discussion of the Police Commissioner and related matters. After that we learn about the court rulings which blocked the prosecution. However on Nov. 21, 1943 a new Police Commissioner WAS appointed. He is Mr. Sullivan, the present incumbent. The Coleman prosecutions are taken up, as well as income tax exemption for racketeers.

Now we come to something which received very little publicity at the time, namely, the resignation of the District Attorney of the Southern District. Twenty paragraphs of the report are given to a long history of this case, which was extremely unsavory. Looking at this purely from the point of view of the general public, I am amazed to recall how little was said in the papers from start to finish. Following this we find numerous recommendations as to amendments affecting criminal law administration. Most important item here is a specific recommendation concerning the selection of judges in Massachusetts. Let's see what this is all about.

Since 1940 the state of Missouri has operated a plan which Mr. Bushnell thinks might well be useful in this state. In general terms it is this, and I quote from the report: "It consists of (1) Nominations by a Judicial Selection Commission to fill vacancies on the bench, (2) Appointment by the Governor of the nominees, and (3) a provision for the incumbent to run against his record a year or more after his appointment and at each subsequent expiration of his term." Still quoting, "In these essentials, the plan is the same as that approved by the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association in 1937. It was developed in the course of constantly recurring efforts to find a system of judicial selection which retains the democratic idea, which retains control over judges by the people, along with an intelligent method of selecting qualified candidates for judicial office, regardless of political considerations."

The commission referred to above would be composed of non-political, public-spirited citizens and would include both laymen and lawyers. Its members would be appointed by the Governor and elected by bar associations or other groups for terms of different lengths, to prevent domination of the commission by cliques or parties.

It seems to your columnist that there is much food for thought in these recommendations. Next week I shall have more to say about them. Also, I shall finish my synopsis of the Bushnell report as a whole.

Congressman Herter

Our Congressman, Hon. Christian A. Herter, made an excellent address at the all-day School of Politics conducted by the Newton League of Women Voters at the Newton Centre Women's Club last Monday. His address covered the Bretton Woods conference, the Chicago aviation conference, the food situation and the manpower situation. It was a very business-like meeting at 2 p.m. and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Lawrence Richards of Cambridge. Tea will be served at 4 p.m. The afternoon will be given over to the United Thank Offering under the supervision of Mrs. Arthur Terry.

What can you spare that they can wear? "My report on UNRRA," President Roosevelt said, "revealed that as many war victims have died from exposure and lack of adequate clothing as have died from starvation."

The people of America now are asked to contribute 150,000,000 pounds of good used clothing to the United National Clothing Collection for free distribution to the needy men, women and children of the war-devastated areas.

Eleanor Wilson Speaks at Eliot Church Tuesday

The last American woman out of the Marshall and Caroline Islands is Miss Eleanor Wilson of the American Board of Foreign Missions, who will speak Tuesday afternoon, April 3, in the Eliot Congregational Church, Newton. Congregational missionary who began her service in the Far East in Japan, Miss Wilson went to Kusaie in the Caroline Islands in 1936. For five years she taught in the American Board school at Kusaie, to which came boys and girls from other little coral atolls many sea miles away. Miss Wilson plans to go back to this land of breadfruit, coconuts and friendly people after the war, and is even now perfecting herself in the language and studying the anthropology of the Islanders.

Familiar with the Orient after eight years in Japan where she was principal of the Kobe Women's Evangelistic School, Miss Wilson fitted into the situation in the Caroline Islands where, since the end of the first World War, the Japanese had held a mandate.

Between her service in Japan and her work in the Caroline Islands, Miss Wilson served two years as an acting associate secretary in the Foreign Department of the American Board in Boston. She was born in Connecticut and educated at Simmons College.

Prior to going out to Japan in 1925 she served with the YWCA in Michigan. Life in the Caroline Islands was in sharp contrast to that in Japan, not only because of the climate and topography, but because of the isolation and the childlike character of the people among whom she worked. Mail and provisions came once a month, and outrigger canoes were for the most part the only means of transportation between the islands.

The American Board Training School at Kusaie, in which Miss Wilson taught, is based on the lines of Berea College, Kentucky, where the students learn by doing. It is located on a thousand acres of land which serves as a laboratory for developing self-reliance. It also trains teachers.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, will hold its annual Silver Tea at the home of Miss Anna E. Bonker, 176 Grove street, Thursday afternoon, April 5, from 3 to 6 o'clock. This will also be "Bundle Day" for the Church Home Society, and it is asked that those attending will bring anything salable.

Mrs. Edgar E. Dunlap of 50 Grove street were notified today that their son, First Lieut. Edgar E. Dunlap Jr., who has been ill with pneumonia, is improving nicely in a hospital somewhere in Germany.

Miss Phyllis L. Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring S. Strickland of 138 Central street was one of 12 seniors elected to the Scholastic Honor Society at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Selection for this honor is made by the faculty on the basis of high scholarship, culture, and general promise. Membership in the Scholastic Honor Society is the highest academic award given at the college.

Miss Leah Keever, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Keever of Maple street, has been chosen for the Dean's list at Colby Junior College, London, N. H. Students chosen to this list are maintained an average of B or above in all their academic subjects during the marking period. Miss Keever is a senior in the liberal arts program.

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?" "My report on UNRRA," President Roosevelt said, "revealed that as many war victims have died from exposure and lack of adequate clothing as have died from starvation."

The people of America now are asked to contribute 150,000,000 pounds of good used clothing to the United National Clothing Collection for free distribution to the needy men, women and children of the war-devastated areas.

Newton Junior Community Club

The Newton Junior Community Club program at eight o'clock on Monday, April 2, in the Newton Y.M.C.A. auditorium will be under the direction of Miss Alice M. Andersen, chairman of the nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. Myron C. Brown. Mrs. Hugh L. Robinson will be the guest speaker of the evening. Mrs. Robinson has served as a missionary in China for eighteen years. She knows the Chinese customs well and the program is timely and important as she tells of our occidental neighbors.

Refreshments will be served by Miss Eleanor Lord, Mrs. Thomas V. Seeley, and Mrs. Raymond Garon, secretary. The month of April is a busy one for the Juniors. On April 7, members, under the direction of Miss Rhoda White, chairman of the Community Service and War Cushing Hospital. Under the supervision of Mrs. J. Vincent Morrison, a rummage sale will be held on Saturday, April 14, at 415 Centre street, Newton; and on April 22, the Juniors will again hold a buffet supper with dancing and entertainment for enlisted men at the Hunnewell Club, Newton.

Newtonville Junior Woman's Club

The Newtonville Junior Woman's Club presented their annual play at the club house Tuesday evening, March 20. The play was a melodrama entitled "The Fatal Necklace" by Harris & Allen. Miss Constance Linberg, president, introduced the characters and furnished piano accompaniment. The heroine was enacted by Mrs. Helen Sweetser, the villain by Miss Helena Starbird, the villainess by Mrs. Georgia Trembier and the countess by Miss Esther Height. The audience was afforded many laughs and entered into the spirit of a melodrama by hissing the villain and applauding the hero. The Waban Junior Woman's Club also took part in the evening's entertainment and presented a comedy entitled "Red Wax" by Edward Percy which was very much enjoyed by all. Both clubs were competing in the tryouts for the Junior Department of the State Federation contest.

It was recently announced that the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club were selected to give their play in the finals at the Dorchester Woman's Club on April 14 at 2:30 p.m. Malden and Braintree Junior Woman's Clubs are also in the finals.

On Friday, March 23, the Newtonville Juniors held a swimming party at the Y.W.C.T. in Newton. April 17 is Home Talent Night at the Newtonville Club house and many delightful surprises are in store. There will also be a charity bridge April 27 at the club house and it is hoped a large number will plan to come.

Waban Woman's Club

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will speak before the Waban Woman's Club next Monday afternoon, April 2nd, and her subject will be "Behind the Headlines." A graduate of Wellesley College and an inveterate world traveler, Mrs. Taylor has been presented to the Kings of Greece, and Roumania, and has seen Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini. She is intensely interested in the trends and news of each day because she has had the adventure of knowing the people of the countries these men represent.

Mrs. James S. Barrie, Chairman of the Art Committee, has procured for this meeting an exhibit to show how aerial photography is a basis for map making. These will be displayed in the main auditorium.

Following the meeting tea will be served, and the purveyors will be Mrs. William M. Barber, and Mrs. Fred T. Huckleby.

The Waban Woman's Club will hold two Morning Musicales by Stanley Chappel to be given on April 3 and April 10 at 10:30 a.m. in the Waban Neighborhood Club. All are welcome and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Have you ever looked with envy at the fine grass grown on the golf courses? Well that excellent turf did not just happen.

A fine lawn or any area of fine turf is the result of the proper care after good seeds have germinated. You MUST START with good seed.

We have supplied the New England Golf Clubs with many carloads of grass seeds during these past 20 odd years.

The seeds we mix for the lawn trade comes from the very same bags used for golf seed mixtures. In fact some mixtures are exactly the same.

We buy ALL of our grass seeds in bulk bags from the growers or cleaners. We buy only the BEST the market affords. Every mixture you buy from us has OUR label which not only shows the purity but the germination of the individual seeds. EVERY lot is tested and so marked on the label. Who can offer more?

Our NETCO LAWN SEED MIXTURES are blended for use on LOOSE SOILS and not for the entire country.

THE YANKEE KITCHEN

with Ken and Carolyn

Ken has proven to his own satisfaction that the way NOT to see a parade is to be in it. Ken was Guidon Bearer for the Headquarters and Service Troop of the First Corps Cadets and marched five miles—and directly behind Senator Saltonstall. Ken, having bopped many Cadets with his Guidon during drills, was straining every muscle not to bop the Senator for whom he has a deep respect. All marched with fine precision and much spirit—Ken handled his Guidon with all the flourish of a fine roast of beef—but he did not see much of the parade and his description of it is lacking in colour.

However, both Ken and Carolyn observed a great deal at the home of Ben and Rose Hadfield the other evening. Ben, you know, has been announcing over W.A.C. for 20 years. The walls of their gameroom are literally covered with memories. There are pictures of a handsome young leading man (Ben) and pictures of a lovely young ingenue (Rose). Then come the pictures of plays with both Ben and Rose—the history of their life together. Then start the pictures of the newer radio career and microphones take the place of spotlights. And Ben and Rose smile at their guests and their finest smiles are saved for each other—two grand troupers whom we are proud to know.

We asked them if they had read Fred Stone's fine autobiography called "Rolling Stone." You don't have to be an old theatrical performer to enjoy this book. It's a fine book with a tear on one page and a chuckle on the next—and we think you'll be sorry if you don't read it. At least, you'll be missing something.

We seem to be theatrically minded lately and one evening found our way over to Somerville to watch the performance of H.M.S. Pinafire, by the Eastern Junior High School under the direction of Miss Rita Flanagan. Never have we enjoyed a Gilbert and Sullivan performance any more! The actors and actresses ranged all the way from 12 to 14 years of age—and what gusto! What attack! What energy! Everything happened to them that used to happen to us in our own juvenile theatricals—and we were transported back to those wonderful days when we too capered before indulgent audiences. We wish that everybody would get more into the habit of going to see our children—and the neighbors' children perform. It helps them—and does us much more good.

One of our best friends is Mrs. Cecile Kendall who lives in Providence who had a Yankee Kitchen dinner last week in conjunction with some friends of hers. It must have been a very gay table, for the centerpiece was a bottle of full power brandy and a bottle of paper towels and crowned with a tall chef's hat. Somebody drew a face on the head—a face complete with spectacles and a small black mustache. The menu was very Yankee Kitchen.

After this is a kitchen and our thoughts travel to food often. This week, we consider onions in all their majesty and might.

Flashing Red Light Means... S-T-O-P, Then E-N-T-E-R

An Accident in the Making

By Paul Considine

The afternoon of August 15, 1943, was a scorcher, according to the records. The beaches were crowded all day and only those who had to, ventured out in the excessive heat. Even the big tractor motors used to haul trailers loaded with war supplies, bailed over and called it a day when Old Sol caught up with them on the highways.

It was a good day to go automobile, however, for the speeding cars generated a breeze. A warm breeze, of course, but preferable, nevertheless, to the still, humidity of the front porch.

Upstairs at Newton Police Headquarters, in the office of the traffic bureau, the sergeant in charge, William H. Dowling, crossed his fingers and hoped the breeze seekers would obey the flashing signal light at the city's street intersections.

SGT. WM. H. DOWLING

It was really a hot afternoon. A motor tractor, going to the rescue of its stalled mechanical mate, rumbled its way along Watertown street, traveling east, as it neared the intersection at Walnut street.

A big sedan, a smooth, free wheeling job, its five passengers enjoying the breeze, approached along Walnut street.

A flashing red light signaled S-T-O-P in the direction of the sedan operator.

He didn't...

A green light flashed G-O to the motor tractor's driver.

He did, driving the huge tractor through on the green.

The tractor and the sedan met at exactly 5:15 p.m.

At 5:40 p.m. the sedan's five passengers were in the Newton Hospital.

The impact nerved one of the sedan's passengers through the door to the street.

It's good advice and Dowling has a few thousand 'accident pictures' in the traffic bureau's files to prove it.

Day Class for Newton Nurses' Aides

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

What would you think if your newly born son or daughter, sister or brother, had nothing more warming or comforting than paper clothing and paper bedding?

The newly-born in many war-devastated lands abroad have suffered—many have died—from this experience. Thousands more will suffer and die unless you contribute to the National Clothing Collection, the castoff, but still serviceable, infants' garments and layettes which now lie idle and forgotten in your attic or closet or in other storage places of your home.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W.C.T.U. will hold their Evangelistic meeting next Monday evening at 7:45 at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent street, Auburn-dale. Mrs. Helen M. Merriam will be the leader and Mrs. Alice Chandler the assisting hostess.

in civilian life, served in an army post office... Bill Swift is home on furlough, too, wearing a cane. Bill stopped one with his leg during the "Bulge" scrap... Lt. Bob Burns Jr. is still roaring along in one of Gen. Patton's tanks. He has one eye turned in the direction of Berlin and the other more or less squinting toward Newton... Lt. Herbert Yanco is somewhere in the German skies with a fighter squadron. The elite of Newton Corner's all-time restaurant, particularly the cafe socialites who grace the place in the wee small hours, are sadly missed by Herb... Sgt. Ralph McDonald is fighting it out in India. Kennedy's Corner would look all right to Ralph any time. He sent in a paper published out there and it was something to see. We're saving it... George Benham writes a self-conscious letter from Bridgeport, Conn. George snapped the pictures of familiar Newton spots appearing in "What's Cookin'!" and the comments from you gents concerning them, have him blushing... S-Sgt. Fred Harrington, another student of Japanese psychology, working his way through India and Burma, writes to say he likes W.C. and the pictures. After sixteen months out there, a picture of the Garden City certainly should look good... Tom Fitzgerald, a staff sergeant in Germany, says he's still hanging on and doing O.K. That doing "O.K." business probably means that he still finds a few poker players around... Sgt. Bill has been appearing with Marlene Dietrich, Roscoe Ates and others of the movie profession... Sailor Dick Hennessey is ailing in a Navy Hospital down in San Diego, Cal. The big guns went "boom" too often for Hennessey's small ears... Ed (Ruber) Kelly writes that Ed Dorsey and himself are near enough out in the South Pacific, to hold a weekly get-together. Both are in the army... Bob Dalton, in Italy, suggests that one of Newton's leverage stores locate in that country. The "boys" are tired of Champagne, he says... John Campbell, of the navy, has added another battle star to his collection... Bill Dowling of the Newton Police Department has made several enlargements of a snap, taken at sea, of Chiefs Jim Goddard and Jack McGrath. Goddard appears to be nursing a secret sorrow and McGrath... Ha, ha, ha... Sgt. Bob Fitzgerald is well along in his third year with a flying outfit travelling around the South Pacific.

This department's space is running out in the rapid manner and while we remember and have a little space left, thanks a million to all of you guys who've sent your letters in this direction.

Some day soon, when you have nothing better to do, let's hear from you again. In the meantime, take care, and if there's anything the over-siged can do for you, let's know.

LEGION ADMITS 15, INCLUDING TWO WOMEN

At the meeting of Newton Post, American Legion held in the War Memorial Building, Newton Center, on March 17, fifteen new members were admitted, including Mrs. Mary Allen Breckall, the first WAIVE officer to be enrolled in the Post and Miss Elizabeth Mullen, former member of the W.A.C. A total of 725 new-up members was reported toward the goal of 1,000.

Guests included Commander Thomas F. Dowd, a member of the Post and Lt. William Healy Jr., a submarine officer on leave. Past Commander Charles Raymond Cabot was the principal speaker. A Red Cross film was shown and Brother Peter of the Working Boys' Home showed moving pictures of the 1942 Boston College-Fordham football game.

The Post voted to recommend to the Newton Veterans' Council that a small flag be retained at each grave of the Soldiers' Lot in the Newton Cemetery. Instead of one large flag, as suggested, Edmund T. Duggan, chairman of the nominating committee requested the names of men who desire to serve as officers or delegates next year.

A Post Blood Donor Team was again organized with Ralph B. Heald as chairman. Welfare Officer John E. Foley reported that Raymond Taffe is ill with bursts. Adjust. Lynna B. Whitcomb is confined with the gripple and Fred Cook has been sent home from St. Luke's Hospital in New York. John Vandewoude was present after being confined at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea for several weeks.

Order designated to mobilize and put into action the full power of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks. This fund has greatly increased during the past year. One of the first things done by the Commission was to establish Fraternal Centers stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific where hundreds of thousands of servicemen find recreation and enjoyment every day. One hundred twenty-one of these Centers are now in operation.

The Disabled Servicemen's Slipper Program was inaugurated and up to the present time over 100,000 pairs of slippers have been made and delivered to veterans hospitals. In Massachusetts alone, through the Massachusetts Elks Association, over 9,000 pair of slippers have been made and delivered to the hospitals in our State.

70,000 "O" Boxes have been sent from the Lodges to its members as a reminder, that an Elk is never forgotten.

The recruiting of young men by the Elks all over the country, for the Naval Air Corps, the Sea Bees and Army Construction Engineers meet with such response, that the full quota for all branches was secured ninety days ahead of schedule.

The Write 'Em A Letter Program was designated to increase correspondence between men in the armed service and their families at home. Veterans Hospital Service, designated to give medical attention to our boys returning from the fighting fronts wounded or ill from fever or shock. Entertainment and recreation will play a very important part in rebuilding their health and morale. Here in Massachusetts the Elks War Commission is turning over to the Hospital Committee of the Massachusetts Elks Association $1500 a month to cover cost of entertainment and in our 17 Veterans Hospitals in the State.

Since May 1943, the Elks War Commission has sent to the fighting men overseas, 16,640,000 cigarettes and 801,280 packages of pipe and cigarette tobacco. Also 25,000 magazines have been sent to members in the service overseas.

Before long our members in the service will be returning home adjusting themselves to peace time conditions. To take care of rehabilitating these veterans, the subordinate Lodges throughout the Country are now preparing to meet the problems of re-integrating their brothers as they return to civil life through a Rehabilitation Committee.

Thousands of packages of relief supplies carried on the Gripsholm in two trips to the Far East have been distributed by the Red Cross in camps in the Philippines, Japan, Formosa, Shanghai, Korea and other countries controlled by the pan. Only recently the Elks War Commission donated $100,000 to the suffering people in Manila. Through the Elks National Foundation a fund has been set aside to care for the education of sons and daughters of Elks killed in the service of his country.

A Prayer

from

Lucius H. Bugbee

O Saviour of the world, look with mercy upon all distressed persons; upon those in peril on land, on the sea, or in the air; upon those in prison; and especially upon those whose light of hope is dim. Turn their faces toward the dawn. Grant deliverance and spiritual emancipation to all thy children.— Amen.

TWO SETS OF TWINS BORN IN 2 DAYS

The birth of twins, in itself an infrequent occurrence, set a unique record at the Newton Hospital recently when a set of twins was born on each of two successive days.

In both cases the physician in attendance was Dr. F. R. Clark of Newton and all of the newcomers were boys. The first to arrive were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Avonie, 82 Reservoir street, Needham, born March 5. On the following day Mr. and Mrs. John Bergstrom, 7-A Airport road, Atlantic, also became parents of twin boys.

Newton Merry-Go-Round

By PAUL CONSIDINE

The mercury is merrily bubbling toward the eighties as the Merry-Go-Round drowsily begins its daffy whirl this grand spring morning, and old Man Sunshine is really beating down so's to, maybe, atone for his sins of omission during the past (thank Heaven) month of February. A gent could step right in to a tan today without half trying! And doubtless a few of the neighbors' children will be springing on automobiles and some of them actually groan as they labor over our sadly worn-out street surfaces. A couple of Stanley steamers puff through the town daily, and to those of us who remember the old Stanley plant on Hunt street, they recall slower and, perhaps, happier era.

RELEASED BY RUSSIANS

Those of you who knew First Sergeant Leroy Coleman will be glad to learn that the Russians released him from a German prisoner of war camp. Leroy is now in Moscow on the first lap toward home. Captured by the Nazis shortly after the invasion of Normandy, he was reported missing, and several months later, the Red Cross reported his whereabouts. Leroy is, according to his letters, healthy and happy. Sherman, his brother, is with the army in the South Pacific.

LETTER

This department is grateful to have received and thanks S-Sgt. Arthur Sadler of the marines, for his swell letter from the island of Iwo. Arthur writes: "Paul, I'm writing this letter from the island of Iwo Jima in the Volcano Islands. I'm writing this on the edge of my fox hole as the battle is still raging. The island is just a volcano of hell. It's really indescribable."

Arthur, a native of Auburn-dale, just wanted to "let you people know your paper is really enjoyed and appreciated 'way out here."

Thanks again, Arthur. "What's Cookin'!" and its humble offerings reaches you and your fellow servicemen overseas, because certain of your friends and neighbors here want all of you over there to know that you are ever in the thoughts of all of us over here.

A touch of the old home town, we thought, might be welcome and so, a bunch of amateurs, we've been taking hit and miss shots at putting "What's Cookin'!" together since.

Your letter, written on the edge of your Iwo foxhole, is really enjoyed and appreciated way out here, too. So much so, I'm having it framed.

Sports in a Nutshell

By WALT WOOD

Bill Sullivan, our sports expert is on the bench this issue, reporting on the action in the springing more serious than spring fever. However, we'll do our best as a pinch hitter. Just as the season is changing from Winter to Spring, so also on sports we're sort of in-between things. Basketball next week, hockey is on its ball and indoor track are scheduled last lap with the Stanley Cup play-offs now being decided. The baseball teams are getting warmed up but it is still a couple of weeks before the openers. So we just sit around and chew our finger nails waiting for the action to start, or perhaps we earnest our fly rod looking forward to April 15th, or maybe rake a few leaves off our Victory Garden site.

HOCKEY—Those Boston Bruins who woke up just in time to the realization that they are major-league players, although they are not qualified for the Stanley Cup play-offs. At this writing they are in the midst of a series with the Detroit Red Wings. And believe it or not the count is 2 to 1 for the Bruins against a team that has been their jinx for years. In view of this reckoning it is not altogether fantastic to hope that Bruins will sweep the series. So hold your seats, fellows, say a prayer and we may have the good news for you in our next mailing.

The Boston Olympics won the U. S. Olympic Cup by defeating the Montreal Canadiens in the final game of the series. The Leafs in the third game of their semi-final series, 4-1. The Leafs are leading the series 2-1. It was a rugged game with ten penalties handed out and play was delayed in the third period when Goalie McCool of the Leafs stopped a high shot by his forehead.

BASEBALL—Football has always carried the major load in school sports but the news of something that may give schoolboy baseball a real boost. Beginning now and effective until the tournament in June Braves Field will be available for high school baseball at a nominal cost, when not in actual use by the Braves. It has been rumored that one of those to thank for this privilege is Newton High's coach, Jeff Jones, who also is an official member of the Braves family as scout.

At Pleasantville, N. J., the Red Sox are having their difficulties short of pitchers, only practice games are not yet possible. However, with the arrival of Bob Garbark, purchased from Louisville, they now have two catchers instead of one. Garbark, brother of Mike, regular catcher for the Yankees, has spent several years between the minors and major league but this year he may get his first real chance to display his wares. Contrary to tradition he seems to be the veterans and not the rookies who are showing real enthusiasm this year. Bob Johnson, Pete Fox and Mike Ryba have more pep on the training field than any of the youngsters who are getting their try-outs. Joe Cronin himself is not the least bit of the players himself this year.

At Fort Belvoir, Va. before 5000 soldiers, most of them returned from overseas, the Boston Braves took a 14-5 walloping from the Washington Senators in a practice series. Fred Vaughn, with his home run last season hit a homer for the Senators in the first inning with three on base which gave his team a real running start. Frankie Drews and Tommy Holmes of the Braves each belted out homers, but Bingo Binks of the Senators came back with a homer in the sixth and the handicap was too much.

John Quinn, Braves new general manager, is back at his desk after witnessing some of the practice sessions at Georgetown University and is trying hard to appear calm, but there is no mistaking his enthusiasm about the prospects of his team.

After the walloping they received from the Senators at Fort Belvoir, our Braves came back strong in the next game of the series at College Park, Md. and flattened the Nats to the tune of 8-3. The situation was the reverse of the previous game. Charles Cozart, Braves southpaw pitcher, pitched a triple with the bases filled in the 8th and sewed up the game. Boston's pitchers showed to good advantage, three of them allowing only five hits.

Babe Ruth, baseball's old slugger will make his debut in Boston next week as a rousing referee, emulating the two Jacks, Dempsey and Sharkey. Whether the Babe can keep the big boys under control is open to debate but in making the effort his courage is unquestioned.

BASEBALL—Certainly among our readers there must be fellows to whom the report "the ice is out" really has some significance. Unseasonable warm weather all over New England is being hailed by anglers who are looking forward to getting a line on opening day. By April first most lakes and ponds should be free of ice except in extreme northern portions. The Bangor pool is ice free so that anglers can compete for the first salmon to be sent to the White House for the President, on April 1. Local conditions are very favorable, barring heavy snow or rain, for the opening on April 15.

BASKETBALL—High School Basketball wound up its season with Hillhouse High School of New Haven capturing the New England championship. Newton qualified for the semi-finals but was forced out of the competition by North Quincy. Among the Greater Boston teams, Somerville was the only one to reach the finals.

MARATHON—Clarence De Mar, seven-time winner of the B.A.A. April 19th classic race is too busy to compete this year and predicts that Johnny Kelley of West Acton will win the grind. DeMar who is now in his 57th year has not run since 1943 but insists that when the War is over he will try his luck again.

FOOTBALL—High School football is rapidly approaching the status of a year-around sport. No less than six full scale games are scheduled for April with others planned. Dozens of high schools are engaging in Spring practice. There is divided opinion about the wisdom of this unprecedented activity of a Fall sport in the Spring with its resulting encroachments on baseball.

The Mail Bag

Lt. David Batey sends a new address from the Philippines, is anxious to knock down some more nips. Good hunting Dave! See Bee Ed Bourgaunt in the Marianas asks for some facts about Newton for ammunition during "bull" sessions. Your letter being given to the Editor, Ed. Pfc. Steve Walker wishes us the best of health after having been hit twice by shrapnel, once in Haricourt, France and again in Saarburg, Germany. Now in England he was with Patton's 4th. Steve, stop worrying about our health and take care of yourself! Cpl. Johnnie La Pette sends an Easter greeting from New Guinea. Thanks, fella! Cpl. Wilfred Martin got a kick out of the picture of the "Lake" he having worked on that corner for two years. Will pass your letter along to Roy for you. Pick us a pineapple will you while you're there in the Philippines. Also out there is Pfc. Frank Santucci who sends addresses for his four brothers. Frankie, we took care of R. F. and Joe, but Fred and Tony will have to wait until they are shipped out. Be sure to tell them or someone we're waiting for them at that time. Cpl. A. R. Valenzano, formerly 66 West street, Newton, and now in Holland wants to know if we will send "What's Cookin'" to him and also to his brother in Belgium. You bet we will! Hope you meet your brother as planned. Sgt. Nicky Gentile says "I'm in favor of keeping W. C. in Newton. Just as it was always printed." We'll do our best for you! A swell letter from Lt. (jg) Jay Gleason in the Philippines wants to thank us. He and the rest of you fellows ought to have the thanks, not us. Jay's mother sticks each one of these papers in an envelope and seals it; quite a job with 1200 copies. You should be proud of her Jay! Just as proud as we are of her and you and a kid brother with the purple heart and all you other guys and gals. Sgt. Bill McMahon in Paris, Major Greg Meagher in France, Gus Bianchi somewhere in the So. Pacific and Nurse Beryl Cahn in France send changes of address. Saw Johnnie Hackett's picture in Herald Rotogravure 2 weeks ago. He hails from West Newton, wish we had his address. Maybe Sgt. Ralph McDonald can send us Janet Schwartzman's address. Her picture was in the Traveler Spot Shots this week on the banks of the Irrawaddy river in Burma. Don't forget to check your address on the envelope you got this issue in.

Your Postman.

SCOUTS TO RE-ENACT SUB LAUNCHING AT EXPOSITION

As a feature of the big Stage Show to be given in the afternoon and evening at the Newton High School, on April 7th, a group of Scouts and Adult Leaders will re-enact the launching ceremonies of the U. S. submarine base, a launching took place at the Electric Boat Company in Connecticut on November 19, 1944. The submarine was made possible by the Boy's Bond purchases of residents of Newton in the Fifth War Loan Drive.

Normbega Leaders, Scout Commissioner F. Brittain Kennedy; Cubbing Chairman George Shannon; and Scout Executive Robert Pettit, attended the Submarine Base, 19, 1945, at the Submarine Base, New London, Connecticut, where Lt. Commander Wm. A. Overton and his crew received command of the Catfish. They will take part in the dramatization of the launching at the High School.

Among the dramatic and colorful two hour stage presentation are:

"A Two-way Good Turn" portraying the amazing response to the local Council's V-mail project. Boys in the council have been writing to overseas servicemen all over the world. The replies will be vividly presented.

"Scouting FUN—damentals in Camping." A full color movie of boys enjoying themselves at Simsbury Camp, New Canaan, Conn. As a closing surprise to the program the Council will stage a spectacular presentation: "Scouting has a Stake in Tomorrow." Cubs and Senior Scouts will take part.

Janet Merrill becomes bride of Lt. O. William Leidel

Lieut. and Mrs. Leidel

In a beautiful candlelight service in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Miss Janet Merrill and Lt. O. William Leidel, Jr., U. S. N., were married on Saturday, March 24. The Romanesque chancel of the church was simply decorated with cacti, ferns, white snapdragons, and stock.

Brahm's Variations of an Air by Haydn was used by Miss Lillian W. West as the wedding march. The service was performed by the bride's father, Rev. Randolph Seaman Merrill, minister of the church, who used a service arranged by the late L. C. Clark Seelye, President of Smith College, who married the bride's father and mother with that service.

Mr. Merrill added to it a portion of Moffatt's translation of I Corinthians 13—"Love is very patient, very kind..."

The bride wore a gown of white silk jersey, cut with a long, full train. Her veil of net fell to the end of the train and was attached to a Juliet cap of beads and net. The bridal bouquet was of eucharist lilies and maidenhair fern. She was escorted down the aisle by her father's brother, Dr. John Rogers Merrill of Paris France. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Caroline Louise Lacey of Arlington. Miss Lacey wore a flamingo colored silk jersey dress which was cut on lines similar to those of the bride's gown. She carried flame colored snapdragons and blue iris and wore a circlet in her hair of similar flowers.

Lt. Leidel's best man was Lt. Peter Lindsay, an instructor in the Navy Supply School at Harvard. Three of the ushers were instructors in the same school—Lieutenants Hill, McNeil, and Powell. The fourth usher was Lt. (jg) John S. Holden, U. S. N. R.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, who wore a long silk crepe gown of light aquamarine, trimmed with silver sequins, and matching hat. Her corsage was of carnations.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. O. W. Leidel of Washington, D. C., wore a long black crepe gown with gold embroidery complimented with a corsage of carnations.

Captain Leidel, U. S. N., the groom's father, was unable to be present as he is on duty in Panama.

A reception for all members of the parish was held in the Assembly Room of the church. Later a buffet supper was served for the wedding party and family at the home of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Leidel was graduated from the Walnut Hill School in Natick before she went to Mt. Holyoke College, where she graduated in 1942. Since that time she has been studying at the Longy School of Music in Cambridge. He is a graduate of the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University and also of the Navy Supply School at Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. Leidel left on a wedding trip to Florida.

Onions belong to the lily family, but where lilies are conceded by all to be socially correct, some people believe that onions are social outcasts.

Not so, say we. We relish the long and spicy history of onions. They seem to have been originally native to Western Asia and traveled thence to Egypt, India, Greece, and China. Tradition says that the builders of the Pyramids had little to eat except onions which makes us realize more vividly their strength. Onions were considered in ancient times to be a cure-all — to cure gout, deafness, eye-trouble and baldness.

Some people today use onions to remove the discomfort of bee-stings and Russian scientists say they have proved that the onion possesses antiseptic properties.

Continuing in the plant world, Allen Wood brings us the gloomy news that those little pots of verdant green that we buy come March, are really not shamrocks at all! They're probably white clover and if not, they're a couple of other things with unpronounceable names. Another fond dream gone to flower-pot!

Ken has been driven by the listeners and Carolyn to discuss not one, but two German cities in one week! Cities where he has been and where our boys are now. First comes Coblenz—the city that stands—or stood—at the junction of the Rhine and Moselle Rivers.

Ken remembers the very beautiful gardens in Coblenz—over a hundred years old—and among the finest of all Europe. In Coblenz is the gigantic memorial of Kaiser Wilhelm and Saint Casar's Church—an odd blend of Baroque, Renaissance and Gothic.

Coblenz is very ancient. It was founded in nine B.C. by the Romans and later became a Frankish stronghold. It was considered indestructible. It is very picturesque, with tortuous, narrow streets, full of relics of Roman, Frankish and Mediaeval times. In the 18th Century, the city was enlarged and a pretentious castle was erected. We wonder what is left of it now!

Remembering the famous childhood legend of the Mouse Tower of Bingen, Carolyn asks Ken about that. Yes, he was there too—not for long—but he remembers it with a grin. The legend of the embattled mice, he says, is a legend—but the Mouse Tower stands there, square and ugly and is very famous.

He says the splendid pageant of the Rhine ends all of a sudden at Bingen and the whole place is full of legend and medieval folklore. It was originally a German settlement and later the Romans moved in. In 1689, Bingen was burned to the ground by the French but many Roman relics are left. The Burg Klop that Ken visited was supported by still-standing Roman walls—there is the Roman well that measures 169 feet deep—the Drusus Bridge, just blown up by the retreating Germans was built on a foundation constructed by the Romans. And here at Bingen, the hills go up on either side of the Rhine, terraced and covered with grapes and occasional castles.

It started with celery sticks filled with Sell's Liver Pate, and tomato juice, the result, says Mrs. Kendall, of Hy-Trous and expert canning. Then came Maggi's Bouillon with popcorn on top—two star contributions of Van Camp's New England Style Beans with French fried onion rings and green pepper rings, hot biscuits with plenty of Dixie Margarine, walnut croquettes and butterfly salad. They finished with Cherry Cobbler and good, strong cups of coffee.

After dinner, they played whist and the man's first prize was a bottle of Dubonnet and the ladies' first prize was a box of Lucien Lelong face powder.

George and Groves brings up a matter that should be very close to the hearts of us all. Plants for hospitalized service men. He asks us all to contribute what seeds and cuttings and plants that we can give—and if we can make any contributions large or small, please write Mrs. Hollie Webster, 1960 Massachusetts Avenue, Lexington, Mass. Do not send her your material—but let her know what it is. And she will arrange for its transportation. Growing plants and flowers is a favorite occupation for our wounded men—and surely almost all of us have something to give.

Hy-Trous Liquid Fertilizer, Van Camp's New England Style Beans, Pan-American Coffee Bureau, Pedagogical Publishers Committee, House of Herbs Products, Dixie Margarine, Dubonnet Aperitif Wine, Lucien Lelong Face Powder, Sell's Liver Pate, Maggi's Bouillon Cubes, Tick Rubless Wax, Armstrong Dog Meal.
